Atheism Of Deeds

Lesson For October 9, 1966

Background Scripture: Isaiah 5: 20-25

Jesus said it and history proves it: "A prophet is not without honor except in his own country and in his own house." (Matthew 13:57 RSV) He might well have added: "... and in his own age!"

Prophets are usually greatly admired... after they are dead! The dead prophets are revered while the live prophets are ignored or condemned. Today it costs us nothing to lionize men like Isaiah, Jeremiah and Amos. Yet few of us could have tolerated them if we lived during their periods of ministry.

John Ruskin has said, "To see clearly is poetry, prophecy, and religion, all in one." The Hebrew prophet was all three of these: poet, prophet, and religionist. His task was to "see clearly," particularly at those times when the vision of others was clouded and limited.

To Interpret Present

We too often think of the prophet as a man who sees grand visions and hears heavenly voices. Prophets often have experiences such as this, to be sure, but their eyes were fixed not only upon the future, but also upon the present. God gives them the gift to rightly see and understand the meaning of present conditions and diagnose their implications for the future.

This explains, of course, the unpopularity of the living prophet. It is possible to tolerate dire predictions for the distant future, but when the prophet begins to analyze our present conditions he finds that he has struck a vital nerve!

Isaiah discovered this in his own ministry. He had a God-given gift for seeing things clearly and when he spoke to his contemporaries about what he saw, they could scarcely contain their wrath. They much rather would have had him speculate on the future than to see so clearly and openly the mess of the present.

As Though Dead Or Away

What was it he saw so clearly that upset them? You are living like people who believe that God is either dead or away! Their enemies claimed that their God was dead, unable to help them. But you people, he said, are living that way. Their atheism of deeds is just as blasphemous as some people's atheism of words and ideas.

If we could overcome our fascination with the prophets of other times and listen to the prophets of our own day, we might find that they are saying much the same thing to us. Perhaps it is true that we too, like the people to whom Isaiah was sent, speak like committed Christians and live like convinced atheists.

Many of us today find ourselves upset because a small group of theologians is saying that "God is dead." We find it shocking that some should brazenly proclaim that there no longer is a God. Yet maybe all of us ought to ask ourselves whether our lives don't make the proclamation to those around us. One non-Christian observer remarked that the "Death of God" theologians are only saying what many Christians have been indicating for a long time.

We don't like to hear that kind of analysis of our present, do we? The thundering prophet looks attractive in retrospect, but not in the present. It is one thing for Isaiah to tell his people that they are insincere and superficial, that they have traded their monotheism for moneytheism, but for a contemporary prophet to tell us that about our society, . . . well, we feel as threatened as the prophets' contemporaries.

The Christian atheist does not say "God is dead"; he just acts that way. What about you?

Klip Klop Klub Meets

The 4-H Klip Klop Klub held its September meeting in the home of Charlotte Richardson, Sept. 24.

The meeting was called to order by President Nancy McLafferty. Steven Vaughn then led in pledges to the American and 4-H flags. A report of the last meeting was given by Chrissy Sipple.

A film was shown on feeding and nutrition of your horse by the Ralston Purina Company. Two men from the company were guest speakers and gave away three sacks of feed.

Officers were elected as follows: President, Nancy McLafferty; Vice President, Geraldine Dixon; Secretary, Neva Simpson; Reporter, Barbara Bachmeyer.

New members welcomed into the club were Kathy and Kitty Frakey and Brenda and Neva Simpson.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Robbie Van Horn.

with GOD

Religion is a vital need at every age. And these boys and girls are busy gaining religious knowledge that will be important to them all through life.

We grownups are accustomed to the Church's presence in community life. It is always there, gracing the horizon with its spirit . . . offering its message of faith to a confused world.

But peek into the corner of a beginner's room on Sunday morning and behold the majesty of the Church's mission. It brings the consecrated talents of artists, writers and teachers together, and focuses them upon the eager minds of a generation preparing to face life. It gathers the spiritual truth unfolding for centuries, and in beloved story brings it to the ready ears of tots and toddlers.

Support and attend the church of your choice. Make sure your children are sharing in this life — enriching STORY TIME WITH GOD.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor we have for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

RESEARCH DATA ON NEW PURINA VEAL CHOW

Purina Veal Chow is a high-quality, milk-based product containing 20% protein and 20% high-quality, homogenized fat. When fed as directed, Purina Veal Chow has given the following results with Holstein calves: Average daily gain of 2.65 lbs. per head per day on only 1.22 lbs. of Veal Chow plus water. This was based on calves weighing an average of 95.3 lbs. when starting on Purina Veal Chow and marketed at an average weight of 297.6 lbs. When calves were carried to a heavier market weight, about 300 lbs. liveweight, approximately 1.5 lbs. of feed is required per pound of gain. The feed efficiency is expressed in pounds of dry milk replacer required per pound of gain. If you have calves which you intend to veal... give us a call... Purina Veal Chow can get your calves to market fast.

BREEDING DAIRY HEIFERS TO BEEF BULLS DOES NOT REDUCE CALVING DIFFICULTIES

Many dairymen breed heifers to beef bulls with the intention of getting smaller calves and thus reducing calving difficulty. Work recently completed at Michigan State University indicates that this practice may be questionable. The beef breeds crossed with dairy cows produced calves weighing only 11 lbs. lighter. The real answer to reducing calving difficulties is to have the heifer big enough to breed. The Purina Heifer Program can get heifers in the milk string at 22 to 24 months of age and still produce 10,000 or more pounds of milk the first lactation. Check with us for a proven dairy herd replacement program.

GIVE YOUR COWS TOTAL NUTRITION

Purina Dairy Concentrate 44% helps give you a milking ration with total nutrition for your cows. At low cost, Purina Dairy Concentrate 44% is a carefully formulated 44% protein supplement developed by Purina research and fortified with vitamins and minerals that cows need. Purina Dairy Concentrate 44% makes a low-cost ration when you mix it with your home-grown grains. It is high in Vitamin A and D, high in digestible nutrients and digestibility. If you have been using soybean oil meal, cottonseed oil meal or linseed oil meal... give Purina Dairy Concentrate 44% a try... and watch the results in your milk tank.

NEW PURINA RABBIT CHOW

We are now stocking Purina's New Rabbit Chow. The formula is the same, but the checkers or pellets are HARDER. There is less fines in the bag than ever before. If you haven't been using new Purina Rabbit Checkers... come in and give them a try.

Boone County DAR Meeting

The October meeting of the Boone County Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, was held Wednesday evening in the home of Mrs. C. Davis Graines, Hebron.

Hostesses with Mrs. Gaines were Miss Margaret Goodridge, Mrs. Howard Jarrell, Mrs. Charles Goodridge, Mrs. George Meyer, and Mrs. Elbert Baker.

Mrs. Gaines, Regent, presided at the business session. The guest speaker was Mrs. Leonard H. McClanahan. Her topic was "American Indians," and it was of great interest to the Daughters since the NSDAR sponsors an Indian school and college.

NSDAR has had a particularly keen interest in the first Americans, the Indians, since 1936 when the society initiated a program directing special attention to education of the Indians. The society helps support two Indian schools: Bacone College at Bacone, Okla., and St. Mary's School for Indian Girls at Springfield, S. D.

Frances Yookie Edell Redpath McClanahan was born in Danville, Ky., the daughter of W. M. Hurt Redpath, a Cherokee Indian. Her mother was of French and Irish descent and Poniee Indian. The name Yookie, meaning "wild flower."

She stressed the fact that many of her people are starving, many are without shoes and many having reached the age of 15 have never been inside a school.

The State Board of Management met at the Imperial House, Lexington, September 24. Members attending were Mrs. C. Davis Gaines, Mrs. Clifford Coyle, Mrs. Roy C. Nestor, Mrs. Ashlin Logan, and Mrs. Harold Kohl.

A display window at Denham's Drug Store, Florence, featuring historical items in observance of "Constitution Week," is symbolic of our Great Heritage.

Members attending the meeting were: Mesdames William Conrad, Clifford Coyle, Walter Ferguson, C. Davis Gaines, Charles Goodridge, Ashlin Logan, Howard Jarrell, George Meyer, Roy C. Nestor, Garnett Tolin, Clarence Wolfe, and Miss Margaret Goodridge.

Children Help Children

On October 31, more than 3.5 million American boys and girls in over 13,000 communities will Trick or Treat for UNICEF, collecting life-saving coins for the Nobel Peace Prize-winning United Nations Children's Fund.

The results of the world's greatest effort by children to help children will be the more vital as UNICEF, which was founded just 20 years ago, still operates with a budget equivalent to what is spent on world armament in two hours of one day.

Gov. Breathitt Is Visitor In Boone

Kentucky's governor, Edward T. Breathitt, visited in Boone County on Wednesday of last week where he was met at the Greater Cincinnati Airport by local public officials, members of the Covington, Kenton-Boone Chamber of Commerce, and a host of business, civic and professional leaders. About 100 persons were on hand to greet him on arrival.

Following a coffee hour at Sky Chef Restaurant at the airport, Gov. Breathitt was taken on a tour of the Big Bone Lick Park area and possible industrial sites along the Ohio River.

In a talk at Barkley House, the governor projected new life into two state projects for boys which would bring at least $1 million in contracts to Northern Kentucky. The projects are:

The proposed $450,000 diagnostic center, which Florence does not seem to want, and the Daniel Boone Center for Boys on the Ohio River near Bellevue.

The governor said he was determined to see both centers built here. However, he added that if the diagnostic center could not be built in Boone County, then Campbell or Kenton would be suitable, but, he added, "I want it in Northern Kentucky."

Mr. Breathitt also reiterated the state was going to spend $400,000 in improving Big Bone Lick State Park. Improvements, he said, would include an 80-car parking area, a central building, rest room facilities for tent and trailer campers, a dam to create a 7-acre lake for a park water supply, road surfacing, water and sewerage plant, purchase of additional land, and construction of a home for the park superintendent.

In his resignation, Mr. Benson said, in part, "Due to the increased demands made upon my physical capabilities in the performance of the duties of the office, and due to illness in my family, which necessitates my being at home as much as possible, I am compelled to tender to you my resignation effective November 1, 1966."

Head-On Collision

Two cars were involved in a head-on collision at the intersection of Walton-Nicholson Road and U. S. Highway 26, Walton, Tuesday morning.

From what we could learn as we were going to press, one car was driven by John Fogel, Route 5, Covington. The other car bore Ohio licenses. It seems the forehead of Mrs. Fogel was cut badly when her head went through the windshield. She also received other injuries, and was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital in the Chambers & Grubbs ambulance. Both cars were heavily damaged.

Alfalfa was worth about $20 million to Kentucky farmers last year, the State Department of Agriculture, says.

Enjoy Tour of Kentucky Spots

Several members of the Wa-Na Woman's Club enjoyed a tour to several places of interest in Central Kentucky, last Thursday.

The group stopped by the KFWC

Headquarters in Louisville, where they were served coffee. Next was lunch and this was followed by a visit to Farmington, a home built for the Steed family in 1810, now furnished with early colonial furnishings and open for inspection.

The return trip was made thru Frankfort and Lexington, making the last stop at Kentucky Village for a tour of the Girls' Detention Division. The Kentucky Women's Clubs are helping with a building program to get a new Home of Detention for Girls. This is to be built near Anchorage.

Making the trip were: Mrs. Walt Ryan, Mrs. Nelson Popham, Mrs. Robert Slayback, Mrs. Harry Henson, Mrs. David Peebles, Mrs. Clayton Jones, and Miss Esther Snyder. Sorry more Wa-Na Club members couldn't go along...all had a nice day.

Jack Clifford, Principal of Boone County High School, will speak on the subject, "High School Programs Are Important," at a meeting of the New Haven PTA, Monday, October 17, at 7:30 p. m., in the school cafeteria.

Veterans Administration Questions and Answers

Q—I have a service-connected disability presently rated as 100 percent. Are my children entitled to benefits under the War Orphans Educational Assistance Act?
A—Sons and daughters of living veterans with service-connected disabilities rated permanent and total in nature are entitled to Educational Assistance under the War Orphans Program.

Q—Will you please tell me if the 10 percent deductible from the income of a nonservice-connected veteran is only for Social Security benefits, or does it include local, state and railroad benefits or pensions also?

A—Report the full amount of Social Security and pensions to the Veterans Administration and the VA will then make the 10 percent allowance in Social Security payments or pension payments, such as state and railroad retirement benefits.

Q—I am 77 years old and receiving $59 a month from Social Security pension with no other income of any kind. I lost a son in France, July 16, 1944. Could you please inform me as to whether I am eligible for a pension from the VA or not? If so, who do I contact?

A—You should contact the VA Regional Office, for an application to file for dependency and indemnity compensation as the dependent parent of a serviceman killed in action.

Don't Pay For "Services" You Are Entitled To Free

Be careful! Don't buy a service which you are entitled to receive free.

Don't enrich private individuals or concerns for doing that which the government is anxious to do for you for nothing.

Some of our Senior Citizens have been solicited to enroll with an organization that promises to present claims and collect benefits for them under the Medicare program.

This is another "gimmick" to separate the unwary and, unfortunately, frequently those with the most meager incomes, from their limited funds.

Obtain and save necessary receipts and discuss your claims with a representative of the Regional Social Security office who always are willing and anxious, free of cost.

Protect yourself and others by reporting such schemes to the Consumer Protection Division, Attorney General's Office, Frankfort.

MEETING RESCHEDULED

The Oak Hill Homemakers Club will meet on Tuesday, October 18, 7:30 p. m., in the home of Mrs. Raymond Brewster on South Main Street, Walton. The meeting was originally set for October 11 but was cancelled because of much illness and inconveniences within the club.

CARD OF THANKS—

We wish to thank our many friends and neighbors for their many thoughtful deeds of kindness during the serious illness and after the passing of our loved one, Albert T. Hunt.

To those who so kindly took me to the hospital to see him, my sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Hamilton of Winchester, Mrs. Ethel Breen, Mrs. Jane Sleet, Mrs. Maitland Baker, Mrs. Bill Parker, and all others who were so kind to offer. To each one who brought food and their kindness to help serve it. A special thanks to my neighbors, and we are deeply grateful to my sister, Mrs. Griffith who helped me so much. To the ministers, Rev. Tackett, Rev. Alford, and Rev. Roy Johnson for the services and consoling words; to Mrs. Burdette Powers and Mr. James Drury for the beautiful music; to Chambers and Grubbs for the efficient service; to the many donors of the beautiful flowers and cards. To everyone for each deed of kindness, we say, "thank you" so very much and may God richly bless you.

A Summary of the Proposed Kentucky Constitution Revision as it affects The Kentucky Legislature

THE ROLE OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY The elected General Assembly is THE law-making body in Kentucky. The proposed Constitution Revision gives more continuity to the legislature and seeks to improve and strengthen its legislative functions.

ANNUAL 60-DAY SESSIONS The General Assembly would be in legislative session 60 days each year, rather than 60 days every other year as now provided by the Constitution. A two-thirds vote of the members could extend a session up to 30 more days.

SALARIES RATHER THAN PER DIEM PAY The revision provides for all legislators to be paid an annual salary in an amount to be fixed by law. This would replace the present "amount-per-day" method of payment for legislators.

TERMS FOR MEMBERS OF HOUSE AND SENATE The 1891 Constitution provides for two-year terms for House members and four-year staggered terms for Senators. The Constitution Revision would provide four-year staggered terms for House members and six-year staggered terms for Senators.

ANNUAL DEBT LIMIT State debt would be limited to 2% of general fund tax revenue for the preceding fiscal year. This would replace the present debt limit of $500,000.

PROVISION FOR INSPECTOR AND EXAMINER The General Assembly would be authorized to appoint an inspector and examiner to conduct audits and other studies of public funds, as directed by law.

ELECTIONS EVERY TWO YEARS As it now stands, the Constitution requires an election in Kentucky every year. In effect, we have double elections because of the importance of primaries in Kentucky. The Constitution Revision would provide for elections every two years, held on even-numbered years, at the same time U. S. Representatives are elected. The terms of office of all elected officials would be adjusted to fit the biennial elections.

INFORMED CITIZENS MAKE WISE CHOICES

I encourage every Kentucky voter to read the entire proposed Constitution Revision. You may have a free copy by writing to the Attorney General's Office, State Capitol Building, Frankfort, Kentucky.

One of a series of messages prepared and published according to legislative directive by Robert Matthews, Attorney General. This message has been authorized under a law enacted by the 1966 Kentucky General Assembly, titled Senate Bill 161, Sec. V: "... The Attorney General shall cause the proposed Constitution and schedule or summaries thereof to be further publicized by other communication media in order that the voters of the Commonwealth may have a reasonable opportunity to become informed on the issue to be decided by them."

Look for this when your vote November 8

Alteration Or Reformation Of Constitution

Are you in favor of reforming the Constitution of the Commonwealth to cause same to be in the same form and language as finally submitted to the Governor and the General Assembly of Kentucky by the Constitution Revision Assembly and set forth in Senate Bill No. 161 enacted at the Regular Session of the General Assembly of Kentucky held in the year 1966 and as heretofore scheduled and published as required by law?

In What Or Whom

Lesson For October 16, 1966

Background Scripture: Isaiah 7:31-33

Devotional Reading: Psalms 52:1-19

Imagine, if you will, this scene. The time is the First Century A. D., the days immediately following the death and resurrection of Christ. The place is an upper room in the city of Jerusalem. A small group of Jesus' disciples is gathered together. The purpose of their meeting is to plot a revolution, an uprising that will expel the Romans from Galilee and Judea and at the same time...

Rev. Althouse topple the religious leaders from their places of power. They are meeting to organize an underground movement that will raise a secret army and stockpile weapons until the day of revolt dawns.

Simon Peter speaks first: "This is what we should have done that night in the Garden of Gethsemane. We should have been armed and prepared to defend our Master from the temple guards. If we had, he'd still be with us today. I shouldn't have stopped with cutting off the ear of the priest's slave; we should have cut them all down!"

A Spiritual Revolution Then Simon the Zealot speaks up: "Isn't that what I have been telling you all along? I've said it before: this is the only language the Romans and their puppets understand, the language of the sword. You can't reach those people with kindness and love." There's no doubt about it," says Andrew, "we've got to make this country safe for Christianity and it looks as though there'll have to be some bloodshed." "Yes," chimes in Thomas, "I certainly don't approve of killing, but our cause makes it unavoidable. We've got to protect Christ's Church from these godless Romans." "It's either them or us," sighs James.

Obviously, the above scene never took place. Even in this biblically illiterate age, everyone knows that. The revolution perpetrated by the disciples of Jesus was a spiritual revolution, not one of armed conflict. But why not? Was there not in those fictitious arguments the same logic with which we are often motivated in the world today? Do we not say of our enemies that they do not respond to love and that might is the only language they understand? Don't we justify war by saying that we've got to make the world safe for Christianity and save the Church from extinction? Don't we condone killing by saying our cause is just? Don't we justify ourselves with: "It's either them or us!"

In Whom They Trusted Did any group ever have a better justification to begin a holy war? Yet, these men did not raise a secret army but returned to Jerusalem to await the promised gift of the Holy Spirit. Why? Because they had confidence in the providence of God. They knew in whom they trusted.

Our coins carry the motto, "In God We Trust." There are some people today who believe that motto ought to be removed from our currency. This, they say, is a violation of the separation of church and state. Others of us, however, wonder whether it should not be removed for another reason: the motto, it appears, is not true! We don't really trust in God as a nation, do we? We don't look to him for our national security and welfare, do we? Isn't the ground of our confidence our armed forces, our advanced military technology, our diplomatic—alliances? Isaiah warned the people of his nation against putting their trust in horses and chariots, their cavalry, and their alliances with Egypt. Not too many words would have to be changed to make his prophecy applicable to us too.

POOL ROAD AREA

Mrs. Clifford Stephenson, Reporter

The folks down Poole Road are really getting that tobacco in. Right now, Jimmy Messmer is ahead of the hounds. Jack Frost better hurry up or he won't have a think to bite in this country.

The Sunbeam Band of New Bethel Baptist Church had a very nice party for their mothers, Tuesday. The theme was "Hawaii." The church basement was decorated 100 percent Hawaiian. Even had live fish and all the atmosphere of the tropics. A Hawaiian lunch was served.

Once again we're making a plea for some news items from you folks in this area for our column. Please let us hear from you.

There is a time for work and a time for play—a time for everything good each day.

alone with her thoughts

Are they good company — her thoughts, that is? For this is a time of her life when much can depend on the outcome of these moments when she is alone with her thoughts. Decisions will be made — irrevocable decisions. Steps will be taken that cannot be retraced. The happiness of those who love her hangs in the balance... as she tries to discover where her own happiness lies. But her thoughts are projections of the lessons she has learned, the experiences she has had. And high among these are the truths she learned in her church life, and the rich experiences she has known with Christian friends who grew up in religious homes. Alone with her thoughts... this girl is in good company!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

NEW PURINA HORSE-PLUS IS SPECIAL

New Purina Horse-Plus contains the essential growth-promoting vitamins and minerals necessary to help keep horses in top condition with extra stamina, added energy, more vitality, alert appearance and glossy coats...healthy horses with the get-up-and-go they need to perform to their full potential. Purina Horse-Plus contains 8 essential vitamins and 9 important minerals in the right amount and correct ratio needed by horses and ponies of all ages. It helps build rich, red blood, aids development of muscle tone, firm hoofs, vigor and stamina...aids digestion, elimination and reproductive function. Horse-Plus is "pelletized," an exclusive manufacturing process separates the 8 vitamins into green pellets and the 9 minerals into brown pellets. This aids in maintaining greater vitamin potency and keeping the minerals and vitamins from sitting to bottom or being blown out of feed tub or manger. See us today for Purina Horse-Plus.

CASTRATING PIGS

When this job must be done on your farm, we would like to recommend Purina Wound Protector. Spray on Purina Protector after castrating to help heal the wound, reduce sources of infection, and keep screw worms from infesting the wound. It sprays on...easy to use.

KILLS 98% OF MASTITIS CASES

New Purina Novo-Mast has really been accepted by leading dairymen throughout Kentucky. It contains Novobiosin, Neomycin, Penicillin, and Streptomycin as well as Chlorobutanol Anhydrous and Prednisolone Anhydrous. Purina Novo-Mast is effective against the five leading strains of mastitis and was effective in 98% of all cases in a recent survey. The next leading treatment was only effective against 21% of the cases in the survey. We now have a supply of Purina Novo-Mast in stock.

COWS LOVE NEW PURINA GOLDEN BULKY

M...M...M...stands for more, more, more in cow talk. If cows could talk they would be saying more Golden Bulky because cows and growing heifers love the sweet flavor and aroma of new Purina Golden Bulky. It's sweet because it's high in molasses. It's light and bulky...100 pounds fills six bushel baskets. It's a high protein ration fortified with Vitamins A and D. Use versatile new Golden Bulky to balance the grain in your milking ration, top feed for more milk or to preserve silage. Mixed 50-50 with corn, it makes a wonderful heifer ration. Golden Bulky is excellent to feed when cows are on pasture...they will clean it up and say...M...M...M (more, more, more).

New Planning Board Formally Organized

Pending the complete organization of the newly-created Boone County Planning and Zoning Board, the present planning organizations in Walton, Florence, and Hopeful Heights will continue to function.

This was the decision made recently after the swearing-in ceremonies and the first formal meeting of the Commission.

Dr. Thomas Angel, temporary chairman, said that a constitution and by-laws would have to be established and a preliminary annual budget set up, a clerk hired, and other legal details taken care of before the new planning commission was actually in business.

It is hoped that the present city planning and zoning boards can be phased out by December 31st, Dr. Angel said.

Members were sworn in by County Judge Bruce Ferguson. He cautioned members of the planning board that it should be free of politics.

Farmers Being Asked For S. S. Numbers

If the ASCS county office asks you what your Social Security number is, please don't think that you are being singled out for special attention, cautions J. Lassing Huey, Chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee. The number is needed by the Internal Revenue for identification purposes in connection with farm program payments.

For 1966, ASCS must report to the Internal Revenue Service any eight draft payments of $600 or more under direct payment programs, which includes the feed grain, wheat, and wool incentive payment programs.

Beginning January 1, 1967, and each year thereafter, all such eight draft payments made to producers under these programs, will be reported to IRS without regard to the amount. Producers will be advised annually of the program payments reported to IRS, beginning with payments made in 1967.

Any questions about this matter should be taken up with the ASC County Committee.

Farmers Urged to Test Soils Now

J. W. Poe, Area Agent in Agronomy in Northern Kentucky, urges farmers to test their soils this fall—even for next year's crops.

Farmers have more time to take good samples and the soil is dry and in better condition to get the samples in the fall than is usually the case next spring.

The soil technician has more time to give each sample individual attention in the fall. The area agent has more time to give individual attention to each fertilizer and limestone recommendation.

The farmer has more time to shop around for the kind of fertilizer needed for his soils and he can apply the limestone this fall while the land is firm and dry. Research has shown that the results of a soil sample taken in the fall are as reliable as one taken in the spring.

Take your soil samples to your local Extension Office.

All the school rooms on the first floor level will be used for booths, games, and refreshments. This is being done to try to eliminate the crowd in the gymnasium. Because of the larger space being used, more games will be provided. This means more help is needed to work in these rooms. If you can help, call Mrs. Sargent, 485-4954.

Greenup County is named for Christopher Greenup, third governor of Kentucky. James Clark, governor of Kentucky from 1836 to 1839, was a native of Bedford County, Va. A leader should be intelligent, honest, and unselfish, and there are few of them about.

Reasons Why The Proposed New Constitution Should Be Defeated

1. It will increase by millions of dollars the taxes which livestock breeders and other farmers, manufacturers and the owners of stocks, bonds and other securities will be required to pay every year.
2. It gives the Legislature the power, without any vote of the people, to increase the public debt many millions of dollars.
3. It takes from the people the right to elect their judges—from the highest to the lowest, and gives to the Governor the power to appoint those judges, who to all intents and purposes will serve for life.
4. It takes away from cities, towns and other local taxing units control of their own fiscal affairs and places that control with the State authorities in Frankfort.
5. It wipes out all limitation on tax rates which the present Constitution imposes upon local taxing units.
6. It gives the Legislature the power to abolish all cities, towns and other local governmental units and also the power to abolish offices which those local units of government are now permitted to have.
7. It denies to the people the right to elect every four years a Secretary of State, State Treasurer, and a Commissioner of Agriculture and contemplates that those offices shall be filled by the Governor.
8. The annual expenses of the State government will be increased by millions of dollars.

Is breakfast a catch as catch can affair at your house? The beginning of school marks a change in family living patterns in many homes. Perhaps the children have been sleeping late, getting their own breakfasts during summer vacation, but now the clock is boss. Youngsters have to leave for school ready or not.

Breakfast is important for several reasons. After a good night's rest, the body is refreshed, but it takes food to provide the strength for work or play. Breaking the fast of 12 or 13 hours, it's logical to start the day with a fourth or a third of the body's daily requirements. The home-maker who likes to get her housework done in the morning, and a start on preparing the next two meals, profits from the energy a good breakfast gives her. Family members who go off to school or work feel better right up to lunch time.

Skipping breakfast is no solution for overweight "people, either. Studies comparing those who ate three balanced meals with others who skipped breakfast indicated the skippers had a tendency to overeat at other meals. Or they yield to temptation and eat sweets in mid-morning, adding calories without the better nutrition afforded by many other foods.

Can the family on a limited income always serve a nutritious breakfast? This depends on the cook and food buyer—usually the mother. It's not hard to overspend at the market these days, with all the tempting packages on shelves. Sweetened dry cereals, or those with fruit bits added, fancy sweet rolls, bacon (which has been on the high-cost list all summer), fresh cream—these can make a $5.00 bill look small in a hurry. Here are some tips on buying foods frequently chosen for breakfasts. Choose cereals to cook. Check package sizes to see if the large size is really the economy size. It is if that's the best buy. Compare brands and kinds for cost per serving. Choose whole-grain and enriched cereals. Dry cereals with the sugar and fruit added at home are more economical than the packaged dry cereals with sweetening and fruit already added. Pastries made at home cost less than those purchased at the bakery counter, or from the freezer cabinet.

Canned or frozen concentrated orange juice is often less expensive than fresh oranges. And even greater savings can be made in buying the synthetics that provide generous quantities of vitamin C. Fruits in season can often be picked at the farm by family members at savings over store prices.

IN MEMORY . . .

In memory of my father, sister, and nephew. Lewis Conner Littrell, Catherine Littrell Boss, and Lewis Dell.

Yes, I miss you all very much. I recall Dad saying, if God called and asked for one of his children, he would close his eyes and say, Lord choose. Catherine, who loved her family and friends, and Dell, as we all called him, in his Christian experiences left us all with memories. I should I wish them back to suffer? No! All the heart aches, pain and sorrow which are so common on this earth. May the blessed Father in Heaven give you all eternal happiness. So, good bye. I hope to join some day.

AFTER YOU FINISH PICKING CORN

We have noticed that a growing number of farmers will run cattle on freshly picked corn fields in order to clean up or clean the fields of corn that the picker may have missed. This is an excellent practice if you have good fences. One sure way to get extra gains at low cost is to supplement the corn and stalks with Purina Range Protein Blocks. Cattle in stalk fields receive a low vitamin A and protein daily intake from stalks and corn. Purina Range Protein Blocks are extremely high in vitamin A and protein. Cattle will eat between one and one and a half pounds per day depending on the quality of the roughage in the stalks. Just throw out one block for every seven head of cattle. REMEMBER: Purina Protein Blocks for cattle in corn fields.

WE CAN NOW BOOK YOUR CATTLE NEEDS

YOUNG DAIRYMAN DOES WELL

We are happy to hear that the son of a good Purina feeder did well at the Boone County Fair. Tom Rose, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Rose of Kahmann & Rose Dairy Farm, Commisary Road, had the senior yearling Holstein heifer. This heifer was also the junior champion and the reserve grand champion in the Holstein Class of the 4-H Show. Congratulations, Tommy, on a job well done and keep up the good work.

IS HE YOURS

You take him for a walk around the block and people stop you to say, "What a beautiful baby!"

You try to be modest about it, but your heart is bursting with pride. He is the most beautiful baby — and — he's yours!

Or is he?

It can be pretty disturbing the first time you realize that your baby really isn't yours at all — that you do not possess him. Yet the sooner you do realize it, the better. We can't possess another person no matter how dearly we love them. And in the case of our children, we are custodians, not owners.

He is a beautiful baby—and you, naturally, want nothing more than for him to grow up into a fine young man. It is your responsibility, in the years ahead, to help him do so — and you will find the strength and guidance to aid you in your task in your church.

Start going to church this Sunday. Chances are that they've even got a nursery for beautiful babies!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

POOL ROAD AREA

Mrs. Clifford Stephenson, Reporter
(DELAYED)

We were driving down Kentucky's country side this week and the frost had already ruined many acres of tobacco. The leaves were turning and they are beautiful. We got our first killing frost in this area a week later but still in time to bite a few crops.

This scribe visited Sadleville, Ky. last week. My daughter, Roma, and mother, Mrs. Mabel Readnour, visited an uncle, Clarence Smith, who had suffered a stroke and is very ill.

We were happy to see Charles Harney Readnour is able to sit on the creek bank and fish again. He has been a patient in Veterans Hospital for some time and will go back in a few weeks.

Mrs. Paul Black has not been feeling well. We know she will recuperate in time to go to Nashville, Tenn. this weekend with a group from Verona. More about that later.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Readnour paid a short surprise visit to relatives in Kentucky over the week-end. Mr. Readnour is in the Army and stationed at Ft. Sill, Okla. His wife is a registered nurse and is working in a hospital there near the fort. The couple took Mrs. Mabel Readnour home with them for a visit.

We wish to thank some good friends and Shamrock Corp. workers for helping us get our tobacco in the barn.

The Verona Homemakers had a very nice meeting in the home of Mrs. Pearl Lamn. Those attending were: President Sally Hicks, Vice-President Phyllis Stephenson, Secretary and Treasurer Angie Locke, Mrs. Florence Florence, Mrs. Cleo Messmer, Mrs. Lillian Stephenson, Mrs. Mae Sturgeon, and visitors, Mrs. A. M. Davis, Flonnie Edrington, Lizzie Noel, Etta McManama, Lena Harris, and children, Tommy Locke, Tim and Glenda Hicks, and Roma Stephenson. It was a lovely day and a very good lesson was presented by Nancy White on Selecting and Caring For Rugs. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Mae Sturgeon on November 10th. The lesson will be on "Between Meal Entertaining." Visitors are welcome to attend.

People tire easily when they are doing something they dislike.

Check Your Check Writing, Be Sure It's Tamper-Free

The next time you write a check examine it. Could you raise the amount without any problem? If you could, destroy it and prepare another one that would be harder to alter.

A woman write, "I bought some magazines from a young man who said he was working his way through college. As part payment I gave him a check for $6.00. When the bank returned it the check had been cashed for $16.00." It was simple, the numeral "1" had been inserted before the 6 and a "teen" added to the written amount.

Prepare checks carefully. Use up the entire space with your figures and written numerals or mark out the portion not used.

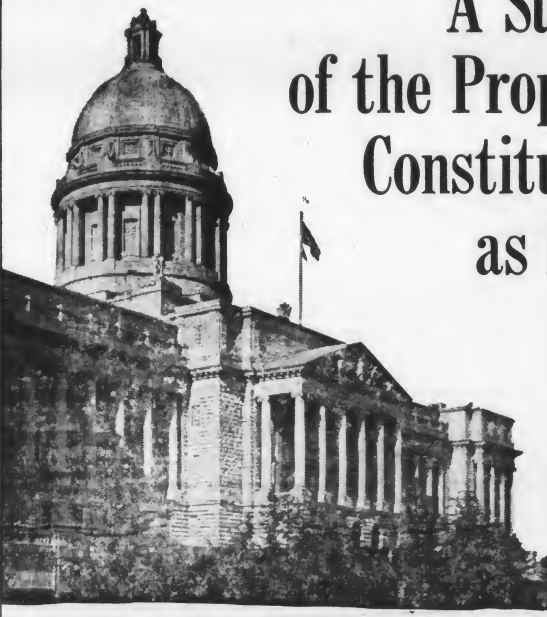

In all ways, buyer, be wise, beware.

A Summary of the Proposed Kentucky Constitution Revision as it affects Kentucky's Executive Department

ELECTED OFFICIALS The proposed Constitution Revision provides that the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Attorney General and Auditor of Public Accounts shall be elected by the people. Other present state offices would be determined by the legislature.

SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION The Constitution Revision provides for an elected State Board of Education which will choose the Superintendent of Public Instruction. This would be a non-partisan election; by districts. Now the Superintendent must seek office every four years in a partisan election.

TERMS OF OFFICE All elected officials would continue to serve four-year terms. The Constitution Revision would allow elected state government officers — the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Attorney General and Auditor of Public Accounts — to be elected to two terms in succession. (The present Governor and other elected officers could not succeed themselves.)

WHEN GOVERNOR IS ABSENT FROM STATE The Constitution Revision would allow the Governor to retain his powers whenever he left the state. Under the present Constitution, the Lieutenant Governor assumes these powers any time the Chief Executive crosses the state line. And when this occurs, the Lieutenant Governor is paid the equivalent of the Governor's salary. This section is left out of the Proposed Revision, and it further stipulates that the Lieutenant Governor would be paid an annual salary for all of his duties.

WHEN THE GOVERNOR IS DISABLED The Constitution Revision provides a method for determining when a Governor's disability would occur, and what procedure would be followed.

THE GOVERNOR'S VETO POWER The time for a Governor's veto would be extended from ten to twenty days under the proposed Constitution. In all instances the legislature would have an opportunity to review and take action on a vetoed bill.

NEW ORDER OF SUCCESSION The Constitution Revision proposes that the line of succession for the chief executive shall be the Lieutenant Governor, the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, then the Speaker of the House. The 1891 Constitution calls for succession by the Lieutenant Governor, the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, the Secretary of State and the Attorney General, in that order.

ELECTIONS EVERY TWO YEARS As it now stands, the Constitution requires an election in Kentucky every year. In effect, we have double elections because of the importance of primaries in Kentucky. The Constitution Revision would provide for elections every two years, held on even-numbered years, at the same time U. S. Representatives are elected. The terms of office of all elected officials would be adjusted to fit the biennial elections.

INFORMED CITIZENS MAKE WISE CHOICES

I encourage every Kentucky voter to read the entire proposed Constitution Revision. You may have a free copy by writing to the Attorney General's Office, State Capitol Building, Frankfort, Kentucky.

A meeting on guidelines for "flaming" control of alfalfa weevil and the equipment needed will be held Tuesday, October 18 at 7:30 p. m., in Room 210, U. K. Northern Community College, Dixie Highway, Covington.

Dr. Richard Miller, U. K. Cooperative Extension Service entomologist, and Victor Thompson, agricultural engineer, will handle the sessions. The programs include discussion of the weevil, the damage it did, flaming guidelines, equipment needed, how to use, costs, etc.

Flaming of alfalfa in winter has been tried in this and other states with considerable success. The flaming, applied by liquefied petroleum gas burners, kills alfalfa weevil eggs in plant stems and eliminates as many as two sprays on the first crop of alfalfa.

Fertilization of lawns and ornamental plants during October and November and even early December has been shown by recent research to be more important than formerly realized. In addition, many plants winter better following moderate fall applications of fertilizer. Delay fertilization of roses to November or early December for better wintering.

Cool-season grasses, such as bluegrass and the fescues, benefit most from early October fertilization. Usually the warm-season grasses, such as Zoysia, will be frosted soon and will stop growing. By this time, crab grass is less vigorous and the cool-season grasses take over and need fertilizing, especially with nitrogen. Where phosphorus and potassium are usually abundant, apply 4 to 7 pounds of ammonium nitrate per 1,000 square feet. If you have been using complete fertilizers regularly, change to ammonium nitrate this fall and plan to make a fall application of a complete fertilizer only every 3 to 4 years. For those low phosphorus and potassium areas, use 15 to 20 pounds of a 10-10-10 or similar formula fertilizer per 1,000 square feet. If a 20-10-10 or 20-10-5 is more convenient, use either at one-half the above mentioned rate.

If you have been fertilizing your lawn regularly with complete fertilizers, have a soil test made before you make your fall application. If the levels of phosphorus and potassium are over 300 lbs. per acre, application of a complete fertilizer is wasteful. It can be harmful when the potassium level becomes greater than 500 to 600 lbs. Usually 60 to 100 lbs. per acre of phosphorus is sufficient.

Shrubs in the foundation planting and shrub borders should be given the heavier lawn rates of fertilizer. If they are lightly fertilized several times during the year, then there will be no need to apply drastic amounts at 3- or 4-year intervals.

Herbaceous perennials should have several small applications of fertilizer throughout the growing season and should have a fall application of the same types and the same amounts as suggested for the grass.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

In His Hands

Lesson For October 23, 1966

Background Scripture: Psalm 127
Devotional Reading: Psalm 127

What is security? To "Linus" in the famous comic-strip, Peanuts, by Charles M. Schulz, security is a blanket that is dragged with him wherever he goes. To many so-called "grownups," security is "money in the bank" or "steaks in the freezer. For others it is a home in the "right neighborhood," a job with the "right company," or marriage into the "right family."

Rev. Althouse says, security may be another person upon whom we may depend to take care of us.

What is it for you? Which of the above factors or others like them is the source of your security? Or is security for you, as it is for some, the conviction that you are in His hands?

Secure From What?

It is not enough to confess that God is the source of our security, for there are many who have depended upon God, who have had to bear all kinds of troubles, pains, and afflictions. How secure were the Roman Christians fighting wild beasts in the arenas? How secure were the martyred missionaries in the Congo? How secure is the devout Christian dying slowly in a hospital bed?

Some time ago I read in the newspaper of a man who was held as a hostage for two weeks by an escaped convict who was wanted for murder. After 14 days of a nightmare existence, the convict was disarmed and his hostage set free. Interviewed by a reporter, the man who had been the hostage said that the only thing that had kept him going through this ordeal was his faith in God. Did he mean that he was certain that God would prevent the man from killing him, the reporter wanted to know? "Oh, no," replied the man quickly. "I had no assurance of that, I just knew that whatever he did to me, kill me or let me live, I was in God's hands."

Security that finds its source in a faith in God does not guarantee our safety from harm. This is what is meant in Martin Luther's hymn, A Mighty Fortress Is Our God:

Let goods and kindred go,
This mortal life also;
The body they may kill;
God's truth abideth still;
His kingdom is forever!
The security of a faith in God is not security from trouble, but security in the midst of trouble. As the hostage put it, it is the knowledge that whatever happens, we are in God's hands.

In, Not From

Christian faith, then, is not a guarantee of the safety of our material goods. Nor is it an assurance of the health and material welfare of those whom Luther terms our "kindred." Life itself is not assured for the body is easily killed. Through the stupidity and the sinfulness of both ourselves and others these are easily lost or taken from us. But the provident love of God, that's something else. As Paul puts it, nothing "in all creation, will be able to separate us from the love of God in Christ Jesus our Lord" (Romans 8:39).

Security in danger, not from it. There is no greater example than in the death of Jesus. To the world he was a failure, to his disciples a disappointment; he had not been victor in escaping suffering and death. His victory came in the midst of it. "Father, into thy hands I commit my spirit."

What is security? It is the "Mighty Fortress" we enter when we place ourselves in His hands.

Why not make up your mind to do something every day to improve yourself? It will pay handsome dividends.

Veterans Administration Questions and Answers

Q—Can I use one certification card to show attendance in school under the new GI Bill for a period June 20 thru August 14, 1966?

A—One certification card can cover the full period when training is interrupted or completed. Otherwise, a card must be completed and submitted for each month of training.

Q—Under the new GI Bill, when will a veteran certify his monthly attendance?

A—Veterans enrolled in institutions of higher learning will not certify their first month's attendance. They will receive a certification card with their first month's check, and then must report and certify attendance for each month thereafter. Veterans enrolled in institutions below college level will receive a card from the VA and must report the first and all subsequent months of attendance.

Q—I am a disabled veteran. My daughter is in need of surgery. Can she be admitted to a VA hospital for this?

A—No, not unless she is an eligible veteran. Hospitalization is not provided for dependents of veterans.

Q—I am a serviceman with a prior period of qualifying service since January 31, 1955. I am now enrolled in a local college carrying an academic loan of seven semester hours and have two dependents. Will I be paid the half-time educational assistance allowance rate of $75 per month?

A—No. The rate of allowance will be computed at the rate of the established charges for tuition and fees or $100 per month for a full-time course, whichever is the lesser. This is in accordance with a recent regulation change.

Q—Can I attend a trade school overseas under the new GI Bill?

A—A program of education may be pursued ONLY at an approved educational institution of higher learning overseas.

James Garrard—soldier, farmer, Baptist preacher and politician—was the only governor of Kentucky to be elected for two consecutive terms.

WHITES TOWER

Mrs. Ralph Howard, Reporter

Now is the time of year to go for a ride. The countryside with the trees turning all colors is just beautiful. No human hand could do as good a job, I am sure, but don't wait too long to go and take in those sights for with the cold rains they are soon gone.

Mrs. Grace Cooper of Inez Ave., Latonia, who is spending some time in Hawaii, where her daughter and family are in the beauty business, is very sick. She had to have major surgery the past week and was a mighty sick woman. We hope to hear that she is recovering soon. She is a member of Staffordsburg Hoomemakers.

Mrs. Caroline Armstrong still is a very sick lady at her home. We hope for her early recovery.

Bill Grubbs of the Tower is a potato grower. He is digging them now and some weigh over two pounds each. I am sure they will not get potato hungry this year. Professionally he is with the telephone company.

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Setters of Mills Road, went to a birthday dinner at the home of their daughter, Louise, last Sunday, the event being his 95th birthday and his wife's 87th. They have 13 living children to be proud of, and we congratulate this remarkable pair and wish them many more years of happiness.

Our new neighbors have moved out of the Burke home after one month, so I guess we will get some new ones again. We hope the next ones stay long enough to learn to like it there.

CARD OF THANKS—

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all my relatives and friends for their prayers, cards, calls, visits, food, flowers, and any act of kindness shown me in my recent stay in the hospital and at home. To the ministers for their prayers and thoughts. I shall always remember each one's kindness. Thanks Again.

EXTENSION GRANTED IN PAYING TAXES

Governor Edward T. Breathitt has given taxpayers whose tax bills were delayed an additional 30 days to pay the property tax.

He issued a proclamation saying taxpayers will not have to pay their tax until 30 days after receiving a tax bill receipted for by the collector since October 1.

The Governor said the extension was granted because consultations and hearings in connection with the Court of Appeals' "fair cash value" ruling caused delays in giving the tax bills to collectors and sheriffs.

Many counties were not able to get the bills to collectors by Sept. 15, as called for by law.

An extension previously had been granted by the Governor to taxpayers in 65 school districts.

Extension Service Has Changeover

Assignments of U.K. Cooperative Extension Service personnel under the new area system of extension work in the Northern Kentucky area were announced this week.

Logan Loderbach, director of the Northern Kentucky area, said the assignments are a basic part of the Cooperative Extension Service's switchover to the new system which began July 1, 1965. Administrators have been working out assignment lists since that date. The present list is the result.

Counties in the Northern Kentucky area are Boone, Kenton, Campbell, Grant, Pendleton, Gallatin, Owen, and Carroll.

In the new system, personnel will have responsibilities in one (or possibly more) fields such as swine, beef, dairy, poultry, resource development, home management, foods and nutrition, housing, or horticulture, and many others. Many members of the service are now getting special training in their new assignments or will in the future.

In the area system, persons are given a specialty (or specialties). They will be used in this specialty throughout the counties of the area. Under the older county-agent and home demonstration agent system, personnel had to be familiar with many phases of farming and homemaking.

Agents were all things to all men and women in the old system. The service performed a magnificent service over the years and one needs only examine agricultural statistics of the last 50 years to see these "general" agents and home agents accomplished. But in the area system, special skills and talents of the extension agents can be exploited now for more benefits to rural, urban and even metropolitan residents. Some 370 such persons, statewide, are involved in the changeover.

Kentucky was one of the first states to go completely to the area operation. Some other states have partial area system plans. Kentucky administrators studied the new system carefully a number of years before it was decided to adopt it. Some kinks still need to be worked out, of course, as areas and problems vary. But it will be efficient and useful in Kentucky.

Generally, each of 16 Extension Service areas in the state is composed of counties with the same type geography, or soils, or farming systems, and population. An area director supervises work of the various specialist in the area's counties. There also is an area staff composed principally of program leaders for that area. Requests for specialist will come through these offices to the area director.

Proclamation—

Members of City Council have received many phone calls and letters from residents of Walton stating that they would not open their doors to marked Trick or Treaters after darkness falls in the city. Due to the apprehension that prevails throughout the area this action is quite understandable.

No one wants to prevent our young people from enjoying this time of year. Therefore, I, Dale Stephens, do hereby proclaim Sunday, October 30, between 3:00 p. m. and dusk as Beggers Night. All parents are urged to take their children out before dark. If all the Goblins and Witches go early this year, I am sure there will be treats enough for all.

Walton City Council urges everyone to be home before dark this Halloween.

Please disregard my earlier statement proclaiming Monday, October 31, as Beggers Night.

Mrs. J. A. Keeney, Reporter

Mrs. Leontine Stephens, Mrs. Stella Richardson, Miss Inez Baker and I visited our aunt and friend, Mrs. M. B. Baker, Friday.

Mrs. Bluch Rich and son of her family visited Miss Susan Rich at Morehead, Sunday.

Mrs. Reigler, her daughter and husband made a trip into Canada, a few weeks ago.

If my friends who have been so kind to tell me that they enjoy reading my news items have wondered about my absence, I've been away for a two weeks visit. I really had a good time in Lake Bluff, Ill., visiting my son, Paul, and his family. It was a beautiful season for such a trip. To me the gorgeous autumn colors are a bit like a play. From the time the leaves appear in spring it is a build-up for the grand finale when nature puts on the closing scene. As we drove through the beautiful country side we were want to exclaim "how God has shown His favor to mortals by spreading the gorgeous colors with such generosity." It is at least proof that "He is no respecter of persons" for the young and old, the rich and poor, the good and bad can enjoy this gift to all. As my plane came in to the airport, we beheld hundreds of acres comprising a beautiful garden. It's fine to go visiting but better to come home.

I learned, when I got home, that the stork had been here and left a little boy at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Rapp on October 4. They have named him Michael Douglas. They have an older son, Steve, Jr.

Mrs. Caroline Armstrong, who has been ill for a few weeks, is improving slowly. Her two daughters have been taking turns caring for her.

Mrs. Chester Rapp, Mrs. Steve Rapp and sons visited Mr. and Mrs. James Lancaster in Lexington, Sunday.

Mrs. Cloe Cupper of Covington, visited her sister, Mrs. Frank Cockerell, and Mr. Cockerell of Nicholson Road, recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Wright of Covington, were at her aunt's, Mrs. Ola Porter, Sunday. She reported Mrs. Porter's brother, Hillary Hunter, sister-in-law, Mrs. Nell Hunter, and nephew, Buford Hunter Mason, were all ill in the hospital at Owenton.

Mrs. Mark Meadows of South air, suffered a heart attack Sunday night and was rushed to St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Mrs. Robert Bach, who has been ill for some time, was taken to the hospital Friday. She is very ill.

Mrs. Ezra Elmore and Mrs. Goldie Adams spent several days visiting nieces and nephews in the Dayton, Ohio area.

Mrs. Lelia Wharton accompanied her sons' family to Kentucky this weekend.

Frank Duncan is spending a few weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Duncan, Jr.

Mrs. Stella Richardson spent several days with Mrs. Hazel Dryden in Washington, Ky.

Color and quality of burley tobacco are developed in the curing process. Temperature, humidity (amount of moisture in the air), and air supply are the three important factors in proper burley curing.

A high moisture level for 24 hours or longer in the curing barn, for instance, produces a red leaf relatively low in quality. A too-dry atmosphere in the barn causes too fast curing, and greenish-colored, mottled appearing tobacco.

Moisture content in barns can be controlled fairly well in good or fair weather by opening and closing side wall ventilators. In wet humid weather, artificial heat is needed for best curing.

Farmers seldom run into an extra-dry curing period—when this does occur, barn moisture can be regulated by keeping the barn door closed during the day time, and sprinkling around the barn with water. Farmers need to know the relative humidity status of the barn in curing season—one good way to tell is by feeling leaves when they are in high case (damp). Cured leaves are very sensitive to moisture changes.

If tobacco is in high case, moderate fires evenly distributed in the barn will dry the leaves. Avoid big fires and be sure the applied heat is circulated throughout the barn.

As a general rule, side ventilators should be open in the early morning hours and closed at night (about 5:00 p. m.). Usually there are very few days in the curing season when ventilators should not be open.

An application of phosphate and potash fertilizer should be made to most Kentucky hay and pasture fields this fall if not applied last spring or summer. This application is a top-dressing.

The application should be based first on a soil test. Clover-grass mixtures (for hay or pasture) in fields low in available phosphorus and potassium should get 30 pounds of K2O annually. Farmers wanting to produce extra high yields of either alfalfa or clover-grass hay might benefit from increasing the phosphate and potash applications.

In pasture fields where grass makes up 75 percent or more of the stand, apply about 30 pounds an acre of nitrogen early next spring.

HERE'S HELP FOR DRY SKIN

Do you know that dry skin is a problem for over two-thirds of America's women? Now you can guard against it with three creams designed by Pacquin to treat the major causes of rough, reddened skin. For irritation caused by household chores, use an anti-detergent hand cream that contains special softeners to counteract dryness. For cracked, hurt hands, use a medicated hand cream that helps heal and smooth chapped skin. For all-purpose skin care, use hand cream for extra dry skin. The Pacquin people suggest applying at bedtime for an overnight beauty treatment.

Watsons Entertain

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Watson entertained at luncheon on Wednesday for Mrs. Janet Brash, Bothwell, Lanarkshire, Scotland and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Adam Smith of Philadelphia, Pa., whom she came to visit on July 31st and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Watson, in whose home the two women had been guests for several days.

Mrs. Brash met the Watsons while visiting her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Guild in Rhodesia, where he owns and operates a 1500 acre farm.

One Sunday night in early 1963 they attended a church service that Ray was conducting in Nyadiri. They became acquainted at its close and struck up a friendship that proved to be beneficial to two families living on foreign soil. Mrs. Brash promised to visit them when they came home on furlough. She came to Cincinnati especially to see them, travelling by bus in order to see the country between here and Philadelphia.

Mrs. Brash, who is 74 years of age and scarcely five feet tall, looks and acts twenty years younger. With an amazing vitality and zest for living, she is a professional swimming instructor in Glasgow, some 12 miles from her home. She also designs clothes as a sideline since she is an expert on fashions.

This being her first trip to Kentucky, she was especially interested in the raising and housing and curing of tobacco since Mr. Guild raises 60 acres of it on his Rhodesian farm, she was comparing the methods used in its production. There is no limit to acreage or poundage there.

Her visa expires on December first, with the privilege of renewal, which no doubt, she will do.

What does she think of America? It's wonderful. Kentucky? Well, she's never seen anything more beautiful in all her travels.

Walton? A lovely place to call home.

—The Advertiser in the 1920's

Mrs. John M. Taylor, Catalina Drive, brought to our office several old copies of the Advertiser. They are yellow with age and the paper is dry and brittle. We kept out a few copies and will have them here in the office for a few weeks.

The oldest copy was dated Jan. 8, 1920. All the papers were in the possession of her father, the late Roland Glenn, who was quite a well known semi-pro baseball player in his younger days, and all of the copies gave some mention of local baseball games.

For the next few weeks we will try to give our readers a few of the items as they appeared in these early editions.

CARD OF THANKS—

We wish to thank each and everyone for the food, clothing, money and the many other acts of kindness shown us during our time of need. Especially do we wish to thank Father Rueter, All Saints Church, and St. Vincent DePaul for their kindness and help. To the Baptist Church for the clothing given to us; also thanks to the other churches for their help. A special thanks to Dr. William Waller, and Dr. McElhinney for their services.

SOIL SAMPLING INSTRUCTIONS

1. Soil testing, coupled with treatment and cropping history, is the best guide available for determining your lime and fertilizer needs.
2. If you take a good soil sample, you will get a good soil test.
3. It is best to take soil samples when it is dry enough to plow.
4. Do not dry soil samples in an oven or before an open fire.
5. Avoid unusual, small areas such as sags, eroded areas, old lime piles, fertilizer bands, etc.

FOR BEST SOIL TESTS - TAKE SAMPLES AS SHOWN BELOW

TUBE or SPADE or AUGER + Pail

Use clean sampling tools. A clean pail is fine for collecting and mixing samples.

Collect center slice 1"x1" when using a spade.

Take sample to plow sole depth - 6 to 8 inches. Be sure to get soil from surface to proper depth.

Slope 1-B
Bottom 1-C
Limed 1-D

This diagram illustrates a field with varied treatment and soil types and the numbering of the samples from the areas. Four composite samples should be taken from this field.

5

Crush lumps, mix soil well and spread it evenly over clean paper, and air-dry.

3

This diagram shows how to take a composite sample from a field when only 10 samplings are made.

Place 1/2 to 1 pint of soil in a clean container; label it as to sample and field name or number, and take it to your county agricultural extension office.

COUNTY AGENT'S ONE-HALF ACRE

By Joe Claxon

Some work this fall on your next season's crops will make spring work loads lighter. Take soil samples and have them tested. Research shows that tests results of the fall soil sampling are as reliable as spring sampling. If limestone is needed on fields, spread it this fall. Ground is firmer for equipment. Limestone will be of more benefit to crops next spring if it has time to react with the soil over the winter. Spread needed phosphate and potash this fall. These two plant nutrients do not leach out. They can be spread on fallow land for next season's crops. Wait till spring however, to apply nitrogen. It will leach out.

Don't let spray-rig shortages hamper you in your fight next spring against the alfalfa weevil.

At the moment, there is a shortage of spray equipment, both custom operated and commercially available for farm purchase.

This may hurt some farmers next spring. Farmers stand to lose a great deal of their first cutting of alfalfa if custom-operated or home owned spray equipment isn't available. We are changing our recommendations. Next spring during April and May we call for a minimum of three sprays against the weevil. If you have to wait in line for custom operated equipment or to get delivery on purchased equipment, you can lose a sizeable part of the crop.

Farmers should check with custom operators now (to set up any possible spray dates) or make arrangements with equipment dealers to get earliest possible delivery on purchased spray equipment.

You will need equipment that has a boom type sprayer which can be raised 17 to 22 inches above alfalfa. We recommend ten gallon nozzles for alfalfa that is 8 inches tall or less, and 20 gallon nozzles for plants that are more than 8 inches tall. By gallon nozzles, we mean nozzles built to deliver 10 or 20 gallons of water an acre. You will need both types. Nozzle tips should be hollow cone, or flat fan types, with 50 mesh screens.

Equipment should be capable of delivering from 40 to 60 pounds pressure per sq. inch, and delivering 10 to 25 gallons of water mixture an acre. Tractor speed should be from 4.5 miles per hour.

If you check with your equipment dealer and he has spray rigs that meet these qualifications, you will be in good shape to spray against the alfalfa weevil. Let us emphasize the change in recommendations, that is, going to a minimum of three sprays before first harvest (during April and May). This means you will have to have the proper equipment on hand, custom operated or privately owned, to do the job when it needs to be done.

HOGGING DOWN CORN

Many farmers in this area run hogs through freshly picked corn fields in order to clean them up. Purina Hog Supplement Checkers is a product that was researched for this very purpose. It contains certain minerals that limits the amount a hog will eat per day. Purina Hog Supplement Checkers can be fed on the ground or out of a self-feeder. The place to put the feeder is near the source of water. Feed one pound of Purina Hog Supplement per hog per day and watch them rush to market. Watch the supply of corn that's in the field. You may have to feed a pound to two pounds of shell corn daily per hog after they have covered the field several times.

BABY PIGS NEED IRON

Baby pigs need iron because pigs are born with a small supply of iron in their liver. Sow's milk does not contain iron in sufficient amounts to supply the pig's needs. Baby pigs grow faster than their ability to manufacture red blood corpuscles...their iron supply usually lasts only a few days. Anemic pigs are listless, pale around the eyelids and mouth, make slow growth, develop "thumps" and may die. Those that survive are likely to be unthrifty and anemia in baby pigs can kill up to 30% of a litter. PURINA IRON-PLUS, the remarkable iron feed product from Purina Research can give pigs the iron they need in the form they can use. It's non-toxic and costs only pennies per pig. It's palatable...baby pigs like it...start to eat it early... 2 to 3 days of age.

GOLDEN BULKY WITH NEW CORN

Purina Golden Bulky can help keep new corn from heating. Because it is light and bulky (SIX BUSHELS PER 100 LBS.) it enables air to get to the corn...besides absorbing some moisture. One rule of thumb is not to grind over a two days supply of new corn at one time. Purina Golden Bulky will also add important vitamins and minerals to the ration and most of all... make that ole cow pour out the milk.

NEW FROM PURINA RESEARCH

New Purina Cal Growers is really being expected by dairymen in this area. Purina Cal Growers is a ready-to-feed calf ration for calves from two months of age to six months. Cal Growers is to be fed free-choice from the third to fourth month...limited to six pounds per head per day during the fourth month...and four pounds per calf per day from the fifth through the sixth month. Come in and check the price of this new product...YOU WILL BE SURPRISED...WE WERE!

WIPE OUT RATS

Wipe out rats with Purina Rat-Kill. Rats like Purina Rat-Kill because it stays fresh. Rats carry it back to the nest where others feed and DIE. It kills rats in about 5 days. Purina Rat-Kill comes in 1-pound and 5-pound bags.

629 Madison Avenue COVINGTON      Dixie Hwy. at Eastern ELSMERE

When Dale Carnegie conceived his "How To Win Friends and Influence People," he struck a commercial gold mine, for everyone wants to know how to "get along." There are few of us who don't care about being accepted and admired by others. We all know how pleasant it is to please people and how unpleasant it may be to displease them.

This is no less true of clergymen than it is of lay people. Perhaps you've heard the little limerick:

There was a clergyman out in Dumont,
Who kept fish in his baptismal font.
Although it surprises The babes he baptizes,
It seems to be just what they want!

We all like to give people what they want, enjoy, and expect. That is why it is so often difficult to do what God wants us to do: what he wants is in conflict with what people want. Unfortunately, we often find it more unpleasant in the short run to displease people than to say "No" to God.

When God Commands

Thus, we are constantly in the middle of the conflict between what God wants of us and what others expect of us. John Milton, the English poet, put it so well: "To every good and peacable man it must in nature be a hateful thing to be a displeaser and molester of thousands; much better would it like him to be a messenger of gladness and contentment. But when God commands to take the trumpet and blow a dolorous and jarring blast, it lies not in man's will what he shall say or what he shall conceal."

One of our most common misconceptions is the notion that being a spokesman for God (what the Old Testament calls a prophet) is a romantic or enjoyable vocation. That isn't the way Jeremiah looked at it when God's call came to him. Told by God that he had a prophetic message for him to deliver, Jeremiah protested: "Ah, Lord God! Behold, I do not know how to speak, for I am only a youth." (Jeremiah 1:6 RSV) You've got the wrong man, Lord, that's not up my line.

Jeremiah wasn't the first spokesman for God to react that way, nor the last. Moses, when confronted with the great message he was to take to the people of Israel, had said virtually the same thing: "Who am I that I should go to Pharaoh, and bring the sons of Israel out of Egypt?" There are few of us today who don't respond in a similar fashion: Who am I, Lord, that I should attempt to do that?

I Am With You

In one sense, we are quite correct when we ask, "Who am I that I should attempt to do that?" for the tasks to which God calls us are always those that ask more than we can supply by our own native resources. There was no denying that Jeremiah was only a youth and Moses did not know how to talk for God. And you and I are constantly overwhelmed by the demands he makes upon us.

The key, however, is not in our adequacy, but in his. "Be not afraid of them," he assured Jeremiah, "for I am with you to deliver you, says the Lord." (Jeremiah 1:8 RSV) Our inadequacy is more than compensated for by his power which he gives to those who faithfully respond to his call. He will supply the power if we will undertake to do what he wants.

Have you given thought to what he wants of you? Have you honestly faced what he wants you to say, to do, or to be? True, it may not win friends or even influence people, but there is a higher satisfaction in doing what he wants.

Farm man-hour output increased 53 percent between 1957-1959 and 1965. Total farm output increased 15 percent.

Buyer, Be Wise, BEWARE!

By Robert Mathews, Attorney General

"Official Furnace Inspector"
May Catch You Off Your Guard

Examine carefully the credentials of the stranger who knocks on your door and represents himself as "an official furnace inspector."

Don't panic if you are told "your furnace may explode in the middle of the night."

Dropping temperatures brings out the high-pressure furnace salesman, that small group—whose activities are denounced by the ethical representatives of the heating industry—who seek to induce a prospect to buy a new furnace or agree to major repairs when neither are necessary.

Check with your insurance agent any claim that the insurance company will pay the replacement or repair.

Get a competitive bid and have a contract in writing stating the costs before any work is done. When in doubt inquire. Write your Attorney General in Frankfort, Ky., for a free brochure on how you can guard against deceptive sales practices.

THERE GOES THE BELL!

The diller, the dollar, the ten o'clock scholar. Remember how the rhyme ended? Tardiness leads from bad to worse. The boy ended by sleeping until noon.

Often parents ask, "WHEN IS IT TIME TO BEGIN THE RELIGIOUS TRAINING OF OUR CHILD?" Here's a straight-forward answer: "THE MOMENT YOU BEGIN TO LOVE HIM!"

You see, God is love. And, in a home where God is loved, a child quickly begins to associate the love of his parents for him with this Other Love which is felt by those he loves. Then come Bible stories and pictures and a simple prayer to help him experience and express his growing faith. Soon he'll be starting Sunday School — but his religious training has already begun.

Our churches are helping tomorrow's parents equip themselves spiritually today. The couple planning marriage needs a mature religious faith. For when God has given us a little son or daughter ...

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

2 1/4 MILLION 4-H'ers SCORE WITH 8 MILLION PROJECTS

MORE than 2 1/4 million 4-H boys and girls are expected to complete 8 million individual projects this year, an average of about four projects per member.

The statistics, supplied by the Cooperative Extension Service, represent a lot of ingenuity and initiative. All 4-H projects, meetings and events must be worked in among school, church, home chores and part-time jobs.

There are a possible 100 different projects or activities available to youngsters between 9 and 19 years old from coast to coast, depending on where they live, their needs, resources and interests. Most center around specific projects in foods, home improvement, safety, health, livestock, clothing, home and farm management, leadership and community service. Certain standards and goals have to be reached.

To group overall accomplishments into one recognition program, the Extension Service developed the national 4-H Achievement program. In this program, one boy and girl from each state is selected annually for having the most outstanding 4-H record.

Fifty win trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago the first week of December. Twelve will receive national $500 scholarships, and nearly 10,000 are expected to earn county achievement medals.

Sponsor of the achievement awards for the last 15 years is the Ford Motor Company Fund. During the 4-H Congress, Ford will host a luncheon and entertainment for the entire delegation of 2,300 delegates and guests.

Highlights of two 1965 winners' accomplishments are examples of what can be expected from the top 1966 records.

An 18-year-old Alabama girl excelled in more than a dozen projects including food preservation, sewing, cooking, home improvement, dairy animals, demonstrations and exhibits.

She is now a sophomore at the University of Alabama. Her future goal is a medical career.

A Colorado college student joined 4-H when he was 9. His first project was rabbits. By 1965 he had 15 steers in the feed lot, won top state honors in the field crops program and reserve champion beef showmanship award at the Intermountain Stock show.

Working with livestock influenced his desire to become a veterinarian.

New Haven PTA

Mrs. Jo Criss, President of the New Haven PTA, chaired the October 17 meeting. The devotional was given by Mr. Troy Tolliver.

The Union VFW Post 6099, represented by Judge Bruce Ferguson, presented to the school a flag which has flown over the capital in Washington, D. C. Judge Ferguson in his presentation said the American Flag is part of our National heritage and emphasized the importance of this heritage being passed on to our children. Miss Ceryle Henson played a retreat as the audience stood in respect for the flag.

Mrs. Della Marie Love announced that the Children's Symphony will be held on November 16, Feb. 15 and April 5.

Mrs. Criss said that Messrs. O. J. Struve, Bob Criss and Bill Tanner have repaired the playground equipment. The school board repaired the flag pole. Mr. Rector Jones, Superintendent, was present and reported that no money is available to match PTA funds for the proposed intercom system.

Mr. Jack Clifford, new principal of the Boone County High School, was given a warm introduction by the program chairman, Mrs. Joyce Tolliver. Mr. Clifford said, "As a teacher, I have to think of a school as being built for one purpose, and that is to educate boys and girls to the best of their abilities. We have to keep adequate programs in order to improve."

U. S. farmers spent about $1.5 billion for petroleum fuel and oil for farm operation.

Mr. Clifford pointed out that the local tax effort is sending four hundred newly enrolled pupils thru school this year. This is brought about by the amount of school money coming from the state being based upon the average daily attendance of the previous year.

Mr. Clifford listed a few things which would bring about an ideal program in education: more money, 20 pupils per teacher, relieve the teachers of "extra work" so that they can teach and prepare to teach. "High School programs will be as good as the teachers we get to teach them," he continued. "It is difficult to get teachers because they can go into industry and make twice the money that schools pay them."

He felt the PTA's are highly important and are doing a service to the community and the school, as well as showing the child that the parent is interested in his education.

Refreshments were enjoyed following the meeting.

I have been questioned recently upon methods of preserving gourds for ornamental purposes. Here is one method:

Pick the gourds when they are mature. The stem of the gourd usually shrivels when they are mature. Wash them in detergent water, then immerse the gourds in a chlorine bleach solution for 5 to 10 minutes. Dry thoroughly and store for two or three weeks in a warm, dry area. Turn frequently during the drying period. Apply three or four coats of floor wax to the gourds, and they are ready for display.

Turn them frequently even while they are on display. The miniature gourds are much more difficult to cure than the large ones, but you should get many months of use before they fade or deteriorate.

The convenience of aerosols for various consumer uses is taken for granted as part of our modern way of life, and only occasionally do we stop to wonder how aerosols were invented. Here's the story in a nutshell.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture developed the first aerosol through insecticide research between 1939 and 1942, and got a public service patent. Public service patents are available for non-exclusive licensing, royalty free, for the benefit of the people of the United States.

Aerosol insecticides developed by USDA contained 10 times the concentration of insecticide previously available. First used to fight insect enemies of our troops during World War II, aerosol insecticides prevented a great deal of illness and suffering.

When peace came and metals and chemicals were plentiful again, aerosols were put to use in many ways for the convenience of the consumer, insecticides, paints, household cleaners, perfume, hair sprays and an almost endless variety of applications.

Aerosols are easy to use. Applied under pressure they give good dispersion of particles. For many chores they are a great time saver.

Count aerosols among your modern blessings, but be wise enough to heed label directions. Store in a cool place out of sunlight and never incinerate the cans. Keep all aerosols out of reach of children. Ingredients not otherwise harmful can cause problems if they get into children's eyes or on their skin.

the State's first forestry camp for the rehabilitation of prisoners is located in Kentucky Ridge State Forest, a 12,000-acre tract about 15 miles from Pineville?

later with 100 percent temporary total service-connected disability. In 1942, I was told that my condition was inactive. Why is there a difference in service-connected disabilities?

A—The difference is the severity of each disability. Each case is decided on the degree the veteran is disabled. Just about any ailment or disability could be service-connected but not all are compensable.

In 1965, farm production expenses amounted to $31 billion in the U. S. In 1957-1959 is was $25 billion.

The first mark of intelligence is knowing that you don't know it all.

Focus On Eyes

BE AN EYEFUL—Nothing is more attractive than clear, shining eyes. Nothing is less beautiful than dull eyes, especially when they're made more attention-getting by a lot of eye make-up. The Pfizer people, who make a decongestant eyedrop, recommend them for soothing and clearing eyes after hard work or play, or when eyes are irritated, red or strained. At all pharmacies, the Visine eye drops are also good for men because they give that "alert look" in less than a minute.

Keep Wary Eye On Your Door For "Bargain" Sales Pitch

The offer of a bargain by a door-to-door salesman frequently is synonymous with deception, since there are few bargains in this type of selling.

At best, products offered door-to-door are priced competitively or slightly higher than similar products in retail stores. Sometimes they are much higher. Low overhead is more than offset by high commissions.

The trade magazine "Chemical Week" recently reported of one product, "Door-to-door specialty salesmen get a high commission—as much as $100 per sale. Consequently, this form of direct selling can add 30-40 percent to the final price of a water-softener unit."

Compare before you buy. Write your Attorney General, at Frankfort, Kentucky, for a free brochure on how you can guard against deceptive sales practices.

Veterans Administration Questions and Answers

Q—I understand the G. I home loan program for World War II veterans is about over. Is that true?

A—The deadline for WW II veterans is July 25, 1967. Your entitlement runs 10 years from the date of discharge plus one year for each three months of service, but in no case will it go beyond July 25, 1967.

Q—My father is a World War I veteran and needs an operation. He can't afford it and neither can I. Can he get into a veteran's hospital?

A—Admittance to a VA hospital is in this order: First, veterans with service-connected disabilities; second, veterans who are unable to pay. The latter are admitted when beds are available.

Q—in 1918, I suffered TB and was sent to a Naval Hospital from which I was discharged a year

A—No. Business loans are not included under the provisions of the new GI Bill.

Q—I am uncertain as to what I want to be, but I want to use the GI educational Bill. Can VA help?

A—Yes, the Veterans Administration has a counseling service available to assist you in selecting the most suitable training program.

Charles Dorsey and Carsee Brinkley went fishing one day last week on the Ohio River below Constance and really had luck, as they brought back about 25 lbs. This is to thank them for the five pounds they gave us.

Ott Inabnit will leave this week for a visit with relatives in Wisconsin.

The weather and the crime situation and the tobacco crops race with "jack frost" are the conversation subjects at this time. The cure is in the people's hands. Their attitude now is let the other fellow do it. That kind of attitude leaves our law enforcement in the hands of our peace officers who are now short handed and can't be in every place at once, but we, the public are everywhere at the same time.

To parents of teenagers

We pass these lines along And some day may get lucky And put it in a song. Their control of their children Would be a good start As parents and children Seem too far apart. Encourage teenagers In all their pursuits For close association Will surely bear fruit Let them know that their welfare Is your main concern And if they have troubles To you they will turn. Gain their respect With kindness and love And teach them respect For the Father above It will all count up And prove to them all Ma and Pa are not dumb. So our best to teenagers Wherever they be They're the salt of the earth You can take it from me. To all my grandchildren And great-grandchildren too. Just remember these words Are to each one of you.—EJR

Summary of changes in KENTUCKY'S COURT SYSTEM

A UNIFIED COURT SYSTEM The proposed Constitution Revision seeks to unify Kentucky's court system from the highest state level through the local level. The unified system would consist of a Supreme Court, a Court of Appeals, Circuit Courts and District Courts.

THE SUPREME COURT This would be a new judicial level created out of the existing Court of Appeals, presently Kentucky's highest court. The Supreme Court would become the highest court—the court of last resort—in the Commonwealth. The Supreme Court would set rules of procedure for lower courts. Jurisdiction would be established by the General Assembly.

THE COURT OF APPEALS A new intermediate judicial level, the Court of Appeals, would relieve some of the work load from the Supreme Court. It would consist of at least nine judges, one from each of the seven Court Districts and two from the state-at-large.

CIRCUIT COURTS The Circuit Courts would operate as they do now.

DISTRICT COURTS A District Court would be created for each county and would assume the present jurisdiction of the Police, Justice of Peace, Quarterly and County Courts. The General Assembly would provide for as many District Court judges in each district as the Supreme Court certifies is necessary. Generally, there would be one district court for each county. However, two adjoining counties could be consolidated into one district if the Supreme Court certifies that one district judge could handle the judicial business of the combined counties. In this case, a District Court Commissioner would be named from residents of counties other than the one in which the judge lives.

QUALIFICATION OF JUDGES Under the Constitution Revision, all judges would be qualified attorneys.

SELECTION OF SUPREME COURT AND COURT OF APPEALS JUDGES When there is a vacancy, a Nominating Commission would present three names to the Governor. He will appoint one of these. After three years, this judge would run for election to a full eight-year term. He would run unopposed and "on his record." He would not run as a member of any political party. He would have to be approved by the voters for each additional term. Should he fail to win this approval, or resign from the bench, a vacancy would exist; and the same nomination-appointment-election procedure would be required.

SELECTION OF CIRCUIT AND DISTRICT COURT JUDGES Circuit Court judges in districts with a population of more than 50,000 would be selected in the same manner as higher court judges unless otherwise voted by the people of the district.

Circuit Court judges in districts of less than 50,000 would be elected for eight-year terms unless otherwise voted by the people of the district.

District Court judges would be elected for four-year terms.

THE BILL OF RIGHTS The original Bill of Rights under the present Constitution remains unchanged in the proposed revisions. However, three new rights were added: One permits an individual to waive pre-trial indictment in a felony charge, thus allowing him a speedier trial. A second prohibits any individual from being held in jail as a material witness. The third would prohibit the invasion of privacy of an individual by means of wire tapping or any other electronic or mechanical snooping devices.

LOOK FOR THIS WHEN YOU VOTE NOVEMBER 8

Alteration Or Reformation Of Constitution

Are you in favor of reforming the Constitution of the Commonwealth to cause same to be in the same form and language as finally submitted to the Governor and the General Assembly of Kentucky by the Constitution Revision Assembly and set forth in Senate Bill No. 161 enacted at the Regular Session of the General Assembly of Kentucky held in the year 1966 and as heretofore scheduled and published as required by law?

NEXT TUESDAY IS ELECTION DAY

Next Tuesday, November 8, is election day—so vote!
The most important issue may be the proposed revision of our State Constitution. Our only statement is this: Don't vote against it because of some remark heard on the street and don't vote against it just because you don't know what it is all about. Get as much information as possible, then vote as you see fit.

In the race for U. S. Senate, incumbent Republican John Sherman-Cooper of Somerset, is being opposed by John Young Brown of Lexington—two old-line politicians.

The Old ..... and ..... The New

C. D. Benson

H. O. Rogers

Harold Omega (Bucky) Rogers, well known Bellevue farmer, has been named successor to C. D. (Dewey) Benson as Boone County Clerk.

Mr. Benson's resignation became effective November 1st.

Mr. Benson was in his ninth consecutive four-year term. He said he was resigning for both personal and family reasons. He is celebrating his 68th birthday today.

Boone County Judge Bruce Ferguson, who announced the appointment, said Mr. Rogers will serve until the November 1967 election. Meanwhile, the job will be up for grabs in the May 1967 primary.

Mr. Rogers, 54, a former probation and parole officer for the 15th Judicial District, which includes this county.

A native of Boone County, he is a brother of the late Hugh A. Rogers, who was Kentucky banking commissioner at the time of his death about two years ago.

The new county clerk is a director of two Boone County banks, Citizens' Deposit at Grant, and Farmers Bank of Petersburg. He is also a director of the Boone County Farm Bureau.

Like Mr. Benson, Mr. Rogers is a former semi-pro baseball player.

Mr. Rogers is married to the former Hilda Aylor. They have two sons, Paul Ethan and Maurice Vaughn Rogers, both of Florence, and three daughters, Mrs. Charlotte Taylor, Mrs. Mary Sue Rudcill and Mardell Rogers, a sophomore of U. K.

Mr. and Mrs. Rogers are members of the Bellevue Baptist Church.

The new county clerk was unsuccessful in the may 1965 Democratic primary against State Representative Dan J. Roberts, Walton, who sought re-election.

It's the passing of an area with the retirement of Dewey Benson as county clerk. We well remember his campaign when elected in 1933, and what a celebration following the victory...and it was really Verona and Walton that put Mr. Benson over. A native of Walton, Mr. Benson at the time was serving as cashier of Dixie State Bank, Walton, a new banking house at the time.

We remember, that in one precinct in the county, a gentleman told Dewey that he was going to vote for him, but when the votes were counted, not one vote did Mr. Benson get in that precinct. We believe that it later was called to the man's attention.

Dewey, we hope you have a happy and healthy retirement.

Area Specialists and Agents Get Training

Training for area specialist and agents, the former county agent and home demonstration personnel of the U. K. Cooperative Extension Service, is well underway.

Several one-to-three training sessions already have been held in such "subject matter" fields as agronomy, horticulture, meat animal group and home economics, says Dr. S. C. Bonanan and Mrs. Ruth Saunders, state chairman, respectively of agriculture and home economics programs.

The new training is needed because of the Kentucky Service's switch in July, 1965, to the area system of farm and homemaking advisers.

Kentucky is the first state in the union to go entirely on the area system, officials point out. In this become specialists in one of the system, extension service personnel many fields such as woods, nutrition, clothing, dairying, swine, beef, poultry, youth work, horticulture, resource development, and others.

In former years, county personnel were more or less "general" agents. They advised farm folk on many different aspects of farming and homemaking. Usually a county agent was responsible as advisor and organizer only for the folk in his own county.

Now, there are 16 extension service areas in the state. These were developed on several bases, such as common geography of the area, common farming systems, problems, population, etc. Extension agents in these areas (which average slightly more than 7 counties to an area) will handle "specialty" problems in all-counties of the area to which assigned.

Officials will be maintained in each county as previously, it was pointed out. And few agents were moved from their former assigned counties because of the switch to the area system.

"The retaining programs we have started are what we call 'initial' training," Dr. Bonanan said this week, "They are just the

An "Uneventful" Thursday

What was planned to be an uneventful drive to town and back home turned out very differently on Thursday of last week for two Walton residents. Miss Rachel Acree and Mrs. Fredrica Mann drove into Walton hoping to do a few little things on a pleasant fall afternoon. First stop at Dixie Bank was a disappointment for the bank is closed on Thursdays. Continuing to travel north on Main Street the two thought to get some refreshments at Darl-Delitte also closed on Thursday. Misfortune was still their lot as Miss Acree's auto ran into a ditch, striking a culvert head and deflating a tire.

The ladies were rescued by Mr. Frank Barth. Needless to say it was a very disappointing day for Miss Acree and Mrs. Mann.

Sing Festival at Kenton

The Reverend Binkley, pastor of November 6th. choe'egz-a'-191a:5 Kenton Christian Church, Kenton Kentucky extends a welcome to everyone to come to the Singing Festival at the church on November 6th at 2 p. m.

start, where we give the new specialist fundamental training in their chosen, special fields. In most cases, the new specialists are entering fields for which they have demonstrated special talents and skills over the years. Many of our agents, for instance, were excellent crops and livestock men but also had, as example, a deep interest in dairying. These skills and interests are now being used more fully."

Dr. Bonanan and Mrs. Saunders said they have more than 100 agents who have started training. Others will be coming along later who need training, too. "The training program for a good many years will be a continuous one," they said. County officials will have county chairmen who will be administrative heads of the in-county operations from now on. Areas have program leaders responsible for various programs in the areas, such as dairying, beef, foods, etc.

The Pioneers have not had a successful season but prospects are bright, according to reports, and great things are expected of them in years to come.

No doubt interest in the homecoming celebration will be heightened by the brilliant 32-7 victory of the Pioneers over Beechwood, Friday night of last week.

Leonard Cook Endorses Snyder for Congress

Leonard Cook

Gene Snyder

"I haven't left the Democratic Party...they have left me!" is the story by former Democrat State Representative Leonard Cook, of Walton-Nicholson Road, Walton.

"I would be a traitor to my conscience as a Jeffersonian Democrat to vote against Snyder," the stalwart 74-year-old Democrat said, "and I feel fine about the first political switch of my life."

Cook lives in retirement on a 10 acre farm near Walton. He served in the 1930 legislature in the old Boone-Grant County 62nd district. He built the Walton Feed Mills in 1922, and also constructed the Covington Independent Tobacco warehouse in Erlanger. He also built and operated the Kentuckiana warehouse in Carrollton.

"I am the oldest, and the last, hoghead tobacco buyer in this area," Cook proudly stated.

"We old line Democrats are tired of Socialism in government," Cook observed. "We believe in the voice of the people, not the voice of the politicians. Snyder is the better candidate to represent both rural and urban areas. I feel a candidate must know something about who he is representing, instead of being told."

"Snyder's my man, and I am proud of it," Mr. Cook smiled.

—Charles Wiley, publicity chairman

Rouse is a former Boone County coroner, and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rouse, Florence. He was appointed by the new county clerk, H. O. (Bucky) Rogers.

Rouse started "breaking in" on Tuesday and said "I hope to learn the ropes by the time Mrs. Greene retires."

Mrs. Greene is resigning soon after the retirement of her long-time boss, C. D. Benson, whose retirement became effective Tuesday.

Mr. Rouse is a former resident of Walton.

The public is invited to participate in these activities. Support the Bearcats with your attendance at all the Basketball games this season.

If the alfalfa weevil is going to be a problem from non-on—is alfalfa still worth growing?

Emphatically, yes. Particularly if the farmer aims for, and gets, high yields. Come points: High or low yields, it still costs $10 to $14 an acre to spray against the weevil.

vil. So aim for high yields. Yields of five tons or more an acre can be gotten despite the weevil, with good stands, fertilization, spray programs and right-time cuttings. Economists have figured net value of several forage types per acre. Alfalfa (at 5 tons an acre yield) will net $60 an acre average; red clover, $32; alfalfa at 2.9 tons an acre, $18.50; and lespedeza, at .15 tons an acre, about $9.50 net.

Kentucky farmers now get a more finely ground limestone than was available a year ago. This fine-grind material will give more response more quickly than most materials available a year ago. Some limestone supply companies in Kentucky installed special crushing equipment for fine-grind materials. A summary of analyzed samples since April, 1966, shows one half were equal to, or finer than, the minimum standards recommended by the U. K. Experiment Station. A number of other firms have ordered the crushing machinery but must wait for delivery. Defense programs have priorities on some materials. That causes some delay.

The Kentucky experiment station recommends agricultural limestone ground finely enough that at least 45 percent will pass through a 50-mesh screen. This is equivalent to the old recommendation that 40 percent pass through a 60-mesh screen.

Don't use rubber bands to tie up tobacco leaves. It probably will cost you a lot of money when the crop is sold.

At market time, graders will be asked to search for rubber bands in tobacco. If they are found or suspected, a "no grade" will be placed on the basket. Farmers also are liable for "no support" on their tobacco when rubber bands are used.

We have heard that some Kentucky farmers are using rubber bands to tie primed leaves, or pickup leaves this year. It has been reported that these bands are metallic and can be removed in the red-drying plant. This is not true. We urge growers not to use rubber bands of any type or description on their tobacco.

Between 1958 and 1965, retail food store sales rose 36 percent, sales by automobile dealers 76 percent and sales by gasoline stations 53 percent.

Upon checking you may be surprised to learn: The 'special work' is selling. The books are being offered to the general public and not "selected families". # MOLONEY and BROWN

WILL HELP KEEP AMERICA PROSPEROUS —

John Moloney.....

John Moloney, former Covington City Commissioner, twice Covington's Mayor, and a State Senator, is a life-time Kenton County resident, knows the needs of this District better than his opponent, who was never in Boone County until 1966.

As a State Senator, Mr. Moloney voted for: Strip Mining Bill, Teacher Salary Increases, Unemployment Insurance Benefits, Conservation of Water Resources, Penalties for Animal Mistreatment, Regulation of Campaign Contributions, Re-defining Congressional Districts, Student Loans and Scholarships, State Police Retirement System.

Mr. Moloney's opponent as a Congressman voted against: Better Housing, Health Educational Assistance, Social Security, Medicare, Air and Water Pollution Control, Aid for Higher Education, Appropriation for Space Program, Federal-State Food Assistance Program, Appropriation for Department of Health Program, Education and Welfare, A Bill to Prevent Accidents In Coal Mines, Peace Corps, and most of his own party sponsored bills.

LABOR SUPPORTS JOHN MOLONEY

Henry Siebert, State President of the AFL-CIO Labor Union, said "John Moloney's opponent had a chance to vote for labor 33 times, and 33 times he voted against labor, and 95% of Union Labor will support Mr. Moloney for Congressman."

John Y. Brown.....

Democratic Senatorial candidate, John Y. Brown has a distinguished record: U. S. Congressman from Kentucky at large, Special assistant to U. S. Attorney General, Six times a member of the General Assembly, Majority Floor Leader and Speaker of the House, Kentucky's outstanding lawyer, Member of Governor's Task Force on Criminal Justice, Member of Kentucky Code Commission, Gave 18-year-olds right to vote, and sponsored more legislation than any other Kentuckian.

17 FEET OF WORMS

Each animal in your herd may be host to 17 feet of worms...cattle roundworms. Roundworms are common, 90% of all cattle have them. They are thin as a hair and about an inch long with a blood sucking head on one end that costs you money. PURINA WORM-KILL IS AN EFFECTIVE, SAFE, EASY WAY TO WORM YOUR CATTLE. It's effective because it contains Thiabendazole, the first totally new wormer in 25 years. It's highly effective, in fact, it kills more roundworms in beef and dairy cattle than any other wormer known. Come in...let us show you how little it costs to worm your entire herd.

GRINDING NEW CORN

Most new corn is still to high in moisture to grind. If new corn is ground it is best to only grind a couple of days supply. When grinding for dairy cows or growing heifers use plenty of Golden Bulky. Purina Golden Bulky will absorb some of the moisture and keep it from packing which speeds up heating. It will also ADD MORE MILK TO YOUR PAILS. See us about adding PURINA GOLDEN BULKY TO YOUR RATION.

CASH IN ON FUTURE HIGH MILK PRICES

Now...we have an all-new Purina calf growing ration, tailor-made to help you take greater advantage of future favorable milk prices by getting heifers in the milk string sooner. It's NEW Purina Calf Growena, a specially formulated dry calf ration to help you grow herd replacements fast, breed them early, freshen them between 22 and 24 months...to take advantage of high milk prices. Calf Growena helps you feed calves at low cost from two to six months, yet gives them the protein and energy they demand. It's fortified with vitamins and minerals growing calves need. Calf Growena is a sweet and tasty course ration too...the kind calves really clean up. Come in...check the price...you'll be surprised.

A Word For The New Revised Constitution

Kentucky will benefit in many ways if Kentuckians revise their state constitution in the November 8 election.

Let's look at some of them in an effort to help the undecided make up their minds and the anti's change their minds.

Briefly, then:

You will get more home rule, with the constitutionally-guaranteed right to choose your own form of government and the local officials to head it.

Farm land may be assessed at a fair value for farm use and not at the 100 per cent sale value for subdivision or industrial use.

The General Assembly, whose members represent you in the legislative halls at Frankfort, will be greatly strengthened and upgraded.

Our judicial system will be updated to speed up justice in the courts underqualified judges with sound legal training. In many

OLD HAY FEVER CURES

A plague comes on us at this time every year that afflicts about one out of every 20 men, women and children. It will be most tormenting between now and the first real frost.

Do you recognize the symptoms? Tearful, red eyes; itching, stuffed up nose; bleary, watery look; repeated, loud sneezes.

They're the symptoms of allergic rhinitis, known as hay or rose fever, although the allergy has nothing to do with roses or hay, and there isn't any fever.

There is no cure for hay fever. But temporary relief from hay fever symptoms can be obtained from antihistamines, such as Corby-D cold capsules, and decongestant eye drops like Visine, that soothe irritation and are available at drugstores. The best source of help is your physician.

Leeches were used for bleeding, often until the patient was nearly dead from weakness.

Serious complications can result from hay fever, including asthma. So if you even think you have hay fever, consult your physician.

Some of the strange cures through the centuries are revealed in a fascinating new booklet called, "Mow Down Hay Fever." The booklet is free, as a public service from Corby-D Consumer Services, Rorick Division of Chas. Pfizer & Co., 235 E. 42nd St., New York 10017.

In the 18th century, ice-cold water baths were recommended as sure cures for hay fever.

Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes gave the classic hay fever cure.

He was asked: "Is there any cure for hay fever?"

"Yes," he replied. "Gravel... taken about 8 feet deep."

ANNUAL XMAS BAZAAR

The Wesleyan Service Guild of the Walton Methodist Church will hold its annual Christmas Bazaar on November 18th and 19th in the building previously used by Webster's TV. The members have made very special items for purchase for those special persons on your Christmas shopping list.

They will also have a very complete line of bakery goods and homemade candy. Why not do your Thanksgiving shopping with the Guild. Any special requests for bakery items will be taken by calling 485-4665 or 485-7489. The Service Guild has taken as its project this year to remodel the kitchen of the parsonage. Last year wall cabinets were installed in the kitchen of the church.

Your past support and concern is appreciated. Stop by and see the large selection of useful, as well as decorative gifts.

Retail food prices in 1965 were 28 percent above the 1947-49 level, but the overall consumer price index was only 35 percent higher.

Keep Hands Lovely

PRETTY SMOOTH—This time of year, hands get rough treatment because they do so much outdoors as well as in. To keep them in party shape all the time, the Pacquin people suggest regular applications of a new hand lotion made especially for extra dry skin. It is nourishing and lubricates, yet its rich white protection never leaves hands sticky. Available at all stores, it keeps skin supple in other dry skin areas, too, and should be applied liberally.

46 Years Ago

(From the copy of the oldest paper we have available, January 8, 1920. Readers please don't take offense if these articles give away any age secrets.)

At a social dance at the Walton Opera House, Miss Lula Edwards had a fur neck piece stolen, but it and other furs were recovered. The Dance was a success with fifty percent.

One of the best tobacco markets of the season was had at the Walton Tobacco Market. When the market first opened, the selling was slow, but when the 10:05 train arrived from Louisville, bringing quite a number of buyers, prices throughout the rest of the day were top notch. There were 86,000 pounds of rather poor grade of tobacco. Sales had to be conducted early so the buyers could catch the southbound train to Louisville.

Walton was entertained(?) with a medicine show all of last week at the Opera House. The management apologized to the audience for the first night the non-appearance of two of the women characters. Throughout the week votes were given with admission tickets (and the junk they sold) for the most popular young lady, the prize being a very handsome and costly silver (?) set. Miss Lucy Laws was the popular young lady.

(Note: for the information of newer Walton residents, the Walton Opera House occupied the second floor of what is now known as the Model Food Store building.) A clever item by Advertiser owners and publishers, R. D. Stamler and J. R. Wallace, reads as follows: "The best way to prevent that predicted panic is to keep your money in circulation. Start the good work by shooting another subscription our way." How true.

Merit Jack, manager of the Beaver Lick Mercantile Co., was here on business Monday.

The Walton Lodge installed the following officers for the new year: Master, George Grubbs; Warder, A. R. Johnson; Junior Warder, J. T. Hurt; Secretary, S. H. McCarty; Treasurer, C. W. Ransler; Tyler, Joseph Reed.

There will be a singing school and spelling bee at the Walton school on Friday night.

Rev. J. D. Waters and family have moved to Millersburg, Ohio to assume the position of pastor of the Christian Church. Members of the Walton Christian Church are sorry to see Rev. Waters leave. Rev. James Lawson will fill the pulpit at the church on Sunday.

Due to bursted heating pipes, services of the Walton Baptist Church will be held at the Christian Church, announced Pastor R. L. Shirley.

U. S. formers received 16 cents out of every dollar spent for white bread in the U. S. in 1965.

A Summary of the Proposed Kentucky Constitution Revision as it affects LOCAL GOVERNMENT

A key sentence in the Constitution Revision says: "Units of local government may create any democratic form of government and perform any functions not denied to them by their own charters, the Constitution or general law." Local governments would be able to do what was not specifically denied to them. Now, local governments have only the powers specifically granted to them.

LOCAL ELECTIONS Under the Revision, local voters would continue to select their own elected officers, voting for them at the same time they chose their Representatives and Senators for the General Assembly. Present elective offices would continue until changed by general law.

TERMS OF OFFICE The chief executive and the members of all units of local government would be elected by local voters for terms of no longer than four years.

RELATIONSHIP OF LEGISLATURE The State Legislature could exercise authority in providing forms and functions of local government. It would continue to have the power to make classifications of cities.

PROTECTION OF COUNTY LINES The Constitution Revision would prohibit any county from being merged or abolished without approval of the voters residing in that county. Under the present Constitution a county may be abolished by the General Assembly.

TAXATION AND REVENUES Under the present Constitution, county tax rates are limited to fifty cents per hundred. The Constitution Revision permits rate and limitation to be set by general law. The Revision would permit the State to share a portion of state tax revenue with cities and counties. Also, local units of government, as well as school districts, could finance schools and other public buildings with general obligation bonds.

WORKING FOR KENTUCKY AGRICULTURE

Senator John Sherman Cooper's work on the Senate Agriculture Committee has helped every farm family in Kentucky. He has fought for the tobacco program, soil and water conservation, the voluntary farm commodity programs, sustaining funds for the Production Credit Associations and REA, watershed projects, and dozens of other programs of lasting benefit to the farmer. The farm community doesn't have a better friend in the Congress.

Farm Bureau Against Revised Constitution

On Election Day, Tuesday November 8th, Boone Countians will vote on the Proposed Revision of the Constitution.

The Kentucky Farm Bureau is opposed to the proposed Constitution. The Board of Directors adopted this position after a long study and comparing the proposed Constitution with the present one. The Committee on the Constitution studied and compared the proposed Constitution with our present one. The study included consultations with noted authorities who were for and those who were against. It was revealed that there were many changes in the proposed Constitution that would be desirable. However, the undesirable changes outweighed the desirable ones.

The following are some of the reasons why the Kentucky Farm Bureau opposes the revised Constitution:

Is it true that the proposed constitution says that all farm land will be assessed at its agricultural value?

No. It is not true. Farm Bureau asked that this be done, but the proposed constitution provides that only land located in urban areas may be assessed in this manner, and only then if the General Assembly provided for it. The proposed constitution does not define an urban area. Thus, it leaves it open to interpretation by the courts. This is what the proposed constitution says: "All property not exempted from taxation by this constitution shall be assessed for taxation uniformly and equally at its fair cash value estimated at the price it would bring at a fair voluntary sale. However, the General Assembly may provide by general law for assessment of agricultural land in urban areas according to use rather than fair cash value estimated at the price it would bring at a fair voluntary sale."

Are local communities given complete home rule?

No. The proposed constitution says: "The General Assembly shall have the power to provide for the government, officers and functions of units of local government, and to create, alter, consolidate and dissolve them." This applies to all units of local government including cities, school districts and water districts. The General Assembly, however, would not have the authority to consolidate or dissolve a county.

Any new Constitution to be adopted in Kentucky should permit one House of the State Legislature to be apportioned on some basis other than population in order that Kentucky could change its method of apportionment if the Dirksen Amendment to the U. S. Constitution or a similar effort is successful at the Federal level.

We believe that the total effect of the proposed Constitution would be to centralize more powers at the seat of state government and therefore reduce the voice of the people.

The Legislature's authority would be increased but not to an extent that it would become independent of the Executive branch. Therefore additional Executive authority.

The legal profession would be given too much authority over the court system.

We oppose the method of choosing judges and the requirement that all judges, including the judges of lower courts, be attorneys.

We believe that 90 day annual sessions of the State Legislature are not necessary since the Governor can call as many special sessions as needed. The additional time that would be required in Frankfort would discourage and prevent many qualified men from seeking the office of representative or senator.

With longer terms of office legislators would be less responsive to the people.

The proposed Constitution would call for reapportionment in 1968 which is earlier than the next expected reapportionment.

The savings that would be realized by holding fewer elections would be offset by additional cost of operating the Legislature. Also there would be greater danger of candidates riding coattails of others by combining elections.

Local government section gives too broad authority to the state Legislature.

The additional authority over private property for purposes of Health, Welfare, Conservation and Safety is unequalled for.

The method of writing and presenting this document to the people was not according to the present Constitution as Art. 4 of the Bill of Rights was not intended for this purpose. However, since the Courts have held that Art. 4 may be used, we see no reason why this document could not be defeated, and then resubmitted in parts at later dates. This would afford the voters a much better opportunity to become informed on the proposed changes.

Therefore, the Farm Bureau recommends that you vote "No" on November 8th.

Painless Invitation

Lesson For November 6, 1966

Background Scripture: Jeremiah 7; 26;

Devotional Reading: Psalm 24:1-4.

Are you one of those who delights in practicing the art of painless invitations? It's really quite easy, you know. All you have to do is say something like this: "You must come over for dinner..." and then add quickly, "...sometime." You see, one harmless-looking word gets you off the hook.

A German exchange student who was a seminary classmate used to say that Rev. Althouse, Americans are particularly adept at this art of painless invitations. "We'd like to have you for dinner," people would say to him, "...sometime." It always sounded like a most gracious invitation, but because it was left indefinite, nothing ever came of it. The words were superficial and insincere; good intentions that cost nothing.

If Took Seriously

Some of us carry this art of painless invitations over into our religious life too. We utter all kinds of invitations and promises, none of which are expected to be taken seriously.

This Sunday, for example, you are likely to pray: "...and forgive us our debts as we forgive our debtors." We certainly don't mean that, do we? Certainly you want considerably more grace and forgiveness from God than you extend to others, don't you?

Perhaps you'll stand in your pew and sing, "Take my silver and my gold, not a mite would I withhold." Surely you don't mean it! That dollar bill of yours on the plate already seems to be so great a sacrifice. Perhaps we would be more honest if we were to sing: "Lord, in spite of all we say and do, this is really what we think of you!"

Just think of all the painless invitations we give God in an hour's time on a Sunday morning:

"Thy kingdom come, thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven"

"I believe in God, the Father Almighty..."

"...as it was in the beginning is now and ever shall be, world without end..."

"Draw me nearer, nearer blessed Lord, to the cross where thou hast died..."

Where Your Mouth Is

Elwood P. Dowd, the humorous eccentric in the play Harvey, constantly amazed people by taking seriously the insincere invitations. He took them at face value and transformed painless invitations into uncomfortable confrontations. When someone would say, "You must come over and see us sometime," Ellwood would pull out his little date book and ask "How about Tuesday evening?"

It is amusing to think of Ellwood P. Dowd taking painless invitations seriously, but there is nothing at all amusing in contemplating that God might take us seriously too. The words we speak so effortlessly in our churches or in the privacy of our own room, they are dangerous invitations.

The Prophet Jeremiah was much disturbed with the same situation in Judah. The people trusted in deceptive words of worship and ritual. God didn't want words from his people, he wanted realities. What he wanted was not pious words but righteous lives. "Amend your ways and your doings," he demanded. Back up your words with deeds.

There's an old saying about insincerity: "Put your money where your mouth is." God doesn't want painless invitations, insincere rituals and words of worship. He wants to see our commitment as well as hear it. He wants us put out lives where our words are.

It happened while I was hiking in the mountains . . . suddenly I came into a clearing and saw the crumbling foundations of what had once meant shelter and protection for a pioneer family. Rugged mountains surrounded the decayed dwelling on three sides. But in front there opened a panorama across a valley which in all its beauty held me spellbound.

I turned and noticed a small old-fashioned rose bush which seemed to reminisce with yesterday beside the moldering stoop. I could feel the presence of those long-ago people. How they must have loved this place. The woman had tended flowers and vegetables here, had borne her babies and had helped her man carve a life from the wilderness.

What was their secret . . . these pioneer people? Where did they find the courage and confidence needed to face the privations and dangers of primitive living? God was their refuge and strength. Their love of Him illumined their lives, and goodness graced their days.

Just so today, God and His Church are the source of all bounty, greatness, and joy. They are yours for the asking.

Facts and Fallacies About Hay Fever

If you feel like fighting with your spouse or your boss, don't do it—if you have hay fever. These and other curiosities are contained in a new booklet about hay fever facts and fallacies.

Sufferers and Friends

Titled, "How Much Do You Know About Hay Fever?", the pamphlet is available free to sufferers, to relatives and friends of sufferers, and to those of us who would like to learn more about one of the most miserable allergies that has ever scourged mankind.

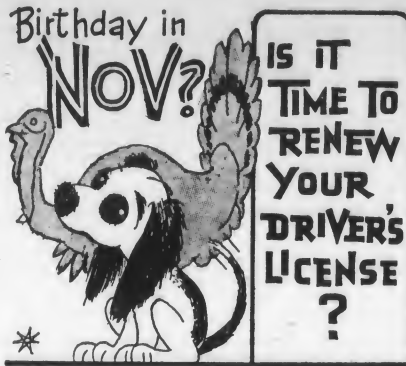

The booklet is available by writing to Coryban-D Consumer Services, Roerig Division of Chas. Pfizer & Co., 235 East 42nd St., New York 10017.

Afflicts Millions

Hay fever starts with the first budding of plants and trees in Spring and lasts through the first real frost. It afflicts more than seven and a half million American men, women and children, and can lead to serious consequences such as asthma.

The booklet lists a number of statements to test your knowledge of hay fever. Here are a few examples.—Are they true or false?

1. Hay fever suffering is aggravated by:
  - a) emotional tension or arguing
  - b) drinking alcohol
  - c) fatigue
  - d) spicy foods
  - e) swimming in chlorinated pools
  - f) smoking.
2. If you suspect you have hay fever, see your physician. (Answers are all true.)

Number of food-marketing workers has not risen in the last 10 years, despite the large increases in food volume and services provided.

In 1965, restaurant meals cost 18 percent more than 1957-59; grocery store food prices were up 7 percent for the same period.

WORKING FOR THE KENTUCKY TOBACCO INDUSTRY

Senator John Sherman Cooper is the burley tobacco expert on the Senate Agriculture Committee, and tobacco growers know that he works hard for their program. They know that Senator Cooper is responsible for price support at 90 per cent of parity. And they know that Kentucky tobacco is worth over $100 million more today than when Senator Cooper first went to Washington in 1947.

Why do Kentucky's leading newspapers support Constitutional revision?

"Constitution aids farmers"

"... The revision will aid the progress of the state's total agricultural industry as well as the overall economy... The farmer is given a special tax break he does not have under the present Constitution. In addition, farmers, like other taxpayers, can save millions in school taxes—since the cost of school construction financing can go down under the Revised Constitution... (Under the revised constitution) The State Department of Agriculture can be strengthened to provide better services to farmers through career leadership..."

GLEANER & JOURNAL, Henderson, Ky.

"Entire text of Constitution is submitted to vote of people"

"We have been questioned as to the reason for the charter being submitted in its entirety. The answer is that this method makes it possible for voters to know exactly what will be contained in the new document... It may not be a perfect document, but it is 100 percent improvement over the antiquated charter designed in 1891."

REGISTER, Richmond, Ky.

"Facts win converts for revision"

"Having all the facts can make a lot of difference. A case in point is the Kentucky Municipal League's decision to support the proposed new state constitution, reversing a position taken last May... Those who joined in reversing the league's position in this important matter see the issue in its true light and through intelligent eyes. We believe the majority of voters will do likewise when they go to the polls November 8, provided enough arm themselves with the facts beforehand."

LOUISVILLE TIMES, Louisville, Ky.

"A vast improvement"

"... We do not doubt the integrity of a single individual who participated in the deliberations of the (Constitutional revision) Assembly... We believe that most citizens, when they have read and comprehended what is in the document, will feel as we do that it is good, that it is a vast improvement on the old constitution, and that it should be adopted..."

SUN-DEMOCRAT, Paducah, Ky.

"A better school system and free of politics"

"... The proposed constitution provides for an elected non-partisan (school) board to sit and then appoint a school superintendent. Education would be his only concern. And Kentucky schools... would move faster. Educators agree, Democrats and Republicans alike, that the proposed non-partisan system would do much to eliminate the heavy hand of politics from Kentucky Education."

PROGRESS, Dawson Springs, Ky.

"Divorcing education from politics"

"One of the most desirable features of the modernized constitution offered Kentuckians is its divorcement of public education from partisan politics..."

LOUISVILLE TIMES, Louisville, Ky.

"Clearly worded, readily understood"

"... This newspaper is convinced that the interests of Kentuckians will best be served by adopting the new basic law to replace the 75-year-old constitution of 1891... There will be many more discussions and interpretations before election day. But there is no substitute for first-hand knowledge and the new document is clearly worded and readily understood."

INDEPENDENT, Ashland, Ky.

"Needs to be modernized"

"... The present constitution of the State of Kentucky was... framed to suit that era (1891) and, like the modes and methods of that time, it has served its usefulness and needs to be modernized..."

SUN, Springfield, Ky.

"The revised charter offers a new chance for Kentucky"

"This newspaper does, indeed, support the proposed revision of the constitution. It represents for Kentucky an opportunity the state cannot afford to miss... (The Revised Constitution) is the result of two years of hard, dedicated, unpaid effort by an assembly of Kentuckians which included many of the state's outstanding minds—men skilled in law and commerce, farming and education, men representing small towns, cities and rural regions, men of all religions, both parties, Negro and white, labor and management, men working with one and only one thing in mind—to give Kentucky a better Constitution than she has, one that will help Kentucky not only catch up with other states but go ahead..."

THE COURIER-JOURNAL, Louisville, Ky.

"Strong statewide support appearing for revision of state Constitution"

"... One factor, we think, in the rising support for (constitutional) revision is the frankness with which the Kentuckians for a Better Constitution and other leaders are conducting the revision campaign. They are urging everyone to read the proposed changes, they are explaining the revision honestly and openly, they are inviting critical study... This is the kind of campaign that appeals to intelligent voters, and they are responding by giving the proposed revision their endorsement and active support."

HERALD-LEADER, Lexington, Ky.

Thinking voters will say "YES" to Constitutional Revision November 8th.

Local School Future Discussion Nov. 28

Will the Walton-Verona Independent Schools remain an independent school system? Do we need a new building program? What about taxes? 2 What does the State Department of Education recommend?

Arthur Doggett, Chairman of the Walton-Verona Board of Education, will moderate a panel discussion on "What Is the Future of the Walton-Verona Schools?" at the next P.T.A. meeting, to be held Monday, November 28, in the gymnasium of the Walton-Verona High School.

This will be one of the most vital subjects ever discussed at a P.T.A. meeting and involves every resident of this school district. There will be a question and answer session, at the end of the panel discussion.

Some move must be made in the near future in some direction and the future of your schools is still in your hands, said John Shoemaker, principal. Come out and find out what the possibilities are. Your presence is very much desired.

The first section is expected to be completed next February and is to employ 15 persons. The firm manufactures waste treatment and pumping equipment.

Mr. Jump, a native and resident of Grant County, said the company's building program has been moved up because of a large volume of orders on hand. The national headquarters of the firm is located in the Florence Industrial Park.

Storm Interrupts R. E. C. C. Service

Electrical service to nearly 90% of the cooperative's member-customers of the Owen County R. E. C. C. was disrupted by an unusually early snow storm, accompanied by high winds that whipped lines together, twisting the wire between spans, breaking off poles.

All available man power was pressed into service. Crews worked around the clock, battling the deep drifts of snow and the sub-freezing wind to restore service to consumers along the 2800 miles of line it operates.

Four crews of men were called in from neighboring Harrison Rural Electric to help restore service in Grant County. Main lines were in operation by late Friday or early Saturday with some individual outages not receiving service until late Saturday.

Officials of the cooperative said that this freakish pre-winter storm affected service to more consumers than any previous storm in the history of the Co-op.

S/Sgt. Ronnie King

Grant county has a new war hero. He is S/Sgt. Ronald W. King, son of Mr. and Mrs. George King, Taft Highway, near Dry Ridge, who slipped in quietly and without fanfare last week to visit his relatives and friends. No one congratulated him for receiving the award of a Bronze Star with "V" device for valor. No one knew about it and "the boy" they remembered, now full grown, was not the type to tell them.

It was not until this month that headquarters of the Third Brigade Task Force of the U. S. Infantry division, still fighting the Viet Cong in faraway Vietnam, found the award of a Bronze Star with "V" device for valor. No one knew about it and "the boy" they remembered, now full grown, was not the type to tell them.

It was not until this month that headquarters of the Third Brigade Task Force of the U. S. Infantry division, still fighting the Viet Cong in faraway Vietnam, found the award of a Bronze Star with "V" device for valor. No one knew about it and "the boy" they remembered, now full grown, was not the type to tell them.

Announcement with the award read:

"For heroism in connection with military operations against a hostile force: Sergeant King distinguished himself by heroic actions on July 30, 1966, in the Republic of Vietnam. On this date, while manning a security outpost, Sergeant King and one comrade observed 6 enemy troops emerging from a ravine and immediately started firing on them. Sergeant King then began advancing on the enemy by fire and maneuver. The enemy broke contact and tried to run away, but Sergeant King continued in pursuit.

"Two of the enemy dropped to the ground trying to stop his advance and to cover their fleeing comrades. Sergeant King, however, overran the enemy's gun position killing the crew and capturing the gun.

"This outstanding display of determination, devotion to duty, magnificent and inspirational personal bravery is in keeping with the highest traditions of the Military Service and reflects great credit upon Sergeant King, his unit, and the Armed Forces of the United States."

The order was signed by Major R. F. Levergood, adjutant.

It took the army almost three months from time of the action to get around to processing the paper work.

On the following day, July 31, S/Sgt. King received another medal but not one envied by his comrades of the 25th division. He received the purple heart—a designation of injury.

A bullet from a Viet Cong machine gun hit the Grant county sergeant's right hand, crushing several bones. He was not otherwise hurt and given medical attention at a field hospital.

He was flown to Japan, where his hand received excellent medical care. A pin was inserted through the hand and now the bones are knitting together and King says he has almost as much strength in the hand now as he ever did.

He has been on convalescent leave for several days now and resides with his wife, the former Carole Puckett of Walton, in Florence.

The sergeant was to leave later this week for the hospital at Fort Knox, where he expected to be given another convalescent leave until his hand was healed enough for a possible discharge from service.

He plans to enroll later at the University of Kentucky and study for a veterinary medicine degree.—From the Grant Co. News

The Unarmed Victor

Lesson For November 13, 1966

Background Scripture: Jeremiah 26.

Devotional Reading: Psalm 119:95-96

The opponents of truth always seem to be by far the better-armed warriors. The foes of Paul and his gospel had the whole weight of the Roman Empire and the Jewish nation behind them. Galileo was a tiny minority of one before the combined colossus of Church and State. While volume after volume was thrown upon the sinister bonfires of Nazi Germany, no one seemed able to oppose Hitler's brown-shirted legions.

So it was when Judah's King Jehoiakim determined to silence the troublesome prophet Jeremiah, and his prophecies. All the power seemed arrayed against truth, its few friends impotent to carry on the fight. Jeremiah, the king ruled, was forbidden to speak any longer in the area of the temple.

More Than Prudent

A prudent man would have quit right there, but Jeremiah was more loyal to his God than prudently responsive to good reason. Forbidden to speak the truth in public, he wrote it on a scroll and gave it to Baruch, his secretary, to read before the ministers of the king. Equally resourceful, the king cut the scroll into strips and contemptuously burned them. Undismayed, Jeremiah wrote his prophecies on another scroll. Scrolls and books may be burned, but truth, no matter how impotent it may seem in its own self-defense, will be the ultimate victor.

In Pasternak's novel, Doctor Zhivago, Uncle Kolia protests that what man needs is not suppression by force, not the lion tamer with his whip to hold down "the beast who sleeps in man." To the contrary, he says, "... what has for centuries raised man above the beast is not the cudgel but an inward music: the irresistible power of unarmed truth, the powerful attraction of its example."

(C 1958 by Pantheon Books, Inc., N. Y., Div., of Random House.)

Truth may appear to be unarmed — and it is in the usual sense of what we mean by "arms" and "weapons" — but it perseveres with an irresistible power over which no man, nation, or civilization can ultimately prevail. We may silence the prophets, we may burn their books, we may crush truth to earth again and again, but it will rise again and again because it is God's truth.

To Suffer A Season

Men of courageous loyalty, therefore, will link themselves to unarmed truth and suffer with it for a season, even a lifetime, because they know it must ultimately prevail in God's good time. Woodrow Wilson once said, "I would rather fail in a cause I know must ultimately succeed, than succeed in a cause I know must ultimately fail." A farmer put it more picturesquely: "I'd rather chase a rabbit and not catch it, then chase a skunk and catch it." Better to suffer with and for the unarmed truth than prosper with the powerful lie.

Truth may seem to stand alone, a frail, impotent creature, but behind truth there stands the awesome power and purpose of God. That is why in the long run this unarmed warrior is the victor.

Friends of Abraham Lincoln advised him not to make a particular speech during his unsuccessful bid for the United States Senate in 1858. The speech, though true, would be harmful to him, they said. But Lincoln would not agree: "If it is decreed that I go down because of this speech, then let me go down linked to the truth."

The friends of truth must be willing to "go down linked to the truth," to pay the price of this friendship may require. Jeremiah was such a friend, so was Baruch, and so were the king's ministers who bravely carried to him the forbidden scroll. The contents of the scroll would likely infuriate him and jeopardize their lives, but, confident that truth would ultimately prevail, they were loyal friends of this unarmed warrior. Are you?

to Jerry Binder at First Christian Church, Covington, October 29, was a beautiful ceremony. We want to wish this couple the very best of everything. Edward Binder of Latonia Lakes is in St. Elizabeth Hospital. He underwent surgery last week.

HERB'S HANGOUT

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

An alley off Grover Street... headquarters for a "big operation." This is Herb's hangout. And Herb is "the boss!"

Here the kids report for their assignments. Here the loot is divided. Here strategy is mapped out for the next foray against a rival gang.

An alley off Grover Street... and while a proud community hardly lifts an eyebrow, tomorrow's underworld is growing, flourishing.

Two blocks away is old Trinity Church with its Sunday School, its Youth Fellowship, its dedication to God. What a difference old Trinity could have made in Herb's life; what character might have been molded among the boys who are now "Herb's gang!"

But Herb's folks and the parents of the other boys are among the millions of Americans who are unchurched.

LET'S TALK CATTLE FEEDING

Yes, this is a good time for you to ask us... "If these were your cattle, how would you feed and handle them?" We believe we can give you an honest answer based on Purina Research work and local feedlot and farmers' records. We are interested in your FINAL INCOME... not in just selling you a ton of cheap feed. We want you for a good Purina Chow customer this year, next year and every year. So, come in and let's talk cattle feeding and cattle wintering.

STOP THE FEED ROBBERS

Even though you may not realize it, 75% to 90% of the cattle in America have worms. They are little worms, about the size of an eyelash. It doesn't seem like these little worms could cause much damage. But research tests show that worms in the average feedlot steer will consume about $2.20 worth of feed per month. As long as they are present, they slow down growth and rob your pocketbook. KILL THESE ROBBERIES by worming your cattle with new Purina Worm Kill Checkers. It does not throw cattle off feed. You can worm pregnant animals. It kills both the mature and immature worms in your cattle. Check with us on how little it costs to worm YOUR CATTLE.

TURN THOSE STALKS INTO POUNDS

A lot of farmers run feeder calves in their stalk fields. BUT stalks and "down" corn don't provide the balanced nutrition the calves need to maintain their weight and condition. Cattlemen are fast finding out that the easiest way to supply this nutrition is to feed protein-fortified PURINA RANGE CHOW BLOCKS. And here's why cattlemen go for Range Chow Blocks: Easy to handle...saves time—feed about once a week...weather resistant—should hold together in all kinds of weather...easy to store...gives equal chance to all cattle—smaller and timid cattle aren't crowded out. Turn those stalks into pounds. Call us right away and place your order for Purina Range Chow Blocks.

CASH IN ON FUTURE HIGH MILK PRICES

Now...we have an all-new Purina calf growing ration, tailor-made to help you take greater advantage of future favorable milk prices by getting heifers in the milk string sooner. It's NEW Purina Calf Grower, a specially formulated dry calf ration to help you grow herd replacements fast, breed them early, freshen them between 22 and 24 months...to take advantage of high milk prices. Calf Grower helps you feed calves at low cost from two to six months, yet gives them the protein and energy they demand. It's fortified with vitamins and minerals growing calves need. Calf Grower is a sweet and tasty coarse ration too...the kind calves really clean up. Come in...check the price...you'll be surprised.

Richwood Man Is A Walnut Grower

In the November issue of Our Heritage, published by the Department of Natural Resources, Frankfort, we found an article about a local man who is a walnut grower.

The gentleman in question is Sterling Rouse, 78, of Richwood Road, Walton. He and his wife, Beulah, started the State's first nut tree nursery more than 30 years ago on a farm they sold in 1960 to make way for the Greater Cincinnati Airport. They now own Pleasant Acres Nut Nursery on Richwood Road.

Mr. Rouse, a black walnut specialist, said the trees are easy to grow. "You plant the nuts in the ground where you want them to grow, as soon as they drop off the mature trees in the fall."

Mr. Rouse said it wasn't necessary to hull the nuts, but he does so when sprouting them either in wet sawdust or sand. He keeps them in an underground fruit cellar until the warm weather in May.

This gentleman specializes in a Carpathian English walnut. He has won first prize with his English walnuts for five straight years at the Kentucky State Fair. Mr. Rouse also grows six other varieties of black walnuts. He said the trees bear nuts in only three years.

HUNTING SEASON OPEN

Cautious optimism is the guideline for Kentucky's quail and rabbit hunters as the opening date, today, arrives. It is predicted to be a better quail and rabbit hunting season than was available last year.

As usual the season for these two species opens on the third Thursday in November and continues through January 31, an extension of 15 days over previous seasons.

The bag limits are unchanged from last year. The rabbit hunter may bag eight per day or have 16 in possession after two or more days, and the quail hunter will be able to take 10 per day or have 20 in possession after two or more days in the field.

Master Plan For Big Bone Park Released

The Master Plan for the development of Big Bone Lick State Park in Boone County, was released in Frankfort, Monday. A local group was in Frankfort to inspect said plans, and Representative Dan J. Roberts showed us a copy Monday evening. It is quite elaborate and includes features we had not heard of before. A resume of the plans follows:

Besides the water and sewerage facilities, roadways, camping sites, etc., at the entrance of the park would be a full-size statue of a trumpeting mastodon. There would also be a herd of giant buffalo being stalked by an Indian under a buffalo skin, and beside the wildlife lagoon, a herd of mastodon would be seen lumbering out of the past.

After crossing Big Bone Creek, a museum of natural history will be found, explaining the mystery of the disappearing fauna following the last Ice Age, more than 10,000 years ago.

In the area south of the walk-in diorama exhibit, is the "Big Marsh," where there is to be the major diorama exhibit, which is to include a giant sloth of 10,000 B. C., having the weight of 1,500 pounds. There will also be the muskox extinct for 10 centuries), a tapir, a mammoth and other pre-historic animals.

Toward the exit at the southwest corner of the park is planned an Indian lodge of 1,000 years ago.

It is reported that the animals would be constructed of fiber glass and/or plastic, which would withstand the flooding of the area.

The present park acreage is not adequate, but additional acreage seems to be possible.

The park would have a great potential for attracting visitors interested in natural history situated as it is at the hub of three large metropolitan areas, including Kentucky, Ohio and Indiana.

Cooper and Snyder Win Congress Seats

Last Tuesday's election is pretty old stuff by now, but we give some of the results for our readers who may not have gotten the results locally.

The Republicans did quite well, electing a U. S. Senator and seat in the House of Representatives. The winners were John Sherman Cooper, incumbent, who defeated John Y. Brown quite easily, and Gene Snyder, who was elected to the House.

Walton-Verona Basketball Notes

BEARCATS VICTORIOUS

Much to the delight of the many fans who accompanied them, the Walton-Verona High School Basketball team began their 1966-67 season with an impressive victory over St. Thomas, Wednesday evening November 9th.

Participating in the NKIAC Tournament at St. Henry in Elsmere, Coach Jim Taylor's Bearcats were able to retain a short lead late in the final stages of the game to squeeze out a 54-52 triumph.

A very close game point-wise, both teams held small leads during the course of the contest.

Marvin Portwood led the W-V team, ripping the nets with 18 points and grabbing 18 rebounds. The St. Thomas Tomcats made a final drive late in the fourth quarter to narrow the edge to a very slim 2 points. An all court zone press exhibited by the taller squad was a contributing factor to the closeness of the game.

Coach Taylor, ably assisted by Reed Tyler and Wendell Tillery, used only six men in this their initial contest. — Marksberry replaced Portwood for a short period when Marvin was charged with 3 personal fouls. Cliff also contributed two field goals for 4 points.

Schulte led St. Thomas with 17 points. With only 3 seconds remaining to play the Tomcats called time-out to confer with coach Shields about a final game-tying play. This play never materialized as the Bearcat defense would not be shaken.

W-V scoring: Poore 3-3-9; Yates 3-3-8; Arlinghouse 3-0-6; Portwood 8-2-18; Chipman 4-1-9; Marksberry 2-0-4; totals 23-10-54. St. Thomas: Schulte 6-5-17; Padgett 4-1-9; Schroder 0-0-0; M. Clark 1-0-2; Hagedorn 6-2-14; Derig 0-0-0. Totals 17-8-17-8-52.

Area Agent's 1/2 Acre

—by— Joe Claxton

Use care in stripping tobacco crops this year. The crop was harvested later than normal this year, some places as much as 4 weeks later. Many crops still are curing out. We have seen a good many fat stems in barns this season. This tobacco should not be stripped out until the stems are dry and the crop is ready for such stripping.

Deliveries to market will start in mid-November, which means Kentucky farmers have plenty of time to strip their crops and sell them this season. The market will be open on January, 1967 and it is expected to be good that month.

Don't hurry to strip a crop not ready for it just because market delivery dates or selling dates are fairly close. Much of the present crop is still finishing out in the curing process.

Pickle production in the U. S. has been in the northern states, but now is moving south into Ky. It is the number one process vegetable in the U. S. and is on an increase. Kentucky grew three thousand acres in 1965 and there is a need for five thousand acres in 1967.

Pickles are raised on contract with reliable company located in Kentucky. The income can be about the same as tobacco per acre. Last year in Kentucky, some growers received six hundred to eight hundred gross, others one thousand to fourteen hundred, which was good. Some completely goofed, with no gross. Pickles are like tobacco—take care of them and grow them right, then the income is good.

It takes about 300 man hours per acre, with 35-45 dollars for the seed, fertilizer, etc. They are sold by the hundred pounds and in five grades; but to make a success, you must have the two top grades.

For further information, contact your county Extension agent. There will be a meeting in northern Kentucky for all those interested in growing pickles.

Contract Let to Build Dam at Big Bone Park

Hawkins & Robinson Co., Frankfort, has been awarded a $54,742 contract to build a dam at Big Bone Lick State Park in Boone County. The dam will create a water supply for the park.

On a recent visit to Northern Kentucky, Governor Edward T. Breathitt was shown the site by Boone County Judge Bruce Ferguson and other area leaders. The 7-acre lake is part of a $400,000 Big Bone Park Improvement program announced by the governor during his visit here.

Holiday Ham

FOR HOLIDAYS or special occasions, juicy baked ham with delicious honey glaze is a true taste treat.

BAKED HAM A.1.

- 1 pre-cooked ham (10-12 lbs.)
- 3/4 cup honey
- 1/4 cup water
- 2 tsp. A.1. Sauce
- 2 tsp. lemon juice
- 1/2 cup red cinnamon candy
- 1 bunch watercress
- 1 jar spiced peaches

Score ham with diamond pattern, place on heavy duty foil in baking pan. Mix honey, water, A.1., lemon juice, candy in separate pan. Bring to boil, simmer until candy dissolves. Pour half of mixture over ham, form foil loosely around ham so juices are retained. Bake at 350°, 10-15 min. per lb.

It's Corn Meal Treat Time

Old Southern cooks who spent their days in the kitchen used to be the only ones who held the secret of corn bread. Now the busiest homemaker can bake homemade corn meal muffins, corn bread and even corn fritters in the time it takes to set the table and call the family to dinner.

Prepare corn meal batter from self-rising corn meal, refrigerate it and then bake it... up to three days later. The leavening action is held in check until the instant the batter meets the heat of the oven or skillet.

The new leavening agent, a product of Monsanto Company, is the modern baking secret. Hush puppies for dinner? Pancakes or hot cakes? With prepared batter in the refrigerator, they are quick, easy and just as delectable as the old Southern cooks used to make.

- Corn Sticks or Corn Muffins
- 1 1/2 cups self-rising corn meal mix
- or self-rising corn meal
- 1 1/2 cups milk
- 1 egg
- 2 tablespoons melted butter, shortening, or cooking oil
- Sugar may be added to taste

Generously grease 12 corn stick molds or muffin tins and place in oven while preheating to 450°. Mix milk, egg and butter in a two-quart bowl. Add self-rising corn meal mix and blend until smooth. Pour batter into a closable pitcher or other container for use and storage. The batter can be kept in this type of container and stored in the refrigerator for up to three days. This simplifies the preparation of delicious corn sticks over busy weekends and during last minute dinner planning. Fill the preheated molds or tins approximately 3/4 full with fresh or stored batter. Bake 15 to 20 minutes at 450° or until a golden crust forms. Serve hot with plenty of butter and stand back!

MILK MARKET NEWS

Prices for fluid milk averaged almost 8% above a year earlier during January through June, 1966. Manufacturing grade milk prices climbed
40c per cwt. or 12% higher than a year ago.
According to economists, favorable prices for milk are expected to continue. The milk price trend looks real good for dairymen. NOW what you need is more milk per cow. HOW do you get more milk? One sure way to increase milk production is to top feed Purina Golden Bulky or have us mix it into your milking ration. Another way is to find out the new ways Purina Research has discovered to increase milk production following proven feeding programs.A NEW STAR FROM PURINA RESEARCHDairymen, have you heard? There's a new star in Purina's Calf Growing Program. It's called Purina Calf Growena and it's now available at our store. Based on recent findings that show calves need increased protein and energy during their first six (6) months, Purina Research has developed new Calf Growena. This is a 16% protein ration with an improved protein-energy balance. It's fortified with essential minerals and vitamins. It's sweet and coarse...the way young calves like a ration to be. The NEW Purina Calf Growing Program is better because it now satisfies the need for protein when the growing calves need it most. The new program actually lowers the cost of raising herd replacements while getting them into the milking string sooner.

THE COW IS A MILK FACTORY

You know each cow is a milk factory. The feed she eats helps to determine how much milk she produces and how efficiently she produces it.
And you know that feeding a quality ration and following a complete dairy program goes a long way toward helping increase production. We now have in stock and ready for your ration new Purina Dairy Concentrate 44%. It's a high efficiency, palatable supplement to mix with your grain. It's much higher than soybean, cottonseed or linseed meal in minerals and digestibility. It's high in Vitamin A and D. Helps cows produce lots of milk at low cost. Let us show you how little it takes to build a high-quality low-cost milking ration with Purina

VITAMIN SHORTAGE

If you're bringing cattle in off of a brown, burned up pasture, or if you're wintering your cows and feeder cattle on low quality roughage...
Watch Out! Vitamin shortage can creep up on your cattle almost overnight. Prevent vitamin shortage this winter by mixing Purina Cattle
Plus in your rations. Fed as directed, Purina Cattle Plus adds 50,000 units of vitamin A and 10,000 U.S.P. Units of Vitamin D2 to rations consumed by each animal daily. It helps prevent foot rot and lumpy jaw. It also stimulates growth and promotes good health. Place your order now...or better yet, have us mix Purina Cattle Plus right in your rations to help prevent vitamin shortage in your cattle this winter.PURINA

Broadleaf weeds and chickweed in lawns need control work now. Broadleaf weeds: Apply treatment only if temperature is above 45 degrees F. However, if unseasonably hot days occur this fall, it might be wise to wait until cooler days—there is less danger of injury to desirable plants from some materials when temperatures are lower.

For general control, use 2,4-D or a combination of 2,4-D and 2,4,5-T. These are sold in quart or pint containers under various trade names. Check labels for application directions.

Chickweed: For this pest, use the material with the killing agent silvex in it. Many commercial materials are available under various names that contain silvex. Banvel-D mixed with 2,4-D or Silvex mixed with 2,4-D also can be used. Again, these combinations are available under various trade names. Follow label directions.

Treatment for broadleaf weeds or chickweed should go only on established lawns. Never put these materials on young, short grass in new lawns.

Kentucky farm land values—average price per acre—increased at a slower rate for the year prior to March 1, 1966. The increase was about 3.4 percent. Nationally the rate of increase was about 8 percent.

The increase was the lowest rate since the year 1956. The analysis is in a special release of the economics department this week. Of the 3.4 percent increase in the subject year, a good chunk of the jump was between November 1965 and March 1, 1966. Between March 1, 1964 and March 1, 1965, the increase was about six percent.

In the nation, largest rates of increase were in the Delta states, about 14 percent, and the Corn Belt, 11 percent. The Appalachian Region's states had about the same increase as Kentucky, except Tennessee and Virginia, where increases were 8 and 10 percent, respectively.

Farm land values in Kentucky probably will increase at a slightly higher annual rate for 1966 than for last year. Largest increases probably will be in western Kentucky. From November 1964 to November 1966, farm land values in Kentucky increased about 98 percent. Higher increases seemed to be around large urbanized centers.

Veterans Administration Questions and Answers

Q—I am a service connected veteran injured during the time of the Berlin airlift. Can I borrow $2,000 under the new GI Bill to help start a shoe repair business?

A—No. Business loans are not included in the new GI Bill. But you are eligible for vocational rehabilitation training to help prepare you for a gainful occupation. See your nearest VA Regional Office.

Q—I receive regular treatment and medicine from the Veterans Administration for my service-connected disability. I plan to travel overseas for about six months. Is there any way I can get medical care or medicines if I need them on my trip?

A—Yes. The Veterans Administration provides such care and medicines for service-connected disabled veterans everywhere possible. Just contact the nearest U. S. State Department, Embassy, Consulate or Legation.

Q—I'm in college under the GI Bill. I heard that I do not have to send in a certificate of attendance to get my first allowance check. What about the second, third, fourth, etc.?

A—The certificate of enrollment returned to VA by the college is sufficient for the mailing of the first check. Subsequent checks will be sent after you send in your monthly certificate of attendance.

Since 1954, 145 million tons of U. S. food have gone to people all over the world.

U. S. farm hired-worker wage rates increased 25 percent from 1957-59 to 1965.

TAYLOR MILL

Ernest J. Ryle, Reporter

Carlos Petty was a caller on this reporter during the weekend, trying to find some black walnuts—pretty scarce this year.

I guess we shouldn't mention this, but it took two of Charley Dorsey's potatoes to weigh three pounds. They were rather small this year.

The Tower had quite a fire recently when the Harris Shop was burned to the ground. Seven autos were burned in the shop and on the lot nearby. Explosion of antifreeze made quite a spectacular blaze for several hours.

The blizzard which blew in on us Wednesday took everyone by surprise, including the weatherman, who said flurries of snow, but here in Taylor Mill we had about eight inches of flurries—which ain't hay.

Sorry to hear of the death of Mrs. Lillian Riegler of Staffordsburg Road, who suddenly took sick Wednesday but was dead on arrival at the hospital. Her husband Carl, died four years ago.

Glad to report our neighbor, Mr. Matthews, has recovered from his illness and is back at work.

The Colston Trucking Co. hauled three fine Angus steers to market last week. We don't know just what they brought him but we know he hurried over to his bank fearing that the crime wave might hit Jones Road when they heard of it. Well, Bob Mathis always was smart enough to keep his big money in the bank.

Carlos Petty of Independence, was on the sick list several days last week, but is back on his job now. It's hard to keep a good man down.

Glad to hear that Mrs. Sam Howard is betting along nicely at St. Elizabeth Hospital and will probably be home soon.

Veterans Administration Questions and Answers

Q—The new GI Home Loan interest rate is 6 percent. But I understand there is some kind of insurance fee on top of that. What is it?

A—There is a fee on a Veterans Administration guaranteed or insured loan that amounts to one-half of one percent. That is paid on the amount of the loan. It is paid only once. Not every month.

Q—Last January my GI Insurance premium was waived because of a disability. Yet the other day I received a dividend check. Should I return it?

A—No. Keep it. It is yours. A waiver of premium on a GI participating policy is not a bar to dividends.

Q—If I attend school, under the new GI Bill less than half time, will I receive any benefits?

A—Yes. You will be paid the rate of established charges for tuition and fee, not to exceed $50 if more than one-fourth to one-half time; not too exceed $25, if one-fourth time or less.

Some footprints on the sand of time are pointed the wrong way.

Back to Baking by Betty Crocker

Welcome back, hot breads. And hello again to versatile, piping-hot biscuits and muffins — perfect partners for autumn's hearty meals. For "quickie" variations to a batch of beautiful biscuits, try this sometime: Mix 1/2 cup shredded sharp cheddar with the batter — or 1/2 teaspoon celery salt. Superb with soups and stews! To put a little fun in the muffin pan, bake the oatmeal and corn varieties below. For fancy fall "muffs," polka-dot a basic muffin batter by folding in 1/4 cup halved cranberries, tossed with 1/4 cup confectioners' sugar. Just one thing. Wherever hot breads go, be sure they go hot — snugled into a pretty napkin.

Bake up a surprise for breakfast.

OATMEAL MUFFINS

2 tablespoons sugar*
1 egg
3/4 cup milk
2 cups Bisquick
1/2 cup rolled oats

Heat oven to 400°. Grease 12 muffin cups. Mix all ingredients until blended. Beat vigorously 30 seconds. Fill muffin cups 3/4 full. Bake 15 minutes. *For richer muffins, add 2 tablespoons melted shortening or salad oil and another 2 tablespoons sugar.

More Biscuit Variations: Follow favorite biscuit recipe except — mix in 1/4 cup shredded dried beef or stir in 1/4 cup minced chives or 1/2 cup chopped peanuts.

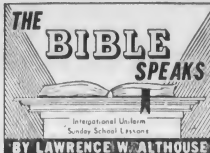

Here's autumn's corn flavored muffins for meat casseroles.

CORN MUFFINS or STICKS

1 tablespoon sugar
1 egg
1/2 cup milk
3/4 cup Bisquick
1/2 cup cornmeal

Heat oven to 450°. Mix all ingredients; beat vigorously 30 seconds. Fill well-greased muffin cups or preheated greased corn stick pans 3/4 full. Bake 12 to 15 minutes. Makes 6 muffins or 8 corn sticks.

French Bread for spaghetti? Spread slices with 1/4 cup butter creamed with 1 teaspoon poppy, caraway or sesame seed. Wrap in foil, heat 15 minutes in 400° oven. Left-over muffins or biscuits? Lucky you. Split, butter and toast under broiler. And you bring 'em back in style. Happy baking!

Prophet, Go Home!

Lesson For November 20, 1966

Background Scripture: 2 Kings 24:18, Jeremiah 29:1.
Devotional Reading: Romans 12:9-21.

Imagine that you are a member of a Christian minority in a land that has been overrun by the Communists. Although they have not succeeded in destroying the faith, their persecutions of the Church have taken a heavy toll. The faint-hearted have defected and the brave minority grows ever smaller and weaker. The word "revolt" begins to be heard frequently among the faithful.

Rev. Althouse faithful. Then an important letter arrives. It is from the exiled leader of the Church, a man greatly respected throughout the nation. The letter is smuggled through the Iron Curtain and a secret meeting of Church leaders is called to hear its counsel.

Unwanted Advice

What will the letter say? You hope that it will be a call for an unrelenting campaign of underground harassment, sabotage, and eventual revolt against the godless rulers of your land. You anticipate a ringing denunciation of the Church's enemies and a promise of God's help in throwing off the yoke of tyranny. Surely this is what God will say through this prophetic leader!

But he says none of this. The letter begins rather with an admission of guilt: your country is captive because it deserted God. It continues with unbelievable counsel: you and your fellow Christians are to settle down into a normal, peaceful pattern of life — there is to be no revolution. You are to work for the welfare of your nation as constructive citizens, even praying for it and its godless leaders. It counsels patience; this tyranny will not soon end. It closes with a promise: God will bring great good even out of this tragedy.

This is not the message you expected or wanted! You are indignant, disappointed, and furious with this man and his traitorous advice. What kind of Christian is he? Has he no faith? No patriotism?

All Part Of Plan

This is, of course, an imaginary situation. Perhaps, however, it may help us to understand how the exiled Jews in Babylon felt when they received Jeremiah's long-awaited letter. What they wanted from this prophet, who so often had proven correct, was encouragement and a call for resistance against their captors. Jeremiah did not tell them what they wanted to hear, but what he believed God had placed upon his heart: (1) It was God Himself who permitted them to be carried into exile; (2) "Build houses and live in them; plant gardens and eat their produce"; (3) "... seek the welfare of the city... and pray to the Lord, for in its welfare you will find your welfare"; (4) the captivity would last for no less than seventy years; (5) this was not an evil fate, but within the plan and purpose of the Lord. The letter exploded like a booby-trap!

How eagerly we wait for the word of God until we discover that the Lord, more often than not, sends us a message we do not want to hear. Like many who go to professional counselors, we ask for his help but what we want is not his counsel, but his blessing upon our own point of view. Even if we're on the wrong track, we want him to tell us we are on the right one.

The French critic, Vinet, once observed: "Most friends of truth love it as Frederick the Great loved music. It used to be said of him that, strictly speaking, he was not fond of music but of the flute, and not indeed of the flute but of his flute." Is it not that way in our friendship with truth: not truth, but our truth?

Prophet, go home! Do not confuse me with the truth. My mind is made up.

U. S. farmers spent approximately $3.5 billion for food in 1965 and $850 million for household furnishings.

Increased productivity of U. S. farmers has kept the rise in labor costs per unit of marketed food product to less than 10 percent in the last 9 or 10 years. Hourly wages of food marketing employees however has increased 26 percent in that period.

In 1965, U. S. consumers spent $77.6 billion for food products that originated on U. S. farms. Of this total, farmers got $25.5 billion; the remaining $52 billion went for the marketing services.

Fertilizer prices were down one percent from 1957-59 to 1965.

Between 1957-59 and 1965, prices of food purchased for home use increased 7 percent compared to an 18 percent rise in services' cost.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

How I had dreaded cleaning the attic! But it was all worth it after I found the picture of Nip and Tuck when they were puppies. I sat down there and then in the cold, dusty room and recalled the day when Bob brought them home to Carol. How she laughed and loved them and flung her arms around both our necks in excited gratitude. How much fun we three had, watching the cunning antics of the canine infants.

Nip is gone now, duly mourned and buried under our apple tree, and Tuck, gray and crotchety, limps if he moves too fast. Carol lives in Cincinnati in a happy home of her own, and I carry roses to the cemetery on the hill.

What a wonderful gift is memory. My days are rich with remembrances of the good life Bob and I had. How glad I am that we shared, not only a home, but also a love for God and His Church so that though now I am lonely, yet I am not alone.

How To Take A Bath—In French

BATHING just to get clean is passé. Take a tip from clever French women who turn their baths into glorious beauty spas. Here's the secret.

Coordinate perfume accessories to avoid clash of fragrance. Pour two capful of bath oil into pleasantly warm water (if too hot, it dries the skin). Lather in rainbow-bubbled clouds of matching scented soap. New-est is Coty's "Imprevu" French perfume bewitching rich bath oil and plump cakes of soap... good for your skin... even better for your psyche.

To shower, use the bath oil on your washcloth and stroke it over your body, then rinse. Dry with a heavenly fluffy towel. Spray toilet water from head to toe, pat on bath powder generously and apply perfume to the warm areas of the body. As enchanting fragrance drifts about you and you're "showered" with attention you'll know you've had a valuable French lesson at... a bas prix.

School Daze Are Here Again
Now I sit me down in school
Where praying is against the rule.
For this great nation, under God
Finds public mention of Him odd.
Any prayer a class recites,
Violates the Bill of Rights.
Anytime my head I bow,
Becomes a federal matter now.
Teach us of stars or pole and equator,
Make no mention of their Creator.
Tell of experts in Denmark or Sweden,
But not a word of what Eve did in Eden.
The law is specific, the law is precise,
Praying out loud is no longer nice.
Praying aloud in a public hall,
Upsets believers in nothing at all.
In silence alone can we meditate,
And if God should get the credit, Great!
This rule, however, has a gimmick in it,
You've got to be finished in less than a minute.
So all I ask is a minute of quiet,
If I feel like praying, then maybe
I'll try it.
If not O Lord, this plea I make,
Should I die in school my soul

Mrs. J. A. Keeney, Reporter

The George Fennell, Jr. family has had a bout with the virus. We hope they are all quite well again.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Richardson are visiting here with family and friends. They find quite a different climate from the Texas home.

Rev. and Mrs. S. B. Rucker visited with their daughter and also a son, both of whom were ill. Latest word is that both are improving.

This community was shocked recently by the sudden death of Mrs. Lillian Riegler. She was one of the best neighbors to be found in any neighborhood, always ready to share what she had or help out in time of trouble. She leaves one son and four daughters who will miss her greatly. We express our sympathy to the family.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Wolke paid a visit recently to their son, John, who is in training at Fort Knox. They reported that he is suffering from tonsillitis.

Mrs. Jimmie Bach is somewhat improved for several days. We hope and pray she will continue to get better.

WCS Met Last Tuesday

The WCS met on Tuesday evening at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Sanford Rucker with seven members and 3 guests present. Mrs. J. Shaw had charge of the program which stressed the needs of literature on the mission fields and among the newly literate people of the world. If we do not give them good reading materials, there are many subversive elements ready to supply the need. Several took part in the discussion.

The business session was conducted by the president, Mrs. D. Keeney.

Christmas baskets were planned for and boxes for boys in the armed service.

Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Rucker with Mr. Rucker and Sharon Parsons assisting.

Kenton County Garden Club

The Kenton County Garden Club met at the RECC auditorium on October 27 with Mrs. Wm. Straw as hostess. Miss Elma Taylor, president, opened the meeting by asking Miss Mary Margaret Stephens to give the devotional. She read from Psalms, also "Thoughts to live by" from the book by Dorothy Kopplin. To close this service, she also read "An Evening Prayer" by Peter Marshall.

A motion carried to send Miss Kathleen Kunkel $5.00 as a token of appreciation for the delightful travel pictures and talks on India.

Cards were sent to Mrs. Velma Pitcher and Mrs. Nellie Northcutt. The club received an announcement of a "School of Flower Design" to be held on November 25 at the Cincinnati Art Museum.

A letter was read concerning making Kentucky air ports attractive. Decided to wait for further information.

Next meeting with Mrs. Leone Stephens will be on Nov. 29. Following the business meeting we were privileged to have Mr. Stanley Kacaba to show slides and tell of experiences during 6 years spent in Alaska.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Robert Knox, served delicious refreshments to the following members and friends: Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Gabriel, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Damon, Mrs. Wesley Hall, Miss Elaine, Mrs. Russell Rohe and Timothy, Mr. William Straw, Mrs. Stella Richardson, Misses Elsie Hiteman, M. M. Stephens, Elma Taylor, Mary Jane Cooper, and Alice Jane Williams, Mrs. Forrest Popp and the secretary Mrs. Francis Keeney.

4-H'ers are learning to knit in one of the newest 4-H projects. Last year, several pilot projects were tried throughout the state. Boone County had one group in the Walton-Verona 4-H Club that really kept their needles clicking.

Mrs. William Gibson, Jr., served as a leader for twenty-five girls in the club. In the first year project, the girls made at least two articles such as a pot holder, slippers, or hat. Some of the girls were so interested that they completed simple sweaters, too. These knitted articles were exhibited at the Boone County 4-H and Utopia Fair.

We hope to see this project spread throughout the county. If your daughter is a 4-H'er and she would be interested in learning to knit, try to get a few other girls (five or so) and call me about organizing a project group. If you know of someone who knits and would be a leader, give me their name and I will contact them about being a leader.

The girls really enjoy the knitting project. Let's make it grow in Boone county.

Simon Kenton FHA November Meeting

The November meeting of the Simon Kenton Chapter of Future Homemakers of America was held on November 16 in the school cafeteria.

The secretary read the minutes of previous meetings and Dorothy Kaub gave the financial summary. Hand lotion is the chapter's money-making scheme for November. Bottles of hand lotion were on hand for members to use in obtaining orders. This is good lotion and would make nice Christmas stocking stuffers. Order your supply today from the FHA.

The Honor Roll report was given by the chairman, Cara Bagby. After which Mary Brown passed out the chapter program of work for 1966-67 to each member.

Home room representatives were announced by Theresa Morgan. They are as follows: Darlene Saylor, Debbie Bowling, Cindy Cheesman, Linda Thomas, Ausma Summer, Stephanie Jones, Cara Bagby, Liz Parris, Debbie Kemmer, Pam Bush, and Ann Harris.

The Scholarship Committee Chairman, Susan Schadler, reminded the girls of the bake sale to be held Nov. 18 to raise money for the scholarship fund.

The week of November 14-20 is FHA Good Citizenship Week at Simon Kenton. The FHA'ers are doing various good deeds for the school and students; the windshield of each car in the parking lot was washed on Monday; the lockers in the building were checked on Wednesday, and each were given a rating according to their neatness. Each teacher was given a bright, shiny apple and a coffee break on Tuesday and Thursday. Mrs. Kunkel, chapter mother, served at the coffee table. Mrs. Abell's Home Ec I class made delicious cookies and candies to be served. Linda Gray and her committee provided the coffee and arranged a lovely service table. A "no gripe, no gum day" was the order of the day Friday. Good Citizenship is stressed for the home on Saturday, and on Sunday each girl is asked to attend the church of her choice.

Rose Parker gave a report on the Fall District meeting, held October 8 at Owen County High. A very interesting account of the Field Trip, which the sophomore and senior FFA girls attended, was given by Doris Wicklund and Debbie Gilbert. The group went to Proctor & Gamble, and Taft Museum.

A basket of fruit was taken to Mr. George Edmondson, school principal. He is in the hospital and recently underwent surgery.

A program was presented by the chapter officers and Pat Kiser explained each officer's duty. Following this, a program on parliamentary procedure was presented by Lueada Cheek, Sue Wilson, and Ausma Summer.

There were 63 present. Two advisors, Mrs. Abell and Mrs. McElroy; the chapter mother, Mrs. Kunkel; the chapter beau, Warren Richardson, and two FFA guests, Mike White and Randall Hampton.

The meeting was then adjourned with the repeating of the creed. Refreshments followed.—Reporter

Bearcats Take Care Of Wolfe County

Cliff Marksberry contributed 12 points, 10 coming in the final period of play. Dale Chipman hit for three fielders in the third stanza.

The Bearcat victory can be attributed to their 12 consecutive markers at the beginning of the second period. Their drive confused the Wolves while they were trying to find a scoring opportunity.

Local Girl Starts Project

Miss Sonja Hon

Miss Sonja Hon, daughter of Mrs. Lucille Elliston of Verona, started a very worthy project in October at her place of employment, Blue Cross, in Cincinnati.

We reprint parts of an article which appeared in the Employee Newsletter of the company, dated October 28:

"Everybody wants to get into the act—the act of sending packages to our servicemen in Vietnam. It was started with one employee, Sonja Hon, statistics, sending a package to a friend in Vietnam. Now it has grown into a corporate-wide project.

"A committee, with Sonja as chairman, has placed cartons in different departments so that the employees may bring in items to be included in the packages."

At the time of the article, six packages had been mailed. Mrs. Elliston informed us that Sonja was visiting at Verona last weekend and reported the total of packages was now 77, as of Nov. 12. All mailed to Vietnam.

Many items were on the list of things that could be included in each package and donations of money were taken to help with postage. One item that went into each package sent was homemade candy or cookies. This was placed in empty coffee tins with plastic tops for safe sending.

Sonja is a Walton-Verona High School graduate, class of 1963. She lives in Cincinnati at present, to be near her employment.

Social Saturday Night

The Auxiliary of the Walton Volunteer Fire Department will sponsor their regular monthly social at the firehouse on Saturday, Nov. 26, at 8:00 p. m. The ladies invite everyone to be present and enjoy an evening of fun.

Panel Discussion at Next P.T.A. Meeting

Growth factors, facilities survey, tax structure, building program, and projected enrollment are some of the topics to be discussed by a panel consisting of the Walton-Verona Board of Education and school administration at the next PTA meeting to be held in the gym of the Walton-Verona High School, Monday, November 28, beginning at 7:30 p. m.

The Walton-Verona Schools have had an average gain of forty to fifty pupils per year for the past three years and the prospects are that this pupil increase will gain momentum due to several factors in the next few years. If we are to continue to develop the potential of our youth in our community steps must be taken to insure that adequate facilities are available to meet this challenge.

The Walton and Verona communities have a past history of meeting the needs of the youth in their communities and for many years provided the educational leadership for the area. The purpose of this meeting will be to present the problems and needs of our schools to the community so that they may make intelligent decisions in the future.

The greatest resources we have in our community is our young people. Come out to this meeting and show your interest in the education of our youth.

THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF WALTON, BOONE COUNTY, KENTUCKY, DOES ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. The City of Walton, Boone County, Kentucky, hereby grants and offers for sale to the successful bidder an exclusive franchise, consent, right and privilege, for a period of 20 years starting from the date of acceptance of the bid of the successful bidder, to construct, reconstruct, lay, erect, extend, operate, use, maintain, repair, replace and remove (hereinafter collectively referred to by the use of the words "install" or "installation") mains, pipes, apparatus, fixtures and equipment for the transmission and distribution of gas (hereinafter collectively referred to as "facilities") within, on, along, under and across the public streets, alleys, ways, places and grounds of the City (hereinafter referred to collectively as "public property"). The transmission of gas referred to above shall include the transmission of gas into, through and out of the City, as well as transmission terminating within the City. In any "installation" of "facilities," and in the exercise of its rights hereunder, the successful bidder shall conform to all lawful ordinances, rules and regulations not inconsistent with this franchise and shall not encumber "public property" by temporary obstructions or excavations of any longer than shall be necessary in the accomplishment of such purposes. In making any such project of the City (hereinafter referred to as "public property") on behalf of the party involved, unnecessarily damage or interfere with any work or sewer facilities then lawfully located on "public property." If, during the franchise period, it becomes reasonably necessary to construct, reconstruct, pave or repair any "public property" or construct, reconstruct or relocate sewer lines, water lines, or other utilities owned or leased by the City, located within the boundaries of "public property," in such manner that any of the "facilities" of the successful bidder shall interfere therewith, the successful bidder shall, on written request of the Mayor of the City, within a reasonable time after receiving such notice, move or relocate the same within the "public property" so as not to interfere therewith; but the successful bidder shall not be required at any time to terminate any service provided by its "facilities." Where any such moving or relocation of the successful bidder's "facilities" is reasonably required by any such project of the City done in its governmental capacity, such moving or relocation shall be done by it at its own expense, but where the same is reasonably required by the City acting in a proprietary capacity such moving or relocation shall be at the expense of the City.

Section 2. The successful bidder shall render gas service from its "facilities" to the City and its inhabitants at such rates and under such conditions as may be applicable and effective from time to time throughout the franchise period, as set forth in its filings with the Public Service Commission of Kentucky or any legally constituted body succeeding it in jurisdiction, and in the rules, regulations and service requirements thereof. The gas to be supplied shall be as received by the successful bidder from its source or sources of supply, both as to kind and quality, except as such gas may from time to time be modified or supplemented through the operation of its production plants.

Section 3. Each bid shall specify the rate tariffs which, until thereafter duly changed, shall be applicable to service rendered within the City.

Section 4. Any bidder not presently furnishing the service required under this franchise shall make a deposit as required under the provisions of K.R.S. 96.020.

Section 5. The successful bidder shall defend and indemnify the City against any suit or claim for any expense or liability whatsoever by reason of negligence attributable to the successful bidder, provided, however, that any expense or liability resulting from joint or concurring negligence attributable to the City and to the successful bidder shall be borne by the City and the successful bidder equally.

Section 6. In the event the successful bidder is unable to secure or rescure from other political subdivisions such rights as are necessary for the construction or operation of "facilities" reasonably needed to provide gas service to the City and its inhabitants, the successful bidder may, upon its giving of notice, be released from all obligations under this Ordinance during the remainder of the franchise period or until such rights are secured or rescured. In the event the successful bidder does not, as of the date of the passage of this Ordinance, maintain "facilities" in the City, such successful bidder shall commence the construction of the necessary "facilities" within 1 year after the acceptance of its bid or after receipt of any necessary authorization from the appropriate governmental agencies, whichever is later, and supply gas to the City and all of its inhabitants qualifying for the same within eighteen months after such date, or this franchise shall be void.

Section 7. The words successful bidder and his, its or their heirs, successors and assigns, each of which must, upon rendering service hereunder, be a "utility" providing gas service under K.R.S. 278.010 and any succeeding section. The word City, as used in this Ordinance, means the City of Walton, Boone County, Kentucky, its successors and assigns, as it now exists or hereafter may be changed through annexation, reduction of its boundaries, merger, consolidation or other similar proceeding.

Section 8. The City Clerk is hereby directed to advertise, as provided by law, for bids for the franchise provided for in Sections 1 through 10 of this Ordinance, such bids to be received by the City Council of the City at its regular meeting to be held at 7:30 P. M. on the 20th day of December, 1966. Each bid shall be sealed and marked "Bid for Gas Franchise" and shall be opened by the City Council at its said regular meeting. The City Council shall have the right to reject any and all bids.

Section 9. This Ordinance and the bid accepted by the City Council of the City shall, upon passage of the Ordinance accepting the bid, constitute a contract between the City and the person, firm or corporation to which the franchise is awarded.

Section 10. This Ordinance shall be effective at the earliest time allowed by law.

Passed this 15th day of November, 1966.

Handle storm damaged trees just as you would in normal pruning operations.

wound. If the cut limb is more than two inches in diameter, paint the cut with clean shellac or tree-wound paint.

No use trying to prop up broken limbs. Just cut them off and haul them away.

Millipedes are back again, meaning no harm, looking for warm quarters, and not even anything to eat. They won't bite or sting, eat draperies or chew on furniture. But they give homeowners the shivers.

That's because they are crawling creatures, with a look about them that instantly turns man into their sworn enemy. They have been around for a long while.

Control: Spray a band of Sevin insecticide 10 feet wide around the house. Start at the foundation and work outward. Spray grass areas around stoops, porches, carports, garages, driveways, etc. Use two cupfuls (in five gallons of water) of 50 percent wettable powder Sevin.

Millipedes live in grassy areas close to houses and garages. Every year, in fall and spring, they migrate to buildings for some reason. We know that house lights attract them. They are about an inch long, purplish-black in color, and have cylindrical bodies. Their bodies are composed of segments, and each segment has two legs. That's why they are called millipedes. They look like they have a thousand legs.

About their only disadvantage is (1) they look terrible and (2) they come in houses, etc., in quantity. Warm weather spells send them in. Cold snaps stop the migration. Then, another warm spell, and they're at it again. But once inside, they won't bite or sting or chew on the furniture or fabrics. They just want to be left alone. When touched, they curl up into a ball.

Is There Any Hope?

Lesson For November 27, 1966

Background Scripture: Jeremiah 31:32.

Devotional Reading: Jeremiah 31:1-16.

Several years ago an American submarine was trapped with its entire crew far below the surface of the ocean. At first it was believed that rescue attempts had a good chance for success. Messages were tapped out on the hull of the stricken sub, establishing contact between those above and below. Despite heroic efforts to rescue the crew, time finally ran out. With oxygen failing, someone tapped out a last

Rev. Althouse desperate question: "Is there any hope?"

Many today are preoccupied with that question. They look at the pain, the evil, and the turmoil of this complex world today and want some assurance of what the future holds. What kind of world will it be for our children and their children? Will they still stand under the threat of nuclear destruction, under the tension of racial hostilities, under the danger of growing world Communism?

Signs Of The Times

When we read the signs of the times it is difficult to decide which way they are pointing. Every hope seems balanced by some threat, every stride forward by a big step backward, every indication of encouragement by mounting pressures of despair. Commencement speakers and politicians delight in foreseeing a "bright new day" before us, but is that really what lies ahead? Some people are saying, "Stop worrying and leave it up to man—he'll bring a brighter day!" Never before has man had so much about which to be optimistic with himself. His progress in science and technology are unbelievable. Is there no limit to Man's potentialities? There is: Man himself.

When the First World War was fought, many believed that they were fighting a "war to end all wars." In the interval between the First and Second World Wars people were supremely optimistic about the ability of man to build a world free of armed conflict. Education, science and culture would eliminate the causes of warfare. Given enough time and motivation, there wasn't anything man couldn't do.

The Nagging Question

Education, science, and culture did expand and grow at a dizzying pace, but so did the causes of war. Mankind's great and optimistic hopes for the future were dashed by the even more terrible World War Two.

Now, once again we are envisioning the paradise of the world that is "just around the corner." The growth of science, culture, and education is far greater than ever before. Once again people are predicting a not-too-distant Utopia: life pushed-but-toned to the hilt; life created in the laboratory test tube; humanity molded into new forms by the management of human genes!

Because many of us remember the disappointments of the past, we find ourselves asking that nagging question: "Is there any hope?" The present can be better endured when we have some assurance of the future. Yet the past seems to fairly bellow: Don't count on man!

In the dark days when Judah was under siege by Babylon, the people of Judah asked that nagging question of the prophet Jeremiah. Instead of telling them, he showed them. Buying a piece of real estate outside Jerusalem, Jeremiah demonstrated in a very tangible way that he believed God would restore Judah.

This man whom many regarded as the "prophet of doom," actually held the most optimistic outlook. But it was an optimism, not about man, but the power of God.

Do you believe in the future? No, let us not believe in the future but in the God in whose hands the future rests. Is there any hope? Yes, but in God, not man.

WE TAKE THIS OPPORTUNITY ON THIS THANKSGIVING DAY TO EXPRESS OUR SINCERE THANKS AND APPRECIATION TO OUR MANY FRIENDS AND CUSTOMERS.

MAY YOU HAVE AN "OLD FASHION" DAY OF THANKSGIVING.

When a man gives thanks he is recognizing how small a part he himself has contributed to this world's abundance.

When a man gives thanks he is expressing his affection for and his dependence on those who constantly share the experiences of his life.

When a man gives thanks he is laying aside his discontentments to rejoice in the more numerous and more meaningful satisfactions that have marked each passing day.

When a man gives thanks he is escaping from the webs of pride, greed and self-addition that could otherwise imprison his soul.

When a man gives thanks he is meeting God on God's own ground. For God is God! And we are His children.

When a man gives thanks he is discovering his greater need. For all that God has provided is but the threshold to all that God promises.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a powerhouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Christmas Party For Boone Co. Democrats

A cordial invitation is extended to all Democrats and interested friends in Boone County and Northern Kentucky to attend the Christmas party of the Boone County Democratic Club.

Carlton Anderson, president of the club, said the affair would be held on Tuesday evening, Dec. 13 at 6:30 p. m., at the new Park 25 Restaurant, which is on Highway 25, between Florence and Devon, near the Industrial Park.

This is a cafeteria so that each guest will go through the cafeteria line and pay for their own meal as they wish. A room has been reserved for the party.

Each man attending is asked to bring a gift for a man and each woman attending is to bring a gift for a woman. The cost of these gifts to be $1.00 each.

Bring your family and friends. How can we better get into the real spirit of Christmas than by greeting old friends and making new ones? We hope to see you there.

Young Fiskburg Gt Killed In Vietnam

The Vietnam war has claimed the life of a Fiskburg soldier, Army Private First Class Donald Robert Duncan, age 20.

Young Duncan went to Vietnam last spring with the first Cavalry Airborne. He was drafted into the Army, November 3, 1965, and took basic training at Camp Carson.

He was born in Grant County, attended school there and later attended Simon Kenton High School, Independence.

Funeral arrangements are pending arrival of the body.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Duncan of Fiskburg; five brothers, James, David, Ronald, Paul and Roe Duncan, and a sister, Brenda Duncan, all at home; his grandmother, Mrs. Olga Duncan of Sherman, and his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Cook, of Fiskburg.

Use of seat belts could reduce serious injuries by one-third, fatalities in the nation by more than 5,000 a year, the Kentucky Department of Public Safety says.

Verona Man Found Dead Tuesday A. M.

The body of Alfred Kemper of Eads Road, near Verona, was found dead about 8:00 a. m. on Tuesday, about 3/4 of a mile from his home, on the back part of his farm.

Mr. Kemper went out in the early evening on Monday to feed his hogs and when he did not return in a normal time, his wife, Elizabeth, went to look for him, but he was not around the feeding area.

Mrs. Kemper summoned help from the neighbors; the State police and the Boone County sheriff were also called to the scene. A searching party spent the night combing the Kemper farm.

When the body was found on the back part of the farm it appeared Mr. Kemper had fallen but suffered no apparent external injury. He had been bothered with heart trouble in the past. A member of the family told us he apparently became ill, possibly of a heart attack, and lost all sense of direction.

Besides his wife, Elizabeth, a fourth grade teacher in the Verona Elementary School, there are two sons in the family. Donald is a student at Purdue University in Lafayette, Ind. He was called by phone last night and arrived home by bus about 5:30 a. m., Tuesday morning. The youngest son, Billy, is stationed in Germany with the Armed Forces.

No funeral arrangements have been made as we go to press, as relatives live quite a distance away and an effort will be made to get Billy home from Germany.

U. S. farmers paid $2.8 billion for hired labor in 1965.

Walton-Verona Has 3-3 Record

At this stage in the early 1966-67 basketball season, the Walton-Verona Bearcats are holding a 3-3 over-all record and in the conference a 1-0 mark.

Last week the local squad made two out-of-town appearances. On Wednesday they traveled to Holy Cross in Covington and suffered a defeat. Such was not the case, as they made their way to Maysville to tangle with the St. Patrick Paddies. In their first overtime game this year the 'Cats came out on top by a 72-71 score. G. J. Poore sank a field goal in the final seconds of the extra frame to give W-V the victory.

Dennis Chipman turned in his most productive game of the season sharing scoring honors with Poore with 18 points each.

The Bearcats cleaned the boards by collecting 70 rebounds. Marvin Portwood and Bob Arlinghouse had 19 each.

B. Garry paced the Maysville Paddies with 39 points, tops for both squads.

The Wednesday night game at Holy Cross was decided early as the Covington boys gained a big margin early and continued to increase their lead.

Karla Simpson of the W-V cheerleader group was hit in the face by an erratically inebriated G. face by a wildly thrown basketball. Her glasses frames were broken but she did not receive serious injury.

Trimble County Here Friday

Large Florence Land Deal Seems Possible

A Summit Hill Heights woman announced last week that a group she represents intends to purchase and develop 107.5 acres in Florence. "We plan to build a shopping center, a 200-unit motel, and several high rise apartment houses," said Mrs. Cora C. Baldwin of 3000 Brookwood Drive.

It is said the motel alone would cost an estimated million dollars.

Mrs. Baldwin, who moved here recently from Charleston, W. Va., received options on three tracts of land August 31 and Sept. 1. She paid $1,000 each for three options on the following properties:

The Henrietta Tanner estate of 37.5 acres; the Violetta Eastman property, 37 acres, and the Wm. H. and Elsie Carpenter tract of 33 acres.

All three comprise what is generally known as the "Old Carpenter Property," which lies just west of I-75, between Burlington Pike and U. S. Highway 42.

Prices of the three tracts, made known when Mrs. Baldwin purchased the options were: $33,700 for the Tanner estate, $35,500 for the Eastman property, and $66,000 for the Carpenter land.

Florence City Council has already approved a zoning change for the land.

Basketball Players Injured In Accident

Monday night, Bearcat Coach Jim Taylor was taking his basketball team to Lexington, for a preview game with the Wildcats and the freshman team at the University of Kentucky, when one car, driven by G. J. Poore, was involved in an automobile accident about 6:30 p. m. The group never reached the game.

The accident occurred on I-75 North of Georgetown. G. J. was driving his Volkswagen and Mike Yates, Marvin Portwood and Terry Noe were with him. A car crossed one of the gravel emergency crossing lanes and pulled directly in front of the Poore car. There was no way for the boys to avoid hitting this vehicle.

Mike Yates, riding in the front seat with G. J., received bad cuts about the face and head (several stitches were required), his glasses were broken but no injury to his eyes. G. J. received a broken wrist and cuts and bruises. Terry Noe and Marvin Portwood escaped injury, but Marvin was knocked unconscious.

The boys were treated at a hospital in Georgetown and released.

New Haven P.T.A. Holds Open House

The New Haven P.T.A., chaired by President Mrs. Joe Criss, held its monthly meeting after the Open House, Monday, November 21. The open house attracted, as usual, large numbers of parents and children.

Mrs. Lilly Stutles, membership chairman, reported a membership of 174. Posters the children had made for the membership campaign were displayed.

The P.T.A. decided to purchase nine flags for the classrooms. The group also voted to complete its book purchase by giving $100 to the two sixth grades.

Mrs. Criss asked a State Trooper, Mr. Simpson, to observe the loading of school buses by U. S. 42. He recommended to Mr. Jones that the buses be loaded at the side of the building to correct a dangerous situation. The change was made.

Mrs. Joyce Tolliver, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Thos. A. Weldon, Mrs. Charles Baron, Mrs. Harold Tuch, and Mrs. John W. Nienaber, members of the Northern Kentucky Mental Health Volunteers. They presented a play "See You After School." This depicted a teacher's conferences with three parents. Many timely points were made.

Area Agent's 1/2 Acre

Pasture renovation is a most useful practice in Kentucky. But, there are two jobs to do before renovation. The jobs: Test soils, and add needed fertilizers and lime. There are some reminders: Take samples from at least 10 places in the field to be renovated; if the soil test shows lime, phosphate or potash are needed, put them on. Ground usually is usually firm enough to hold up equipment in the fall. Do not add nitrogen. This stimulates the grass and crowds out legumes in the new stand. And renovation is geared in getting some new legumes in the stand. When soils are tested, fertilizers added, and heavy grass growth grazed down, use 5 to 10 cows an acre for this —get ready for the renovation work. Renovating an old grass stand costs about a third as much as a new seeding. If properly done, it will give you good production next season.

Higher farm production expenses in 1967 and a probable decrease in government payments law lower U. S. farmers' realized net farm income in 1967.

That's a statement in the U. K. Cooperative Extension Service agricultural economics department's bi-weekly outlook letter this week.

The anticipated drop may be as much as five percent from the estimated $16.1 billion of 1966, says John H. Bondurant, agricultural economist. With normal weather conditions, however, cash receipts from farm marketings probably will increase, the report says. Expanded feed and food crop acreages will be largely responsible.

Bondurant also sees a larger total amount of credit to finance farm production than in 1966, particularly for short-term and intermediate-term credit. Farm mortgage loan commitments of long-

Old Favorite With A New Flavor

HERE IS A DELIGHTFULLY DIFFERENT VERSION of plum pudding . . . the traditionally perfect dessert for festive holiday meals.

According to home economists at The R. T. French Company, the key to its flavor, texture, and speedy preparation is instant mashed potato right out of the box.

PLUM PUDDING

1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1 envelope (1/2 cup) instant mashed potato
1 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup walnuts, chopped
2/3 cup candied fruit and peel mix, finely chopped

1 cup raisins
3/4 cup shortening
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon cloves
1 cup brown sugar, packed
2 eggs
1 cup grated raw carrot
1/4 cup milk

Sift together flour, instant potato, baking soda and salt. Combine nuts and fruit with flour mixture. Cream shortening, spices and sugar. Beat in eggs, blend in carrots and milk. Add floured fruits and nuts; mix well. Pour into well greased 1-1/2 quart mold; cover tightly. Place on rack in steamer or deep kettle. Add enough boiling water to reach about 1/3 of the depth of the mold. Steam 2 hours. Serve with rum flavored hard sauce. Portions for twelve.

term lending agencies probably will continue to be curtailed well into 1967 he says.

U. S. farm assets as of January 1, 1967 probably will reach $273.3 billion, up 7.2 percent from 1966. Total farm liabilities probably will increase 10.1 percent in 1966.

But, even though farm debts (on a percentage basis) increased at a higher rate than total assets, equities of farmers and other owners of farm property increased 6.5 and 6.6 percent, respectively, in 1965 and 1966.

He said farm mortgage recordings increased 17 percent in the U. S. the first half of 1966 as compared with the first half of 1965, but only 10 percent for the Appalachian region (Kentucky, W. Virginia, N. Carolina and Tennessee). Farm mortgage debt figures in Kentucky as of January 1, 1966 was $358.8 million.

PINER HOMEMAKERS

Ladies of the Piner Homemakers met November 15 in the home of Mrs. Chester Mullins, with 13 members present. Mrs. Faye Braye and little daughter were guests.

Mrs. Fred McMillian gave the landscape lesson, which gave such information as desirable nut trees for back yards and small trees for patios.

Mrs. Frank Elliott reported on the book, "Eisenhower, Man and Soldier," by Frances Trevelyan Miller.

The club voted to donate $10.00 to the Piner School for needy children's supplies, as a Christmas favor.

"What Does the Room Need?" asked the lesson given by Mrs. William Wood and Mrs. Owen Flynn. Obviously, they had spent lots of time gathering pictures to demonstrate different ways to improve any room with screen, draperies, pictures, etc.

The group meets again December 13 to celebrate Christmas with a turkey dinner and gift exchange.

Something To Change

Lesson For December 4, 1966

Background Scripture: Isaiah 9:2,7; 1:1-9.

Devotional Reading: Isaiah 9:2,7.

Standing before the congregation of a small church near his summer home in Heath, Mass., one summer morning in 1934, theologian Reinhold Niebuhr prayed: "O God, give us serenity to accept what cannot be changed, courage to change what must be changed, and wisdom to distinguish one from the other." At the close of the service, H. C. Robbins, a summer neighbor, asked if he might have a copy of the prayer and was handed the original with these words: "Here, take the prayer. I have no further use for it." What Niebuhr discarded so casually, Christians everywhere have reached for gratefully and today its three petitions are frequently repeated and paraphrased.

The Uninevitable

Three petitions — for serenity to accept, for courage to change, for wisdom to distinguish. The most crucial of these today, perhaps, is the "wisdom to distinguish" between what can and cannot be changed. Too many of us are engaged in a frantic quest for serenity in a world we assume we cannot change. Among the "given things" of this world which we accept with fatalistic resignation is WAR. We talk about "the next war" as if it were an inevitability.

A minister of a large church recently scheduled a Sunday evening forum on the subject: "The Christian And The Race For Peace." Five people were all who came and three of these were people who had forgotten the nature of the subject, coming out of loyalty to the minister. Explained one absent member of the official board, "I didn't come because there didn't seem to be anything to discuss: it's out of our hands. If war comes, it comes, and if it doesn't, it doesn't — there's nothing we can do one way or the other." This man chose to pray for serenity in the face of something he was sure he couldn't change.

This is probably the majority view. From the perspective of immediate action or response, it is true. Nothing I do today will persuade the North Vietnamese to remove their troops from South Viet Nam, nor influence the reunion of Germany, nor end the persecution in South Africa. No deed I could do, no word I could say will ease the threat of atomic destruction that hangs by a thread over the world. Neither I nor my next door neighbor can constructively change the world today, tomorrow, or next week. So how can the individual Christian have any responsibility for world peace?

Saving Face, Losing Soul

Someone has said, "My neighborhood is the world in miniature." What he meant, of course, is that the world reflects at large the specific human problems and resources which provide the dynamics that operate between people in a local community. Basically, both my community and my world are governed by the principle of returning evil for evil. This principle goes by many names: "honor," "face," "courage," "self-preservation," "justice," etc., but the essence is always the same. My desire is for peace, my religious convictions counsel love, but my "honor" requires that I return the blow I receive.

Peace among nations can hardly be achieved so long as individual men live by the law of "eye for eye" and "tooth for tooth." Almost daily we read the letters-to-the-editors of those who want to salvage American honor, return insult for insult, threaten, bomb now — pray later.

If ever the way of Christ to prevail we must begin to witness to the conviction that love is more powerful than retaliation, that it is necessary to "bless those who curse you," to "repay no one evil for evil," to leave vengeance to God alone. We will never overcome evil with more evil.

Paul says, "So far as it depends upon you, live peaceably with all." God give us the wisdom to understand the extent to which responsibility for world peace does rest upon us and to know that war is something we can change.

Turkey or chicken fruit salad makes a one-dish meal. A hearty salad combining fruit with a generous amount of cooked turkey or chicken makes a satisfying meal. Try turkey while it's plentiful. A hot soup or hot bread completes the menu. Serve both if you are not a calorie counter. No dessert is needed, liberal calories are provided in the exotic dressing.

3 cups turkey or chicken, cooked diced; 1 cup grapes, seedless, halves; 2 cups pineapple chunks, drained; 1 cup apple wedges, unpeeled; 1/2 cup salad dressing; 6 lettuce cups; paprika, as needed; one-third cup almonds, slivered.

Combine turkey or chicken, grapes, pineapple chunks and apple wedges. Chill before serving. Blend lightly with salad dressing. Dip edges of lettuce cups in paprika. Six servings, about 345 calories per serving if made with the fruit-whipped cream dressing and garnished with almonds.

Fruit-whipped cream dressing: 1 cup dressing; 3 tablespoons butter or margarine; 3 tablespoons flour, one-third cup sugar, one-eighth teaspoon salt, one-fourth cup lemon juice, 1 tablespoon orange juice frozen concentrate, one-third cup pineapple juice, canned or frozen, 2 egg yolks, slightly beaten, and one-half cup whipping cream.

Melt fat in top of double boiler. Stir in flour, sugar and salt. Add fruit juices gradually and cook over boiling water, stirring constantly until the mixture thickens. Stir a little of the hot mixture into egg yolks, then stir the egg yolks into the rest of the hot mixture. Cook over hot water about two minutes, stirring constantly. Chill covered. Whip the cream until stiff. Add chilled dressing to cream and beat slightly to blend. Calories per tablespoon, about 75.

We no longer have to read the Bible by the light of a single candle. We can shine a whole battery of floodlights upon God's Holy Book if we want to. But sometimes we tend to interpret our lives in terms of technical achievement only.

One night, while traveling, we stopped at a motel. In the stillness of the room, I heard my young son reading to his younger brother. I listened, surprised, for he was reading the motel's Bible. He stumbled over some of the words, but still there was a clarity to their meaning as he pronounced them. Passages, spoken in his childish voice, had a certain simplicity.

Children approach things directly, with open minds and hearts. In this fashion, my young sons were approaching the Bible. In this fashion, so should many of us return to it again. Bring the Bible back into your life. You will find a guiding light to help you in the church of your choice.

MILK MARKET NEWS

Prices for fluid milk averaged almost 8% above a year earlier during January through June, 1966. Manufacturing grade milk prices climbed 40¢ per cwt or 12% higher than a year ago. According to economists, favorable prices for milk are expected to continue. The milk price trend looks real good for dairymen. NOW what you need is more milk per cow. HOW do you get more milk? One sure way to increase milk production is to top feed Purina Golden Bulky or have us mix it into your milking ration. Another way is to find out the new ways Purina Research has discovered to increase milk production by following proven feeding programs.

A NEW STAR FROM PURINA RESEARCH

Dairymen, have you heard? There's a new star in Purina's Calf Growing Program. It's called Purina Calf Growena and it's now available at our store. Based on recent findings that show calves need increased protein and energy during their first six (6) months, Purina Research has developed new Calf Growena. This is a 16% protein ration with an improved protein-energy balance. It's fortified with essential minerals and vitamins. It's sweet and coarse...the way young calves like a ration to be. The new Purina Calf Growing Program is better because it now satisfies the need for protein when the growing calves need it most. The new program actually lowers the cost of raising herd replacements while getting them into the milking string sooner.

THE COW IS A MILK FACTORY

You know each cow is a milk factory. The feed she eats helps to determine how much milk she produces and how efficiently she produces it. And you know that feeding a quality ration and following a complete dairy program goes a long way toward helping increase production. We now have in stock and ready for your ration new Purina Dairy Concentrate 44%. It's a high efficiency, palatable supplement to mix with your grain. It's much higher than soybean, cottonseed or linseed meal in minerals and digestibility. It's high in Vitamin A and D. Helps cows produce lots of milk at low cost. Let us show you how little it takes to build a high-quality low-cost milking ration with Purina Dairy Concentrate 44%.

VITAMIN SHORTAGE

If you're bringing in cattle off of a brown, burned up pasture, or if you're wintering your cows and feeder cattle on low quality roughage... Watch Out! Vitamin shortage can creep up on your cattle almost overnight. Prevent vitamin shortage this winter by mixing Purina Cattle Plus in your rations. Fed as directed, Purina Cattle Plus adds 50,000 units of Vitamin A and 10,000 U.S.P. Units of Vitamin D2 to rations consumed by each animal daily. It helps prevent foot rot and lumpy jaw. It also stimulates growth and promotes good health. Place your order now...or better yet, have us mix Purina Cattle Plus right in your rations to help prevent vitamin shortage in your cattle this winter.

To Visit United Nations

Bernie Spencer

Bernie Spencer, son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Spencer of Alta Vista Drive, Walton, left Louisville by jet Sunday for New York City. He will represent Walton-Verona High School and the International Center of the University of Louisville on a tour of the United Nations Building and other points of interest.

The 17-year-old W-V senior will be met by limousine at LaGuardia Airport and transported to his hotel. He is to report to the United States Mission where he will be received by our Ambassador.

While in New York, Bernie is scheduled for a tour of the city, a television show, and a tour of Rockefeller Center. He will be accompanied by the director of the International Center of the University of Louisville.

Young Spencer represented W-V at the International Center last summer. Other past representatives from the Walton-Verona High School are Miss Clara Roberts, now a student at Eastern Kentucky State University, and Eddie Neumeister, now a student at Georgetown College.

Bernie is active in Beta Club activities and the school band. His future plans are to attend college after graduation. He was selected for this tour because of his contributions to the success of the International Center last summer.

Bearcats Win Easily Over Trimble County

Run! Shoot! Score! These might have been the expressions used by local spectators Friday evening following the Walton-Verona victory over Trimble County, by a score of 89-61.

With two starters, Mike Yates and G. J. Poore, out of the lineup after an auto accident earlier in the week, Coach Jim Taylor announced his starting five, which included the new faces of Butch Ingram and Mike Holder...each contributed 16 points in their role as varsity starters.

Marvin Portwood again came through with a tremendous show of basketball ability, grabbing 23 rebounds and connecting for 23 big points...high for both squads. He also had several assists.

The Trimble County Raiders' coach continually shifted his players but they were unable to stop the rampaging Bearcats. Mike Taylor led his squad with 20 points in a losing effort.

Both Dennis Chipman and Bill Wethington scored in double figures with 14 and 10 points, respectively. Cliff Markberry hit four field goals for 8 points.

The Bearcats started the third quarter like a ball-of-fire, racking up 62 points in the final half of play.

Only sour note of the evening was the defeat of the junior varsity Kittens by a score of 49-43.

Joe Locke broke into his first varsity game with a field goal late in the fourth quarter.

Walton-Verona: Ingram 7-2-16; Noe 0-0-0; Holder 6-4-16; Portwood 10-3-23; Chipman 6-2-14; Marksberry 4-0-8; Wethington 5-0-10; Locke 1-0-2—totals 39-11-89.

Trimble County: Taylor 7-6-20; Bryan 1-2-4; Gross 2-2-6; Gosman 1-2-4; Hall 7-1-15; McKinney 0-2-2; B. McKinney 1-2-4; Jennings 1-0-2; Fisher 1-2-4.

Quarter Scores:

Walton-Verona ... 14 27 54 89

WALTON HOMEMAKERS RECEIVE FIRST AWARD

The Walton Homemakers were very proud November 30, when they received first prize for the most original fireplace at a showing in Florence.

Out of 12 Boone County clubs participating, Walton's fireplace was decorated in green and gold, Gold ornaments and evergreen backdrop and figurines of green and gold all hand made by Mrs. Joseph Sargent, chairman, and her two co-chairmen, Mrs. Edward Lay and Mrs. Jim Woods.

This display of work by Homemakers is an annual event. Each club brings their Christmas ideas and share them with the public.

Eighteen clubs in the county part part in the event.

The Walton Homemakers are very proud of their three talented women, who worked so hard to make this event a success.

W-V Members Attend Beta Club Conference

Six Walton-Verona Beta Club members attended the annual Beta Club Convention in Louisville, last Friday and Saturday. Highlighting the convention was the election of state officers, a talent show conducted by Beta Club members from throughout the state, and the annual Beta Club banquet.

The Cooperation of Parents Is Needed

The Walton Volunteer Fire Department is trying hard to help the Walton community have a place of entertainment for both children and adults.

Last week, when the temperature was below freezing, the local firemen flooded the dance floor area at the picnic grounds on School Court to have a good place for ice skating.

According to Fire Chief "Chick" Worthington, before the area could freeze hard, someone or some group got on the surface and made a complete mess of it. This not only happened once but twice, as firemen chopped up the ice and flooded the area again, trying to have a skating arena, but it was trampled too soon and their efforts were all in vain.

The fire department would like the cooperation of parents to caution their children to stay off the watered area until the surface is hard enough for ice skating or sled riding.

The firemen built this space for the use of citizens and groups for their entertainment, but support and consideration is needed to make the place available and its facilities useful to the community.

CG&E RECEIVES HONOR

Jerry Hurter, vice president of CG&E's Public and Community Relations Department, was notified that the selection was made for CG&E's efforts in changing the "Public Attitudes Towards American Youth," and was based on the company's promotion of its popular "It's Academic" teenage quiz show.

Walton Advertiser Subscription Rates and Classified Advertising Rates Are Going Up

No one likes bad news...ever, and especially around the Christmas holidays. However, we are going to be a "meanie" and give you what might be called bad news at this season of the year.

Our subscription rates and our classified advertising rates are going to be increased, effective January 3, 1967.

We have given this matter much thought and study. We found that many of the Kentucky weekly newspapers charge more than we have been charging for both subscriptions and classified advertising. We feel we are certainly in line with others. This information, plus increased operating costs, increased paper costs, and increased postage rates have all added up to an increase in these two branches of our service.

Our subscription rate is going to be $3.00 per year...about 1 cent per week...plus nine cents State tax, making the total $3.09 for 12 months, delivered to your door.

Our classified advertising rate...said to be the lowest in the country... will be increased to two cents per word or a minimum charge of 50¢ per ad. Twenty-five words or less will be 50¢, and over 25 words, you will pay 2 cents per word. We have some advertisers who run classified ads annually, without change, so we are going to try to help them, and it will cost them 1½ cents per word in 1967. If you have any questions, please feel free to ask us about them.

Free Desk Calendars

A free desk calendar will be given with each subscription paid in December, and you may pay as far ahead as you wish at the old rate of $2.58.

No Charge Classified Ads

All classified advertising must be cash in advance, beginning next year. It's impracticable to keep records, make out a statement, use an envelope, and pay five cents postage for two or three months to collect 50 cents. Cash, checks or stamps are acceptable, so mail in the cost of your ad along with your ad. Thank you!

NFO Delegates Named In Kenton County

The Kenton County NFO is making final plans for delegates from the county to attend the annual national convention of the NFO to be held in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, December 7 and 8.

Delegates from 25 states are expected to attend this convention.

The main topics of discussion at this year's convention will be the progress made under the NFO's collective bargaining program with processors of dairy, meat and grain and the feasibility of a milk holding action.

County NFO president, Bob Jackson, has announced that the following members have been elected as delegates to attend the national convention of the NFO: Bob Jackson and Bud Menefee.

Free Christmas Parking

It was announced this week by Mayor Dale Stephens that the parking meter ordinance in the City of Walton will not be enforced until after Christmas Eve, Dec. 24th. The mayor said, "Free parking anywhere in town."

We think this was a thoughtful move on the part of Council and we feel that they are to be commended for such action. We are sure the merchants in the parking meter area will benefit.

O. E. S. Christmas Party

Members of Walton Chapter of the Eastern Star are asked to remember the Christmas dinner and party to be held at the regular December 19th meeting. Bring a covered-dish for the dinner and a $1.00 gift to exchange.

Former Local Youth In "Wildcat" Band

A former Walton lad is a part of the "new image" of the University of Kentucky 1966 marching band.

Johnny Gault, III, son of John Gault, II, of Ashland, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. John Gault of Walton-Nicholson Road, is enrolled as a freshman in the U. K. College of Arts and Sciences.

Young Gault and the other 97 bandmen have adopted a new name for what has been the "Marching 100." The new band, with a new look, and new sound has been named "Wildcat."

For each minute the band performed during the past football season, it spent about 140 minutes on the practice field. An entirely new show was created for each 7-minute halftime program.

The Wildcat Band is composed of 90 marchers, three alternates, a drum major, featured twirler, two students managers, and a librarian. All band members are male with the exception of the featured twirler, Jo Ann Windish. Johnny Gault attended both the Walton Elementary and All Saints Schools before moving to Ashland. He graduated last spring from the Paul G. Blazer High School in Ashland.

INVITATIONAL CHESS TOURNAMENT, DEC. 17th

The Walton-Verona Chess Club, according to Robert Setay, president, is having an invitational chess tournament, Saturday, Dec. 17th, in the high school gym. The action starts at 9:00 a. m., and the public is invited.

Bellevue, the second-ranked chess team in the state, has been invited to participate. They are undefeated so far this season. The local team is 11-4 but is expected to do well in the tourney. Come out and support the chess club, Mr. Setay said.

Those attending were Mesdames Scott Jack, Russell Edgar, Garfield Hamilton, Joe Ryan, James Cason, T. F. Heile, Lewis Davis, James Ransom, Charles Watson, Harold Rogers, Robert Taylor, Joe Wood, Malone Doolin, Ben Brown, Charles Patrick and Robert Adams.

Members voted unanimously to make their usual donation to the Boone County American Legion and Jaycees for their Christmas Fund.

Dinner and a Christmas party are planned for Monday evening, December 19 at 6:30 at River Queen, Greater Cincinnati Airport. Mrs. Lewis G. Davis is chairman of arrangements. Gifts will be exchanged, each member to bring a dollar gift, wrapped, with her name written on it; also, a gift for her Secret Pal. Reservations should be made with either the president, Mrs. Joe L. Wood, 283-5142, or Mrs. Davis, 485-4716, no later than December 15.

UNION O.E.S. TO MEET

Kenton Elementary PTA Has A Busy November

The month of November brought two very successful events for the Kenton Elementary PTA. On the 10th of November the annual child supper was held, and on November 17, Open House was observed at the school.

The executive board announced as a result of the two events the half-year mark of their $3,000 goal to be used for educational television had been reached. The PTA wishes to take this opportunity to thank all those who helped to make these events the most successful in the history of the school.

On March 10, 1967, there will be a style show at the school with all proceeds going into the television fund. More details on this event will be available at a later date.

INSPIRATIONAL SPEAKER

Jim Vaus

Campbell County and North Bend churches will meet together for a very special and totally different "M" Night program, on Monday, December 12, at First Baptist Church, Ludlow, at 7:30 p. m.

The speaker will be the dynamic director of New York City's Youth Development, Inc., Jim Vaus. Mr. Vaus has been called the "man with two lives," having been a syndicate wiretapper for the underworld prior to his conversion to Jesus Christ at a Billy Graham Crusade in Los Angeles, in November of 1949. His wife had been praying for a change from his activities with shady characters and was able to persuade her husband to attend the crusade being held in a huge tent.

Following his conversion, Mr. and Mrs. Vaus sold their car, their house and practically everything they owned in order to make restitution of more than $15,000 in equipment which he had stolen from various places. For ten years he traveled with his family across the country as an itinerant evangelist. It was a young lifer in a Pennsylvania State Penitentiary who challenged Mr. Vaus to reach fellows like him before they ended up in prison. Mr. Vaus was able to get in touch with Police Captain Jensen, head of East Harlem's 23rd Precinct in 1958, who had been looking for someone like him to reach the gang leaders of that precinct with the message of love and Christianity and this looked like the man.

Jim Vaus's work with hoodlums of New York's Spanish Harlem has won the praise of the New York Police Department. YDI operates from behind a boarded-up store front on Second Avenue, where Mr. Vaus has installed electronics gear with which the boys may experiment. He concentrates on the leaders of the 40 or more gangs which inhabit the 23rd Precinct. YDI has a 24-hour telephone answering service and when a call comes that trouble is brewing, Vaus or one of his associates go out at any hour and many times get the gang leaders together for a peace conference. They have been able to salvage some boys from a life of crime and have helped others to take their medicine when they have broken the law a second time.

Burley Prices High First Week of Sales

Kentucky's number-one cash crop, Burley tobacco, continued to bring high prices the first week of sales (Nov. 28-Nov. 30 after setting a new record-high price average on opening day.

Reports from the state's 28 auction centers, tabulated by the State Agriculture Department, revealed that more than 18 and one half million pounds of leaf sold on opening day for more than $12.8 million—an average of $68.63 per hundred (weight). This was 52¢ higher than last year's opening day record average.

Volume, however, was down considerably. Leaf supply is questionable and a drop in volume was expected due to weather-related problems which plagued growers in preparing their leaf for market.

A total of 53.7 million pounds of Burley sold during the first three days of sales. The leaf brought $36.7 million for a state-wide average of $68.32.

As of November 30, local markets had made the following sales: Carrollton, 1,982,062 pounds for $1,398,768, for an average of $70.57; Covington, 220,720 pounds for $145,085, $65.73 average; Cynthia, 1,720,288 pounds, $1,187,409, $69.02 average; Lexington, 8,682,000 lbs., $6,026,362, $69.41 average; Maysville, 4,602,352 lbs., $3,135,670, for a $68.13 average.

TAYLOR MILL

Ernest J. Ryle, Reporter

The bottom almost dropped out of our thermometer Thursday night and had the gas meters here clicking merrily, making money for the gas company, but we didn't mind that as it was mighty nice and comfortable as since we have been a shut-in for some time and now we don't get envious by seeing people go by in their shirt-sleeves. Makes us better satisfied to have to stay in as we have never had in this long before.

The ambulance just had a call on our neighbor, Mr. Inabnit, as his two little children got hold of a bottle of aspirin and took nearly all of them, and it was nearly full according to the grandfather, who lives with them. Later, we called Mr. Inabnit and are glad to report the hospital knew what to do and they are back home none the worse. Luckily they were baby aspirin and are sweetened.

We can't see why folks vote against a school tax when it will only amount to a few cents on the dollar—will give the teachers a much-needed raise and cure the over-crowding in the schools we now have. If you are for the children, show it by your vote in the coming election.

Metal Snow Treads Are Not Permitted In Every State

With winter weather crowding in, the snow-tire season is at hand. Many manufacturers now are offering winter-treat tires with metal spikes. While there is no law in Kentucky against use of such tires, certain states, or jurisdictions, do prohibit their use because of possible road damage.

For this reason, the prudent purchaser would do well to determine carefully where the tires are to be used before equipping his car with metal treads. If he plans to use them in areas outside Kentucky, he should determine in advance whether their use is permitted.

Above all, drive safely. Remember, the life you save is well worth living.

Klip Klop Klub Meeting

A meeting of the 4-H Klip Klop Klub was held in the home of Steven and Jimmy Vaughn.

Attending were Charlotte Richardson, Steven and Jimmy Vaughn, Reva and Brenda Simpson, and Barbara Bachmeyer. It was also attended by Mrs. Richardson, Mrs. Vaughn, and a new member, Larry Simpson, who the club was glad to welcome.

The meeting was called to order by Charlotte Richardson, and Barbara Bachmeyer led in the pledges to the American and 4-H flags. A report of the 4-H talent show at Kenton Elementary, Nov. 19th, was given by Reva Simpson, who also read the minutes of the last meeting.

Project books were handed out and certificates were given to Steven and Jimmy Vaughn and Barbara Bachmeyer for participation in club work.

The 4-H is selling light bulbs to pay for ribbons, trophies and other necessary items and it was decided that each member should sell one box.

January will start the 4-H year and the club decided to take the members in alphabetical order to have the meetings. Following adjournment, refreshments were then served.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Charlotte Richardson.—Reporter

A Sovereign Servant

Lesson for December 11, 1966

Background Scripture: Isaiah 52:13 through 53:12.
Devotional Reading: Isaiah 42:1-7.

"Mozart," says theologian Karl Barth, "teaches us the sovereignty of the true servant."

What a strange idea: that a man can be both sovereign and servant all in one! The sovereign is to rule, is it not? A sovereign imposes his will upon others. A servant, however, is one who is ruled by another. He is a person upon whom is imposed the will of someone else. How, then, can Barth speak of the "sovereignty of the true servant?"

The idea of a sovereign servant is not original with theologian Barth and the dilemma it raises goes back at least twenty-five hundred years. The exiled people of Judah, fed up with being a political football, looked for a return to great leadership and national glory to wipe away their humiliation.

Bone In Judah's Throat

What a disappointment, then, was the image drawn in Isaiah 53. This anointed one of God would not be physically attractive, but without "comeliness" or "beauty." Instead of receiving admiration, he would be "despised and rejected by men." Not a successful man as the world judges it, he would prove to be "a man of sorrows and acquainted with grief." He would be as one who "was oppressed," not a conqueror on the field of battle. His strength would not consist of imposing might upon others, but in enduring the might of others without complaint or cursing. What Judah wanted was a man to punish her oppressors; what she would receive was one who would be punished for the wrongs of others.

The image of the "suffering servant" was clearly unacceptable, a "bone in the throat" of the exiled Jew. One might have to endure suffering and humiliation, but they could not see this as a way to victory and sovereignty. How could there be combined in one person the image of a servant who "was oppressed and afflicted" with that of a victor whose hand "the Lord shall prosper?"

Still Bone Of Contention

The idea was no more acceptable five centuries later when a Nazarene named Jesus adopted this image as the model of his own ministry. His own disciples had great difficulty in accepting the suffering servanthood of their Messiah. It just didn't seem to be the way to conquer for the kingdom of God. Later, one of his apostles, Paul, would write of the crucified Christ as "a stumbling block to Jews and folly to gentiles."

The concept is hardly more acceptable today. Although the crucified Christ is declared from pulpits each Sunday (well, perhaps not every Sunday!), our television programs on Monday through Saturday are probably a better indication of what we really think. In both the television "western" and the "eastern," the victor is the man with the fastest gun, the strongest right hook, or the space-age technology of Batman or U.N.C.L.E. The sovereign is the person who is "on top of the pile" at the end of the episode.

Through his life, death, and resurrection, Jesus pointed to a new way of sovereignty: vicarious suffering and service. This means willingly spending one's self on behalf of someone else. He demonstrated the superior strength of loving service over that of wrathful violence. The enemies of Jesus were masters of violence; the followers of Jesus were to become masters of service. In the long run, God would turn their apparent defeat into victory.

We have found in the long run of the ensuing centuries that the failure of Jesus as the suffering servant was really miles ahead of the greatest "successes" of other men. He proved in the long run that only the servant can be truly sovereign.

Believe it? Try it!

FOR PREVENTION OR HEALING... CALL A DOCTOR

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

"The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Let us go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

"Johnny's sick!" The words strike fear in your heart, although your child's name may be Mary, Jane, or Bob. You put him to bed and call the doctor. You give him medicine and nurse him tenderly.

It is easy to tell when your child is not well—physically, that is. And it is comparatively easy to provide whatever is necessary to heal him. But do you feel as much concern for his soul?

Perhaps you have not noticed symptoms of spiritual indisposition. Perhaps you have thoughtlessly disregarded his spiritual needs. Yet his body is only temporal. His soul will live on—and on—and on!

Your Church is like a doctor—ready to heal illnesses of the spirit, but even more eager to prevent them.

Attend Church regularly with all your family for spiritual check-ups, just as you call on your family physician for physical care.

LET'S TALK CATTLE FEEDING

Yes, this is a good time for you to ask us... "If these were your cattle, how would you feed and handle them?" We believe we can give you an honest answer based on Purina Research work and local feedlot and farmers' records. We are interested in your FINAL INCOME...not in just selling you a ton of cheap feed. We want you for a good Purina Chow customer this year, next year, and every year. So, come in and let's talk cattle feeding and cattle wintering.

STOP THE FEED ROBBER

Even though you may not realize it, 75% to 90% of the cattle in America have worms. They are little worms, about the size of an eyelash. It doesn't seem like these little worms could cause much damage. But research tests show that worms in the average feedlot steer will consume about $2.20 worth of feed per month. As long as they are present, they slow down growth and rob your pocketbook. KILL THESE ROBBERIES by worming your cattle with new Purina Worm Kill Checkers. It does not throw cattle off feed. You can worm pregnant animals. It kills both the mature and immature worms in your cattle. Check with us on how little it costs to worm YOUR CATTLE.

TURN THOSE STALKS INTO POUNDS

A lot of farmers run feeder calves in their stalk fields. BUT stalks and "down" corn don't provide the balanced nutrition the calves need to maintain their weight and condition. Cattleman are fast finding out that the easiest way to supply this nutrition is to feed protein-fortified PURINA RANGE CHOW BLOCKS. And here's why cattleman go for Range Chow Blocks: Easy to handle...saves time—feed about once a week...weather resistant—should hold together in all kinds of weather...easy to store...gives equal chance to all cattle—smaller and timid cattle aren't crowded out. Turn those stalks into pounds. Call us right away and place your order for Purina Range Chow Blocks.

CASH IN ON FUTURE HIGH MILK PRICES

Now...we have an all-new Purina calf growing ration, tailor-made to help you take greater advantage of future favorable milk prices by getting heifers in the milk string sooner. It's NEW Purina Calf Growers, a specially formulated dry calf ration to help you grow herd replacements fast, breed them early, freshen them between 22 and 24 months...to take advantage of high milk prices. Calf Growers helps you feed calves at low cost from two to six months, yet gives them the protein and energy they demand. It's fortified with vitamins and minerals growing calves need. Calf Growers is a sweet and tasty coarse ration, too...the kind calves really clean up. Come in...check the price...you'll be surprised.

N.F.O. Convention Held December 7-8

The National Farmers' Organization Convention was held in Milwaukee, Wis. Dec. 7-8. More than 8,000 delegates attended.

Oren Lee Staley of Rea, Mo., was re-elected president, and Erhard Pfingston of Sergeant Bluff, Iowa, was re-elected vice president.

One of the most important resolutions passed was to give the National Board of Directors the authority to initiate steps to prepare for a milk holding action. Delegates of NFO roared over-whelming approval of the resolution, but there was no immediate indication as to when the action would begin.

The head of the Housewives Gray, which has triggered boycotts aimed at lowering retail prices of food, gave the farmers her support. "Go ahead with your holding action," said Mrs. Paul West, Denver. She promised her housewives lower prices would help the farmers get "fair prices."

Senator William Proxmire (D) of Wisconsin; Congressman Alvin O'Konski (R) of Wisconsin; Congressman Melvin R. Laird (R) of Wisconsin; and Senator Walter Mondale (D) of Minnesota, made talks. They all agreed that thru collective bargaining was the only legal, effective and fair way the farmer had to go.

Delegates attending the convention from Kenton County were: President Bob Jackson, and Secretary Elbert Menefee. They went on a chartered Greyhound bus with delegates from Campbell and Pendleton Counties. There were seven bus loads to leave Louisville. ## Walton-Verona Basketball Notes

Bearcats Lose to Ludlow-Augusta

The Walton - Verona Bearcats were defeated twice on the home floor last week.

Starting off cold in both contests, the local lads were forced to play catch up ball in both games. In both games the visitors were using a zone defense which the Bearcats were unable to penetrate.

During the Ludlow game Tuesday the visitors jumped to a 20-10 advantage in the first quarter. Although playing on equal terms the remainder of the evening, the local lads were never able to cut down the early lead established by the Ludlow Panthers.

On Friday night the Augusta

Panthers were also victorious by aggressive ball handling and uncanny accuracy in the shooting of guard French who racked up 12 points in the second period of play.

Laughlin led all scoring with 31 markers for Ludlow while 18 were contributed by Cruetzinger.

Bob Arlinghaus and Marvin Portwood shared scoring honors with 14 points each. Yates had 12.

Bill Wethington was cut on the left cheek bone and required seven stitches by a local physician. He returned to the game in time to play several minutes.

The Walton-Verona Junior varsity were triumphant in the Ludlow encounter, winning 46-33.

Playing before a full house on Friday the Bearcats were able to stay in the game although they never did have the lead.

Too little too late might be the answer to the loss on Friday. No points were scored in the final two minutes of play by W-V, who had cut the lead to 55-54 with a little more than two minutes remaining to be played. Trying desperately to get control of the ball, and hurried shots were costly.

Marvin Portwood again led W-V scoring with 20 points.

French was high for Augusta hitting for 22 points.

J. Thornsberry was injured during the last quarter of the game. The injury was not thought to be too serious.

Burley Sales Set Statewide Record

Burley tobacco sales in Kentucky opened their second week (Dec. 5-Dec. 7) by establishing a new statewide record price average—$69.45 per hundredweight. This eclipsed the week-old opening day record of $68.63, the average price paid for a total of 18½ million pounds of leaf November 28.

Reports from the state's 28 auction centers, gathered by the State Agriculture Department, showed that in setting the new record, 19,030,271 pounds of leaf brought a total of $13,216,519.

Both price and volume of leaf sold fared Tuesday and Wednesday, Dec. 6-7, at some auction centers, but the statewide average remained generally firm.

Warm, damp weather during the period provided ideal conditions for farmers to prepare leaf for market, according to the State Agriculture Department.

A total of 123.7 million pounds of Burley was sold through Dec. 7. The leaf brought almost $88.2 million for a statewide average of $68.52.

Piner Clever Clovers Meet

November 20, the Piner Clever Clovers held their monthly meeting at the Piner-Fiskburg Fire House.

The president, Sue Fisk, called the meeting to order; then asked Trudy Northcutt to lead in the pledges to the flags. This was followed by a song, "The Star Spangled Banner," led by Miss Northcutt and Deborah Swango.

Next the roll was called by the secretary, Rhonda LaFollette, who also read the secretary's report and the treasurer's report.

Next was the drawing of names for the Christmas party at the next meeting.

Mrs. LaFollette, leader, read a letter from the Extension Office and thanked the boys and girls for taking part in the County Talent Show. The meeting was then adjourned.

After the meeting, we were all served refreshments which were furnished by Brenda Smith. We then played some games.

The next meeting will be held at the same place, Dec. 19, starting at 7:30 and should be over by 9:00 p. m.

Others present were: Aimee Collins, Mike Daniels, Donald Glenn, Debbie Smith, and Diane Whaley.

Do unto others as though you were the others.

You may or may not have heard this quiz November 17, televised over educational television stations. The program was produced by WETA-TV, Washington, D. C., with the assistance of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Consumer and Marketing Service. The moderator of the quiz was Hugh Downs. Test your food buying knowledge:

Q—A can marked "Orange juice" must contain 100 percent orange juice. True or false?

A—True. If the can is labeled orange juice, it must contain 100 percent orange juice. However, if the can is labeled "Orange Drink" it need not contain all juice. The same rules apply to all citrus fruit juices.

Q—Lower priced canned fruits and vegetables are just as nutritious as higher priced ones. True or false?

A—True, in most cases. Of ten the reason for lower prices is that the product is packed in light instead of heavy sugar syrup; it may be less tender, or the flavor and color may not be quite as good. But generally, the lower priced product will offer as much nutritive value as the higher priced one.

Q—A picnic ham is a real ham. True or false?

A—False. Real ham comes from the upper part of the hind leg of a hog. A "picnic" is similar in flavor and appearance, but comes from the shoulder of the hog and is not real ham.

Q—All fresh meat and poultry sold in the U. S. is wholesome because it is inspected by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. True or false?

A—False. Only the meat and poultry produced in plants selling across states' lines has to be federally inspected. USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service inspects about 85 percent of the fresh meat and poultry produce commercially in the United States.

Q—All canned hams can be eaten without further cooking. True or false?

A—True, they are fully cooked and can be eaten just as they come from the can.

Q—All hams not in a can must be cooked before serving. True or false?

A—False. Hams labeled "fully cooked" are not required to be cooked before serving regardless of whether or not they come from a can.

Q—All canned hams can be

Pick Your Hearing Aid With Care and Caution

If your hearing is impaired, a hearing aid may be a great help to you, but complaints from dissatisfied customers who believe they have been taken advantage of prompts the Consumer Protection Division to set forth the advice one physician gives his patients.

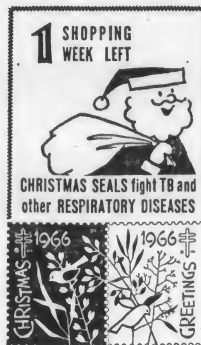

"If a hearing aid is considered advisable, obtain one on a trial basis with the specific understanding that if it does not help the patient it can be returned and only a small amount be paid for making the ear mold, or rental for the time used. If the dealer declines, go to another dealer."

Where a hearing aid may be indicated for both ears, obtain only one at a time and under the same arrangement.

This may save you hundreds of dollars. Seeing is believing, but hearing is understanding.

Some protection is needed most winters for most hybrid tea, floribunda and grandiflora roses. Various means of providing protection have been devised, from simply mounding soil about the plant bases to the more elaborate covering of the entire plant with shredded styrofoam and black plastic.

Wooden (avoid metal) containers such as baskets, hampers or boxes may be turned over your roses after pruning them enough to allow the containers to rest on the ground. Selected containers should be tall enough to allow the plants to remain 18 to 24 inches high. Leaving the canes even 30 inches high will do no harm. The containers may be covered additionally with black plastic film. However, if the container is relatively solid, plastic film will not be necessary. Mounding the soil about the base of the containers will help hold them in place and discourage mice from entering the containers for a winter home and for feasts. Covering roses late in November or early in December has two advantages: by then, the mice have established their winter homes elsewhere, and the wood of the containers is mature.

While considerable protection is provided by this simple procedure and may be enough most winters, the containers may be surrounded with leaves, in addition to the plastic, if a means of keeping the leaves in place can be devised. Boughs from trees may help.

Commercially produced cone-shaped rose protectors are available in some parts of Kentucky. They are made of molded plastics (like ice buckets, coolers, etc.) and are available in two sizes. The smaller one is solid topped and about 15 inches tall, which makes it too short for most roses. The other is about 20 inches tall and has a round removable lid. The removable lid allows daytime removal in the spring to provide more light for more compact and greener shoot growth, and nighttime replacement when frost may threaten. Soil mounded about the bases or stakes of some type, can be used to fasten the protectors down to prevent the wind from blowing them about.

Large beds of roses can be covered collectively by erecting a framework over which black plastic can be fastened. The framework should slope enough to provide water drainage. For more insulation against rapid temperature changes, dry leaves, sawdust, seed-free straw, etc., can be placed about the rose bushes before covering, if the material can be kept dry and free of mice.

Climbing roses, except some of the less winter-hardy climbing hybrid teas, seldom need winter protection in Kentucky, especially if they are planted where they are not exposed to the full force of the afternoon sun during the winter. In full sun situations, however, providing some shade by entwining evergreen boughs over and among the canes usually will be enough protection.

Prepare His Way!

Lesson for December 18, 1966

Background Scripture: Luke 1.
Devotional: Isaiah 40:1-5.

Several years ago, two members of the town council of a village in Thuringia, East Germany approached the bourgeoisie with a plan that would seriously curtail the observance of Christmas by the people of the village church.

They knew that Christmas is one of the events in the year which still draws large numbers of people, even though worship attendance during the rest of the year is low.

Rev. Althouse had dwindled drastically.

The Church in East Germany, of course, is officially tolerated, although the state does all it can to make difficult the operation of congregational life. The goal of these efforts is to make things so difficult that people will voluntarily give up their Christian faith rather than lose out on the sparse benefits of the Communist society. Thus, although the state does not officially ban the Church, it aims at the same result.

Too Sentimental

The two councilmen had drawn up a strategy to make it virtually impossible for the church to hold its services. The services would not be forbidden, but few would attend under the circumstances. The plan was submitted to the bourgeoisie for approval. Instead the bourgeoisie shook his head and smiling, said: "It is not necessary to do this. People in church on Christmas do not mean anything. It is only a custom that the people are too sentimental to give up. Let them have their Christmas service... they've forgotten what it really means!"

Whether or not the bourgeoisie was correct concerning the people of his village, I do not know. What he said of them, however, might also apply to many of us. Would we be judging too harshly to say that there are many people in our own country today who have forgotten what Christmas really means, that it is a custom that they are too sentimental to give up.

From Holy Day To Holiday

There was a time when the observance of Christmas was forbidden, not by atheistic governments but by zealous churchmen. For example, on May 11, 1659, the General Court of the Massachusetts Bay Colony passed the following law:

Whoever shall be found observing any such day as Christmas or the like, either by forbearing labor, feasting, or any other way, as a festival, shall be fined five shillings.

The people of the early New England colonies had seen enough pagan Christmas celebrations in England to sour them on Christmas for life. They had seen how quickly this "holy day" became merely a holiday. People forget, all too quickly, the purpose of the celebration.

Christmas Without Advent

Someone has said that when we celebrate Christmas without Advent, we will likely also celebrate it without Christ. Advent is the season of preparation for the coming of Christmas. Thus, when we celebrate Christmas without adequate preparation, we tend to miss the whole point of the Christmas season. Jesus is reborn into our hearts and lives when we have prayerfully prepared ourselves to receive him, not when the calendar shows us that the twenty-fifth day of December has arrived.

The coming of Christ always requires preparation. It was thus when Jesus was born in Bethlehem. The way had to be prepared. For centuries God had been preparing the way with his prophets. Through the work of these men he tried to make people ready for his own Son. The last of these messengers sent from God was John the Baptist who came to proclaim Jesus as the fulfillment of all that had ever been waited for.

"For you will go before the Lord to prepare his ways," said Zechariah of his son, John. If the people were not to miss the Christ, they would have to be ready for him. So must we.

The Comforts of Home

To our forefathers, this was living at its best... but the hard chair, the iron pot and the open grate would not be our idea of comfort!

Today kitchens sparkle with bright, easy-to-clean metals, and cupboards are filled with helpful appliances. We relax in foam-padded chairs and sleep on spring-filled mattresses. Almost every aspect of modern life is slanted toward speed and convenience.

Man, with his marvelous God-created brain, has overcome many obstacles, and there seems to be no limit to his inventiveness. God has given us a world full of possibilities, and minds that constantly seek to improve our environment.

But to make the most of our opportunities, we must ever develop and renew the resolve "faith of our fathers." Come to church and with others receive that heritage of inspiration and light.

THE CHURCH

FOR ALL ...

... ALL FOR

THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

DETERIORATION OF CORN CROP CALLED SERIOUS PROBLEM

A serious problem has developed in the handling and storage of this year's corn crop. The corn crop in most of the major producing areas is one of the most difficult to handle and store that we have experienced in many years. High moisture has caused the corn to heat and turn black in some cases. We recommend that moisture be checked before purchasing large quantities. Corn in crisis should be checked carefully on a regular basis. When grinding high moisture ear corn for dairy cows, grind only a few days' supply. Adding extra quantities of Purina Golden Bulky will tend to fluff up the ration PLUS adding milk making nutrition that cows need.

ON STRAIGHT CORN FEEDING IT TAKES 12 BUSHEL

That's right...leading agriculture colleges have proven that it takes 12 bu. of straight corn to produce 100 lbs. of pork. This is corn below 15% moisture. With shell corn below 15% moisture selling for $1.45 per bushel, it would cost $17.40 to produce 100 lbs. of pork. You can also produce 100 lbs. of pork with 5 bu. of shell corn and 45 lbs. of Purina Hog Chow. With this corn, selling for $1.45, your feed cost with Hog Chow would only be $10.85. On a 200-lb. hog this would amount to a saving of $13.10. On 100 hogs this would be an extra profit of $1,310.00. Let us discuss Hog Feeding Facts with you.

MILK COWS WITH CHAPPED TEATS This can sure be a problem with all the damp weather we have been having. Cows just can't produce at capacity with chapped or cracked teats. New Purina Udder Ointment helps soothe, medicate, and heal chapped or cracked teats. This combination antiseptic ointment and pain reliever contains healing aids in a skin-softening lanolin base. Apply Udder Ointment to your cows' teats this winter...and whenever they are cracked or cut to help prevent bacteria from working their way down into crevices where they can cause mastitis. We have New Purina Udder Ointment in stock now!

CUT WINTERTIME SHIPPING FEVER AND SCOURS LOSSES—FAST!

For one of the best ways to cut wintertime shipping fever and scours losses from your cattle, use Purina Mix-R-Mycin. Purina Researchers have blended powerful Terramycin with supplements of Vitamins A and D3 plus Riboflavin...giving your cattle the continuous and high-level health protection they need to fight severe winter stresses. We'll be glad to Check-R-Mix it with your regular cattle chow rations.

W-V Bearcats Take A Pair of Victories

Snapping a two-game losing streak the Walton-Verona Bearcats took the measure of two opponents the past week, winning by wide margins.

In a game played on the hardwood of Gallatin County High in Warsaw, the 'Cats outscored the host Wildcats 69-52. Leading all the way, the W-V lads played heads-up basketball to overcome the Gallatin squad.

Marvin Portwood led all scoring with 21 points. Bob Arlinghaus hit for 18 additional markers... News of Gallatin County was tops for his team with 20 points.

In the early moments of the encounter, W-V starter guard, Mike Yates, was knocked into a wall as he went in for a lay-up. Taken to a Covington hospital by ambulance, Mike was found not to be severely injured. He returned home Wednesday afternoon and was at school Thursday.

Defeat Bishop Brossart

The Mustangs of Alexandria's Bishop Brossart High fell victims of surging Bearcats by a score of 70-49, last Friday night on the Walton floor. Arthur Ingram netted 21 points for the winners, a career high as a Bearcat. This gave the 'Cats a season record of six wins and five losses.

Bob Arlinghaus grabbed 16 rebounds and hit the hoop for 17 points. Portwood, with 10 tallies, pulled down 18 rebounds.

Macht was high point man for the Mustangs as he had 18 points.

The Walton-Verona junior varsity team defeated the Brossart five by a 39-33 score.

Is Your Christmas Tree A Fire Hazard

Is your Christmas tree a fire hazard?

Last year 1,446 accidental fires involving Christmas trees and other decorations occurred in Kentucky, says State Fire Marshal Harold L. Foster.

Mr. Foster, whose office is in the State Department of Public Safety, says many of these fires could have been prevented with some simple precautions, such as:

- * Erect tree in coolest part of room, away from heat sources. Stand tree in container of water and check water level daily.
- * Place tree away from exits.
- * Use no electric wiring on a metal tree.
- * Decorate tree with non-flammable material. Only lighting sets approved by Underwriters Laboratory should be used. Locate control switch away from the tree.
- * Check old lighting sets for frayed wires, loose connections and broken sockets.
- * Never use wax candles on or near the tree.
- * Turn tree and other decorations off when family leaves home or goes to bed. On Christmas Day dispose of gift wrappings promptly, and do not burn them in indoor fireplace. Use caution with toys operated on inflammable liquids.
- * Prepare emergency escape for family in case of fire.

LOCAL 4-H GIRL TO ATTEND CONFERENCE

Outstanding records of leadership, 4-H project work and community service have won trips for four Kentucky 4-H Club members to the National 4-H Club Conference this spring.

Among the group is Miss Charlotte Richardson of Kenton County. The trip to the National 4-H Club Conference is one of the top honors awarded to 4-H members. Only a limited number of young people from each of the 50 states and Puerto Rico receive this experience.

The conference is scheduled for April 22-28 at the National 4-H Center in Washington.

After eleven years and four months as pastor of First Baptist Church, Walton, Kentucky, Rev. Joseph R. Tackett has offered his resignation to become pastor of Grace Baptist Church, Lexington, Kentucky. His services will terminate with the church here January 8, 1967, after which the Tacketts will move to Lexington.

Bro. Tackett was active in all phases of Baptist work while in Northern Kentucky, having served on the Executive Board of the Kentucky Baptist Convention, moderator of North Bend Association, president of Northern Kentucky Baptist Minister's Conference, vice-president of Northern Kentucky Protestant Association, North Bend Association Sunday School superintendent, chairman of Joint Finance Committee of North Bend and Campbell County Associations, on the Missions Committee and various other committees and boards.

During his ministry at the local church, a total of 715 new members were added to the church, a total of $86,533.00 was given to all mission causes, and the total gifts to all causes was $452,110.00. More than $200,000 was spent for additional property and new construction.

Bro. Tackett expresses his feelings in his letter of resignation, "Just as God called me here more than eleven years ago, He is calling me away. These have been eleven wonderful years. The tapestry of time has been woven with toil and tears, sacrifice, joy and jubilation, building and harvest. To express our thanks to you in a few brief lines would be impossible. Finally, my beloved people, let me express my thanks for letting me be your pastor. For the privilege of serving you and our Lord in this great church. Through your love and prayers, I have grown along with you in the knowledge of our wonderful Lord."

To the other churches, the many civic organizations and the many friends in this community, he and his family express their sincere thanks and appreciation for the many acts of kindness and expressions of love during these years together. To leave you is not easy but, "We must obey God rather than man."

This means that this newspaper has completed 51 years of service to this area on the 51st week of the year. It is not likely that matching numbers will ever appear together like this again. Next year, it will be Volume 52—Number 51, etc. through the coming years.

We realize this is of no great interest to our readers, but we just mention it in passing.

Auto Injuries to Be Studied In Kentucky

Kentucky will start a new study January 1 of automotive crash injuries involving late-model and new vehicles to find ways to make cars safer. The study will begin in an 18-county Central Kentucky area and shift later to other areas until the entire state is covered.

Participating in the project with Automotive Crash Injury Research of Cornell University are the State Departments of Public Safety and Health, the Kentucky Medical Association and Kentucky Hospital Association.

ACIR is financed by the U. S. Public Health Service and the Automotive Manufacturers' Association. A three-year study completed last July covered all autos. The new project will involve only models from 1963 through 1970.

Cooperating State Police, physicians attending accident victims and hospitals caring for them will submit detailed reports, keeping all patients anonymous. The data will be processed at Cornell and analyzed to try to pinpoint, for instance, what type injuries are caused by various parts of a vehicle, among many other factors.

Burley Average Is $68.15 In Kentucky

Sales of Burley tobacco in Kentucky for the period, December 9-14, totaled $39,336,443 on the marketing of 57,572,001 pounds of leaf for an average of $68.15 per cwt.

Statistics from the State Agriculture Department show that the daily statewide price average for the period ranged from a high of $68.44 on Dec. 12 to a low of $67.65 on Dec. 14, the first time this season that the market has dropped below the $68 mark.

Other daily averages for the period were: Dec. 8, $68.26; Dec. 9, $68.28, and Dec. 13, $68.13. The volume of leaf dropped to 3.6 million pounds Dec. 9, but rallied during the latter part of the period. More favorable weather accounted for the increase in the market activity, the department said.

A total of 186.5 million pounds of Burley was sold at the state's 28 auction centers through Dec. 14. The leaf sold thus far has brought growers almost $127.6 million for a $68.38 seasonal average.

The sales season recessed for the Christmas and New Year's holidays, December 20.

On the area market, the following sales were reported: Carrollton, 7,386,842 lbs. for an average of $69.48; Covington, 1,363,272 lbs., $64.43; Cynthiana, 4,704,742 lbs., $68.32; Lexington, 30,471,618 lbs., $69.28, and Maysville, 15,385,284 lbs., $68.20.

Subscriptions Going to $3.00

Remember that our subscription rate is going to $3.00 per year in 1967—including tax, this will be $3.09 for a year. This is not much of an increase and, so far, we have heard no adverse comments. Those mentioning it, have said all the others are getting as much, so the others are getting as much, so the newsstand prices will remain the same—10c per copy.

The Board of Directors of the Federal Land Bank Association of Williamstown have declared a 3% dividend on Capital Stock outstanding as of November 30, according to Kline D. Shipp, manager.

State Hikes Grant For A Piner Lake

Appropriations for the proposed Piner lake and recreation center has been increased $40,000, Kenton County Judge James Dressman, Jr., said last week. He said notice of the commitment came from the state Fish and Wildlife Commission.

Gov. Edward Breathitt had already announced that $100,000 was to be appropriated for the project from the state Small Lakes Commission.

Purchase of land for the 800-acre project is expected to cost the county from $75,000 to $100,000. Some owners of property, on which the 172-acre lake is proposed, have indicated they would donate the land to the county in return for water rights.

Cost of the dam alone has been estimated at about $200,000, but Judge Dressman said another survey would be made in the hope of lowering this estimate.

It is hoped federal funds will also be available for this project, along with those from the state and county.

When Angels Have Gone
Lesson for December 25, 1966

Background Scripture: Luke 2:1-40.
Devotional Reading: Isaiah 55:1-9.

It is possible to know the Nativity Story so well that it may no longer have the power to excite or challenge us. It may evoke sentimentality, but little awe and wonder. Christmas can become too popular for its own good.

Tradition tells us that the ancient Hebrews so revered a flute upon which Moses was supposed to have played during his days as a shepherd in Midian that they decorated it with much gold and precious stones. Their decorative zeal, however, was the undoing of the flute, for they clogged-up and covered-over with ornamentation the tiny holes and apertures of the instrument. It was beautiful to behold, but it wouldn't play!

Too Beautiful

This happens also with the Nativity message. Centuries of ornamentation and embellishment — to say nothing of commercialization — have enhanced its beauty, but covered-over the essential meaning. It too is beautiful to behold, but the message is being buried beneath the layers of sentimentality and secularization.

Perhaps we might begin to see this story afresh if we were to put ourselves in the shoes of some of those who were participants. For instance, have you ever stopped to imagine how this wonderful event must have seemed to the shepherds? If today, while you are working at your usual place of employment, someone were to suddenly appear and announce that the Saviour of the world had just been born in nearby East Podunk and could be found lying in an animals' feed trough, how would you react? Would you believe it?

Wrong Address, Perhaps?

What happened to the shepherds in the fields outside Bethlehem was no less startling. Perhaps, had the visitors told them to go to the house of Jerusalem's high priest or the city's richest merchant, the story would not have seemed so incredible. But a Bethlehem manger! That was hardly the place one would expect to find the Messiah. When they arrived at the manger, they found that not only had the Messiah been born in the wrong surroundings in the wrong town, but he had had the misfortune of being born into the wrong family. Who would believe that the Saviour would be born to an upstate, backwoods carpenter and his bride-to-be?

Yet the shepherds could not doubt what they heard and saw. "Glory to God in the highest!" seemed to resound from the heavens. The visitors were bathed in a glorious light. It could not be a dream, a hallucination. The awe and fear they felt was real.

With Haste!

Then, suddenly the visitors were gone! Now the true test would begin. In the midst of an awesome and mysterious experience, we cannot help but respond. When it is over, however, the conditions are different. If we can go back to our work and shrug it off as if nothing had happened, that is one thing. But if we respond by acting upon the experience, that is something else. The true test occurs when the angels have gone away.

What the shepherds had seen and heard was fantastic, yet Luke tells us, "When the angels went away" the shepherds decided: "Let us go over to Bethlehem and see this thing that has happened, which the Lord has made known to us." They went, not reluctantly, but "with haste." There was something of the modern scientific spirit in them: something has happened — let's see what it is!

For us, no less than the shepherds, of Bethlehem, the test occurs when the angels have gone away, when we are called upon to respond to the coming of Christ, not with words, but with deeds. When, in a few days, the bright and lyrical trappings of this day begin to fade, what will you do about the coming of Christ?

LICENSE TO LOOK—Mrs. Pat Wills, Shelbyville, a secretary in the Kentucky Department of Revenue, sneaks a preview look at the 1967 automobile license plates. Motorists will begin changing to the new blue plates with white numerals Dec. 29. Over 1.25 million plates were issued in 1966, according to the Department of Revenue.

A new State law calls for the commissioner of the Kentucky Department of Insurance to review the management and proposed operation of new insurance companies and to conduct hearings in these matters.

Home Agent's Party Line

—by—
Nancy White

There are four popular materials from which dinnerware may be made. Here's your chance to express your own personality. Do you enjoy colorful, casual things, or do you prefer quiet elegance? Do you like a dull finish or a glaze?

1. China or porcelain is the finest type of dinnerware. It is non-absorbent and nonporous. Most of the china is translucent. In other words, you can see some light shining through a piece of fine china. Bone china contains bone ash which gives it whiteness. All china is made of fine clay and is fired at high temperatures.

2. Earthenware is softer, more porous and less durable and is fired at a lower temperature than china. Changing from extreme hot to cold temperatures may cause earthenware to "craze." These cracks soon darken and become unsanitary. No light will shine through earthenware. Some kinds of earthenware are finer than other kinds. Pottery is a more porous earthenware. It is made of unfired clays and is not very durable. It is useful because it is colorful, casual and inexpensive.

Some pottery is heat resistant.

3. Glass dinnerware is available. It can be clear or an opaque white. Some has been given extra strength, and some kinds are heat-resistant and will not craze.

4. Plastic is much improved. It comes in various patterns and colors. It may serve your purpose well even on the dinner table.

Designs are applied to china in many different ways. They can be hand painted, stamped, silk screened, or etched. You may want to study these methods. A book from your library would explain them.

Think about these things:

1. Decide what style of dinnerware will fit with other furnishings. Should it be traditional or contemporary?

2. Select a color you will not tire of. Will it look well with food on it?

3. If you choose patterned dinnerware, select a pattern with lasting interest in color and form. Think about it. Study it. Be sure it goes with other furnishings.

4. Buy the most durable dinnerware you can afford.

5. Select from open stock. This means you can replace broken pieces as long as the factory continues to make the dinnerware.

6. Each piece should be well designed and easy to handle.

7. Starter sets are usually cheaper than individual place settings. They consist of 4 dinner plates, 4 salad or dessert plates, 4 cups and 4 saucers.

8. Find out if you can put your dinnerware into the dishwasher, if you use one.

Kenco Jaycees Have Party For Children

There are many happy Kenton County children today, thanks to the Kenco Jaycees. The Jaycees played host at a Christmas party for 75 children Sunday, Dec. 18th at Ryland Elementary School.

The highlight of the day was Santa Claus, who made a special appearance and brought a gigantic bag of toys.

During the party each child was fitted for a brand new pair of shoes, to be paid for by the Kenco Jaycees.

The children enjoyed an assortment of treats, ice cream, cake, punch, candy, fruit and nuts. It was a wonderful day for all, including the Jaycees, who provided transportation for the children.

The most fascinating thing about the party was that less than a month ago one member suggested the Jaycees do something for the children at Christmas. Ten days later, the entire Christmas party was planned and each area of responsibility established. The aggressive young men, age 21 to 35, filled with energy and a real challenge, produced a very successful Christmas party and plan to make this an annual project—the spirit in which they performed is a fine tribute to a fine Jaycee club.

CHRISTMAS TIME—Decoration of Kentucky's five-year-old Floral Clock is part of the annual Christmas trimmings at the State Capitol in Frankfort. The official state tree this year, in front of the Capitol building, is a 35-foot Red Cedar, and in front of Governor Edward T. Breathitt's residence, a nativity scene has been constructed.

SKIN CARE INCLUDES KNEES

THEY SHOW—New fashions display legs and knees as never before, so specialists in skin care like the Pacquin people recommend quick, simple beauty treatment. All the makeup in the world won't hide rough skin, so apply a good hand and body lotion like new Silk'n Satin. Use it nightly to lubricate "tough skin" knee areas and soften dry skin all over.

Mrs. Emma Nora Benson, 78, of Bracht-Piner Road, Route 1, Crittenden, died at 5:30 a. m., last Thursday at her home after a long illness.

Buyer, Be Wise, BEWARE!

By Robert Matthews, Attorney General

With the Yuletide season upon us, we tend to give more heed to the admonition that "the poor are with us always," and dig a little deeper into our purses.

It is well that we do, for the need is great. But it is because the need for funds for divers cause is so great that we should consider carefully the charities upon which largesse is showered.

Here, as in purchases for ourselves and our families, we should attempt to determine that our dollars are being wisely spent.

Consider thoroughly. Inquiringly and critically—but not cynically—the appeals that come from all sides, and then in your giving, as in your buying, exercise wise judgment.

A joyful Yuletide Season and a peaceful, happy and prosperous New Year to you all.

Letters To The Editor:

Last week in my news letter to you, I said our club was very proud to present our school library with $50.00 (fifty) as a donation for some new books, same as last year.

In the Walton Advertiser, this past Thursday, it said we had donated $5.00 (five) instead of $50. Can you correct the mistake so our club members will know. I'm sorry to bother you again, as the Walton Advertiser has been very good to our clubs in printing our news.

Thank you very much.

Buyer, Be Wise, BEWARE!

It's A Bargain Only When Buyer-Seller Both Profit

Is it a bargain? Let's take three, for example. Suppose the advertisement reads: "Second Tire 1/2 Off When You Buy First Tire At Price Listed Below—No Trade-In Needed!"

In the body of the advertisement the first tire is listed as costing $25.15, and the second $12.57. If the figure listed as the price for the first tire is not the dealer's regular selling price but the manufacturer's suggested "no-trade-in" price, and if the dealer's regular selling price prior to the so-called sale had been $18.85 per tire, you aren't getting a bargain. In fact, you are paying 2 cents more.

Don't be embarrassed to ask for the facts. Protect your interest by being alert—and skeptical. A bargain's a bargain only when buyer and seller both profit in the sale.

Veterans Administration Questions and Answers

Q—My husband is a World War II veteran. We have been married six years. But he still lists his mother, who is well-to-do as his sole beneficiary in his $10,000 GI insurance. Is there anything I can do about this? Can I get the VA to change it? I am unable to work any more.

A—Legally, the Veterans Administration must pay the proceeds of GI insurance to the beneficiary named by the veteran.

Q—I entered active duty April 15, 1958, and was discharged May 21, 1962. Can I get a home loan and go to school at the same time?

A—Yes.

Q—If I go to school under the new GI Bill, will I have to pay the money back?

A—No.

Q—I started school on September 19, 1966, under the new GI Bill. I understood I was eligible for $100 a month, but I did not receive that much. Why?

A—You are only paid for the part of the month in which you attended school.

Never Too Late

Lesson for January 1, 1967

Background Scriptures: Luke 3:1 through 4:15
Devotional Reading: Isaiah 40:1-5

Some parents today become alarmed if their children had not chosen their life's vocation before they complete high school. One youth told me that his parents began to "hound" him to make up his mind from the moment he entered tenth grade. "Hurry," they advised, "or it will be too late!"

Thus, it is hard for us to conceive of a man who, at the age of thirty, would give up a vocation to embark upon the uncertain life of an itinerant preacher. Jesus of Nazareth, a carpenter following in the parental footsteps of Joseph before him, did just that.

Out Into Wilderness

One day the carpenter of Nazareth went out into the wilderness that surrounded the Jordan River to hear and see John, the prophetic preacher and baptizer about whom everyone was talking. Receiving baptism at John's hands, the sign of a new beginning in his life, Jesus the carpenter was conscious of being called to a new vocation. Not that the new vocation burst upon him unexpectedly, for we are led to believe that there had been other indications that God was calling him to a special task. This time, however, he responded, determined to go wherever God would lead. God, he was sure, had a mission for him to perform.

What kind of mission was it to be? So that he might discover exactly what God wanted of him, Jesus went out into the wilderness for forty days to fast, meditate, and pray. In the wilderness God spoke to him, but so did someone else. That "someone else" greeted him with attractive counter-offers that could not help but catch any man's eye. The young Galilean, however, stood fast. He would do only what God wanted him to do, nothing else.

The Acceptable Time

Some people still find their true vocation when they are well past what appears to be the "acceptable time." I recently spoke with a man who in his early forties gave up a good job as an accountant to go to seminary and become a clergyman. This, he decided, was what God really wanted him to do. Another man of my acquaintance has recently left the employment of the church to become a social worker. He too believed that he had at last discovered his true vocation. Both men stopped for a moment, at what is considered to be a rather late stage in their lives, to listen to the voice of God. Obedient to what they heard, they stepped forth in faith to follow that call.

The influences that changed the Galilean's life were the preaching of John, a period of searching prayer and meditation in quiet seclusion, a knowledge of the scriptures, and an unwavering desire to do what God wanted. Might there not be people in your own life through whom God is speaking of your true vocation? Would you be willing to open the door to your mind and heart through earnest prayer and meditation? And if the answer came to you, that God wanted to send you off into a new direction, would you have the courage to follow?

What God Wants

As Jesus himself experienced, the temptations are many for those who seek to use their lives purposefully. The temptor is constantly offering us short cuts, unjust means that he insists are justified by righteous ends. How skillful he is in using good intentions to lead us into making the worst decisions.

At the age of thirty Jesus the carpenter began a new vocation. Moses had begun his at eighty. It is never too late for a man to stop and listen to the voice of God to find out what he really intends for us to do with this life he has given us.

And when we set a light in our window, its warm, joyous glow tells others of the brightness within.

Christmas is a window, letting the soft white light of God's love make a path for men across their world.

And when by our worship we light this window ourselves, then those who hear our carols are drawn to the warmth and joy of our faith.

Christmas IS A WINDOW

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Old timers used to say they didn't know whether they liked blackberries more or the "thorning" less. Perhaps they can look forward now to carefree days of berrying without the scratches that make the fruit gathering such a chore. There are at least two thornless blackberry varieties now available—and maybe more—on the way from plant breeders.

W. D. Armstrong, Extension fruit specialist from U. K. says this week that he has tried some of the new varieties—furnished by the U.S.D.A. research branch—at the West Kentucky location.

Result: A good crop in 1966 from the new thornfree variety, along with two other numbered but unnamed selections of thornless blackberries. Another thornless variety, Smoothstem, did not survive the Kentucky planting for some reason.

Part of the thornfree variety's canes were exposed to 10 degrees below zero last winter, but suffered no damage, indicating this variety is hardy at least to reasonably cold winters.

Armstrong also reports: They ripened about a month after the ordinary thorny varieties, and bloomed much later. This would protect them from possible spring frost damage. Though not quite as sweet as some other thornless selections, Thornfree's quality was acceptable.

Is half a cent a day per cow a big investment? Most cattle producers would say no—and be glad to spend that for Vitamin A. Kentucky producers have found that Vitamin A in winter apparently helps produce a healthier calf. And that half-cent is the average cost per animal per day for this useful vitamin.

Cows needs about 30,000 I. U. (international units), of Vitamin A per day; stockers and feeders, about 10,000 I. U. daily, and full-fed fattening ration cattle about 20,000 I. U. a day (for full-feed cattle)—mix about 2 million I. U. of Vitamin A per ton of mixed feed.

Mix a 7-to-10 day supply at one time.

Mineral requirements are more difficult to fulfill in winter because of lack of feed variety. Feed loose sale, ground limestone, and steamed bonemeal free choice, to supply salt, calcium and phosphorus in needed amounts.

Kentucky research shows no deficiency of trace minerals in beef cattle feeds in this state when home-grown feeds are used in sufficient quantity. Be sure cattle get the calcium, phosphorus and salt needed before any trace minerals are added to a feeding program.
